J. Pearsall, 2008-01-29 In the wake of the death of his friend Arthur Henry Hallam the subject of In Memoriam Alfred Tennyson wrote a range of intricately connected poems many of which feature pivotal scenes of rapture or being carried away This book explores Tennyson's representation of rapture as a radical mechanism of transformation theological social political or personal and as a figure for critical processes in his own poetics The poet's fascination with transformation is figured formally in the genre he is credited with inventing the dramatic monologue Tennyson's Rapture investigates the poet's previously unrecognized intimacy with the theological movements in early Victorian Britain that are the acknowledged roots of contemporary Pentecostalism with its belief in the oncoming Rapture and its formative relation to his poetic innovation Tennyson's work recurs persistently as well to classical instances of rapture of mortals being borne away by immortals Pearsall develops original readings of Tennyson's major classical poems through concentrated attention to his profound intellectual investments in advances in philological scholarship and archeological exploration including pressing Victorian debates over whether Homer's raptured Troy was a verifiable site or the province of the poet's imagination Tennyson's attraction to processes of personal and social change is bound to his significant but generally overlooked Whig ideological commitments which are illuminated by Hallam's political and philosophical writings and a half century of interaction with William Gladstone Pearsall shows the comprehensive engagement of seemingly apolitical monologues with the rise of democracy over the course of Tennyson's long career Offering a new approach to reading all Victorian dramatic monologues this book argues against a critical tradition that sees speakers as unintentionally self-revealing and ignorant of the implications of their speech Tennyson's Rapture probes the complex aims of these discursive performances and shows how the ambitions of speakers for vital transformations in themselves and their circumstances are not only articulated in but attained through the medium of their monologues

Unexpected Lost Treasures Jasper Quincy, AI, 2025-04-03 Unexpected Lost Treasures embarks on a historical adventure investigating the enduring allure of real undiscovered artifacts and riches The book argues that the search for these lost items transcends mere monetary gain representing a quest to understand human history and civilization Consider the Flor de la Mar a Portuguese ship lost in 1511 while carrying a vast treasure or the Amber Room the lavish chamber stolen during World War II These stories and others offer potential keys to unlocking new perspectives on trade routes artistic achievements and pivotal historical events The book weaves together maritime art and military history to provide a comprehensive context for these mysteries Starting with a definition of what constitutes a significant lost treasure the narrative progresses through specific examples detailing their histories and the ongoing searches By exploring historical documents archaeological reports and eyewitness accounts Unexpected Lost Treasures presents factual information in an accessible and engaging manner much like a historical mystery The narrative acknowledges the speculative nature of some claims focusing on well documented cases where rediscovery remains plausible The Great Wall John Man,2008-08-05

John Man brings the past to life by traveling along China's Great Wall vividly describing its obscure origins remarkable expansion and stunning physical presence Human Cargo Caroline Moorehead,2024-09-04 An arresting portrait of the lives of today's refugees and a searching look into their future The word refugee is more often used to invoke a problem than it is to describe a population of millions of people forced to abandon their homes possessions and families in order to find a place where they may quite literally be allowed to live In spite of the fact that refugees surround us the latest UN estimates suggest that 20 million of the world's 6.3 billion people are refugees few can grasp the scale of their presence or the implications of their growing numbers Caroline Moorehead has traveled for nearly two years and across four continents to bring us their unforgettable stories In prose that is at once affecting and informative we are introduced to the men women and children she meets as she travels to Cairo Guinea Sicily the U.S. Mexico border Lebanon England Australia and Finland She explains how she came to work and for a time live among refugees and why she could not escape the pressing need to understand and describe the chain of often terrifying events that mark their lives Human Cargo is a work of deep and subtle sympathy that completely alters our understanding of what it means to have and lose a place in the world Dark

Continents Ranjana Khanna,2003-04-22 Argues that the psychoanalytic self was constituted through the specifically national colonial encounters of the late 19th and early 20th centuries and that therefore somewhat paradoxically perhaps psychoanalysis is crucial for understanding postcolonial Literature Connections to World History 712 Lynda G.
