Modern Irish Love Stories:

Modern Irish Love Stories David Marcus, 1974-01-01 Women and Relationships in Contemporary Irish Women's Short Stories □□□, 2021-07-01 This book examines archetypal motifs related to aspects of human relationships in contemporary Irish women's short stories from the late 1960s to the present. These relationships examined embrace not only relationships between men and women as married couples and lovers but also women to women relationships as mothers, daughters, sisters or lovers. This book has uncovered certain recurrent motifs which may be construed as archetypal and are employed as a narrative device to express a certain level of feminist awareness by Irish female writers in their stories against the backdrop of Irish feminism emerged in the late 1960s. This feminist aspect of Irish women's stories appears to address the paradoxes of patriarchal ideology underlying male domination in male-female courtship and marriages, the conflict between patriarchally loyal mothers and rebellious daughters, powerless but rival female siblings and peers competing for limited resources and male attention under the Father's law. Motifs of resistance and subversion serve in these stories as metaphors unveiling female protests against an ideology which defines and confines women in the Irish patriarchal context. This book demonstrates a process of transition during which Irish female writers progress from the depiction of women who struggle and fight against unfairness and distortion within an androcentric culture to a new direction in which such writers describe a situation where women recognise the internalisation of the false consciousness of patriarchy and out of this recognition may be eventually able to develop further their sense of self and individuality. The archetypal motifs in Irish women's stories also illustrate a kind of continuity of an ancient female archetype of female rebellious powers which in female literary imagination never ceases to resurface in the face of patriarchal suppression. Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century David Pierce, 2000 Arranged chronologically by decade from the 1890s to the 1990s, each decade is divided into two different types of writing: critical/documentary and imaginative writing, and is accompanied by a headnote which situates it thematically and chronologically. The Reader is also structured for thematic study by listing all the pieces included under a series of topic headings. The wide range of material encompasses writings of well-known figures in the Irish canon and neglected writers alike. This will appeal to the general reader but also makes Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century ideal as a core text providing a unique focus for detailed study in a single volume. BOOK JACKET New Irish Storytellers D   g O'Connell, 2010-04-15 With the success of such films as the Oscar winner Once, Irish film has been getting well-deserved international attention recently. New Irish Storytellers examines storytelling techniques and narrative strategies in contemporary Irish film. Revealing defining patterns within recent Irish cinema, this book explores connections between Irish cinematic storytellers and their British and American colleagues. D   g O'Connell traces the creative output of Irish filmmakers today back to 1993, the year the Irish Film Board was reactivated, reinvigorating film production after a hiatus of seven years. Reflecting on this key and distinctive era in Irish cinema, this book explores how film gave expression to tensions and fissures

Performing Character in Modern Irish Drama Michael Lachman, 2018-05-23 This book is about the history of character in modern Irish drama It traces the changing fortunes of the human self in a variety of major Irish plays across the twentieth century and the beginning of the new millennium Through the analysis of dramatic protagonists created by such authors as Yeats Synge O Casey Friel and Murphy and McGuinness and Walsh it tracks the development of aesthetic and literary styles from modernism to more recent phenomena from Celtic Revival to Celtic Tiger and after The human character is seen as a testing ground and battlefield for new ideas for social philosophies and for literary conventions through which each historical epoch has attempted to express its specific cultural and literary identity In this context Irish drama appears to be both part of the European literary tradition engaging with its most contentious issues and a field of resistance to some conventions from continental centres of avant garde experimentation Simultaneously it follows artistic fashions and redefines them in its critical contribution to European artistic and theatrical diversity

Palko,2016-07-25

Imagining Motherhood in Contemporary Irish and Caribbean Literature undertakes a comparative transnational reading to develop more expansive literary models of good mothering Abigail L Palko argues that Irish and Caribbean literary representations of non normative mothering practices do not reflect transgressive or dangerous mothering but are rather cultural negotiations of the definition of a good mother This original book demonstrates the sustained commitment to countering the dominant ideologies of maternal self sacrifice foundational to both Irish and Caribbean nationalist rhetoric offering instead the possibility of integrating maternal agency into an effective model of female citizenship The Celts John T.
