Rehabilitation Of Older People A Handbook For The Multidisciplinary Team:

Rehabilitation of Older People Amanda J. Squires, 2013-11-11 Attitudes to rehabilitation of older people particularly in departments specializing in care of the elderly have become increasingly positive in recent years A growing number of professionals see the speciality as a necessary career experience and this needs encouragement if the professions are to be prepared for the increasing number of older people who will require help from their members The purpose of this book is to bring together the skills and experience of experts in several fields of rehabilitation to provide a primer for those needing the knowledge of how to manage the older person in whatever environment or speciality they present Readers will be able to enhance their own knowledge already gained in a variety of fields and play an immediate part in the team The information will also be of value to interested carers agencies contributing to the widened provision of service to older people and their purchasers The continuing transformation of healthcare delivery world wide resulting from changing user and provider expectations and government policies is altering approaches to and delivery of rehabilitation services These current and envisaged future changes are addressed by each discipline using the UK National Health Service as an example

Preventing and Reducing Aggression and Violence in Health and Social Care Kelvin Ford, Dr Richard Byrt, James

Dooher,2010 No one should face aggression or violence in the workplace but these problems are increasingly being reported by health and social care workers and the people using their services This helpful book explores the reasons why some individuals may become aggressive or violent and explains how a holistic approach can offer effective ways of preventing anticipating reducing and dealing with aggression and violence when they arise By critically exploring the common issues and difficulties encountered by professionals the authors provide valuable insights into this behaviour and how to implement safeguards against it Contents include A holistic approach OCo Violence and aggression in services and the social context OCo Essential principles and theoretical models OCo Safe therapeutic environments OCo De escalation Reducing arousal and aggression OCo Non verbal and verbal communication OCo Biological explanations of violence and aggression OCo Culture diversity and communication OCo Individuals with specific communication needs OCo More on individuals with specific communication needs OCo ClientsOCO physical health needs OCo Psychosocial interventions including Cognitive Behavioural Therapy OCo Other types of psychotherapy and therapeutic communities Handbook of Pain and Aging David I.

Mostofsky,Jacob Lomranz,2013-11-11 From time to time professional journals and edited volumes devote some of their pages to considerations of pain and aging as they occur among the aged in different cultures and populations One starts from several reasonable assumptions among them that aging per se is not a disease process yet the risk and frequency of disease processes increase with ongoing years The physical body s functioning and ability to restore all forms of damage and insult slow down the immune system becomes compromised and the slow growing pathologies reach their critical mass in the later years The psychological body also becomes weaker with unfulfilled promises and expectations and with tragedies that visit individuals and families and the prospect that whatever worlds remain to be conquered will most certainly not be met with success in the rapidly passing days and years that can only culminate in death Despair and depression coupled with infirmity and sensory and or motor inefficiency aggravate both the threshold and the tolerance for discomfort and synergistically collaborate to perpetuate a vicious cycle in which the one may mask the other Although the clinician is armed with the latest advances in medicine and phar macology significant improvement continues to elude her or him The geriatric specialist all too familiar with such realities usually can offer little else than a hortative to learn to live with it but the powers and effectiveness of learning itself have declined The Oxford Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging Daniel B.

Kaplan,Barbara Berkman,2016 This Second Edition of the Handbook addresses the evolving interdisciplinary health care context and the broader social work practice environment as well as advances in the knowledge base which guides social work service delivery in health and aging This includes recent enhancements in the theories of gerontology innovations in clinical interventions and major developments in the social policies that structure and finance health care and senior services In addition the policy reforms of the 2010 Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act set in motion a host of changes in the United States healthcare system with potentially profound implications for the programs and services which provide care to older adults and their families In this volume the most experienced and prominent gerontological health care scholars address a variety of populations that social workers serve and the arenas in which they practice followed by detailed recommendations of best practices for an array of physical and mental health conditions The volume s unprecedented attention to diversity health care trends and implications for practice research policy make the publication a major event in the field of gerontological social work This is a Must Read for all social work social work educators practitioners and students interested in older adults and their families
