The Ends of Literature Brett Levinson, 2001 The Ends of Literature analyzes the part played by literature within contemporary Latin American thought and politics above all the politics of neoliberalism The why of contemporary Latin American literature is the book's overarching concern Its wide range includes close readings of the prose of Cortázar, Carpentier, Paz Valenzuela, Piglia and Las Casas of the relationship of the Boom movement and its aftermath of testimonial narrative and of contemporary Chilean and Chicano film. The work also investigates in detail various theoretical projects as they intersect with and emerge from Latin American scholarship, cultural studies, deconstruction, psychoanalysis and postcolonial studies. Latin American literature both as a vehicle of conservatism and as an agent of subversion is bound from its inception to the rise of the state. Literature's nature, role and status are therefore altered when the Latin American nation-state succumbs to the process of neoliberalism as the too strong state dictatorship yields to the too weak state, the market, and as the various practices of civil society and public life are replaced by private or privatized endeavors. However, neither the end of literature nor the end of the state can be assumed. The end of literature in Latin America is in fact the call for more literature; it is the call of literature in particular that of the Boom. The end of the state likewise is the demand upon this state. The book then analyzes the ends in question as at once their purpose, direction, future and conclusion. Also key to the study is the notion of transition. Within much recent Latin American political discussion, la transición refers to the passage from dictatorship to democracy as well as to the failure of this shift, the failure of post-dictatorship. The author argues that the movement from literary to cultural studies while issuing from intellectual and aesthetic circles is an integral component of this same transition. The thematization of the bond between these two displacements, hence of Latin America's voyage into post-transition, forms a fundamental portion of the text.

Missing Steps York Van Nixon, 2007-12. Kory made a mistake when he only fired a warning shot. Seconds later the intruder had a gun to his son's head. Life has always been one great challenge after another. Kory's challenge thirty years later. MS

Displaying Reciprocity Jun Xu, 2016-10-03. This book is intended to address students, researchers and teachers of spoken language. It presents an empirical study of task-oriented language data in which coparticipants display levels of reciprocity through reactive tokens. An in-depth investigation of displaying reciprocity is of interest primarily to conversation analysts and pragmaticians involved in the research on talk in interaction in general and Mandarin Chinese conversations in particular. The communicative aspect makes this book relevant to the areas of language use. While previous research has shown that one single reactive token has different discourse functions in different conversational environments, this study shows that participants' collaborative orientation to each other's status of displayed reciprocity seems decisive for the selection of reactive tokens rather than one specific reactive token being employed for specific conversational purposes in varying interactional contexts. This book also contributes to fields in linguistics, pragmatics and sociology which specialize in the investigation of spontaneous human communication.

The Walker Matthew Beaumont, 2020-11-10. From Charles Dickens' London to today's megacities, a fascinating exploration of what urban walking tells us about modern life for fans of Rebecca Solnit, Olivia Laing's The Lonely City and literary history. A labyrinthine journey into the literature of walking and thinking as seen in the lives and works of Edgar Allan Poe, Virginia Woolf, Ray Bradbury and other literary greats. Guardian: There is no such thing as a false step Every time we walk we are going somewhere Especially if we are going nowhere Moving around the modern city is not a way of getting from A to B but of understanding who and where we are In a series of riveting intellectual rambles Matthew Beaumont retraces episodes in the history of the walker since the mid 19th century From Dickens's insomniac night rambles to restless excursions through the faceless monuments of today's neoliberal city the act of walking is one of self discovery and self escape of disappearances and secret subversions Pacing stride for stride alongside literary ambler and thinkers such as Edgar Allan Poe Andr Breton H G Wells Virginia Woolf Jean Rhys and Ray Bradbury Beaumont explores the relationship between the metropolis and its pedestrian life Through these writings Beaumont asks Can you get lost in a crowd What are the consequences of using your smartphone in the street What differentiates the nocturnal metropolis from the city of daylight What connects walking philosophy and the big toe And can we save the city or ourselves by taking to the pavement

Sacred Surrealism, Dissidence and International Avant-Garde Prose Vivienne Brough-Evans, 2016-05-05 Vivienne Brough Evans proposes a compelling new way of reevaluating aspects of international surrealism by means of the category of divin fou and consequently deploys theories of sacred ecstasy as developed by the Collège de Sociologie 1937-39 as a critical tool in shedding new light on the literary oeuvre of non-French writers who worked both within and against a surrealist framework The minor surrealist genre of prose literature is considered herein rather than surrealism's mainstay poetry with the intention of fracturing preconceptions regarding the medium of surrealist expression The aim is to explore whether International surrealism can begin to be more fully explained by an occluded strain of dissident surrealist thought that searches outside the self through the affects of ekstasis Bretonian surrealism is widely discussed in the field of surrealist studies and there is a need to consider what is left out of surrealist practice when analysed through this Bretonian lens The Collège de Sociologie and Georges Bataille's theories provide a model of such elements of dissident surrealism which is used to analyse surrealist or surrealist-influenced prose by Alejo Carpentier Leonora Carrington and Gellu Naum respectively representing postcolonial feminist and Balkan locutions The Collège and Bataille's dissident surrealism diverges significantly from the concerns and approach towards the subject explored by surrealism Using the concept of ekstasis to organise Bataille's theoretical ideas of excess and inner experience and the Collège's thoughts on the sacred it is possible to propose a new way of reading types of International surrealist literature many of which do not come to the forefront of the surrealist literary oeuvre
