Nature Of The Place:

Nature, Place, and Story Claire Elizabeth Campbell, 2017-08-09 National historic sites commemorate decisive moments in the making of Canada. But seen through an environmental lens, these sites become artifacts of a bigger story: the occupation and transformation of nature into nation. In an age of pressing discussions about environmental sustainability, there is a growing need to know more about the history of our relationship with the natural world and what lessons these places of public history, regional identity, and national narrative can teach us. Nature Place and Story provides new interpretations for five of Canada's largest and most iconic historic sites, two of which are UNESCO World Heritage Sites: L'Anse aux Meadows, Newfoundland; Grand Prêtre, Nova Scotia; Fort William, Ontario; the Forks of the Red River, Manitoba; and the Bar U Ranch, Alberta. At each location, Claire Campbell rewrites public history as environmental history, revealing the country's debt to the power and fragility of the natural world and the relevance of the past to understanding climate change, agricultural sustainability, wilderness protection, urban reclamation, and fossil fuel extraction. From the medieval Atlantic to modern ranchlands, environmental history speaks directly to contemporary questions about the health of Canada's habitat. Bringing together public and environmental history in an entirely new way, Nature Place and Story is a lively and ambitious call for a fresh perspective on natural heritage.

Nature's Place (Routledge Revivals) William M. Adams, 2014-05-01 Nature conservation has become increasingly important in Britain over the last three decades. This title, first published in 1986, deals with the critical issues surrounding nature conservation and wildlife protection. The book is broad in scope, with a focus on the 1981 Wildlife and Countryside Act and its provisions for the protection of wildlife habitats in Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs). This follows an historical account of habitat loss over the past 200 years and the origins of conservation and site protection policy. This reissue will be of particular value to professionals, voluntary workers, and students with an interest in the origins, developments, and practice of nature conservation.

Nature, Place & People: Forging Connections Through Neighbourhood Landscape Design Puay-yok Tan, Kuei-hsien Liao, Yun Hye Hwang, Vincent Chua, 2018-04-23 Neighbourhood landscapes are the quintessential forms of urban landscapes in most cities worldwide. They are pervasive and hence experienced by the large majority of urban dwellers in their everyday life. More than parks, nature reserves, or nature areas, which are visited as destinations, neighbourhood landscapes provide the most immediate, frequent, and convenient form of nature experienced by urban dwellers on a daily basis. They are also valuable as social spaces to bring residents together, foster social ties, and strengthen communities. Despite their importance, surprisingly little has been written to guide the planning and design of neighbourhood landscapes. This book is written for a specific purpose: to illustrate how the design of neighbourhood landscapes helps to deliver more benefits for urban dwellers and, at the same time, protect ecosystems that facilitate human well-being. This is in turn important as the synergistic relationships between human well-being, quality of biophysical urban environment, and health of human environment interactions.

fundamentally underpin urban sustainability The authors emphasize the role neighbourhood landscapes play in forging connections between people and nature people and people and people and place Most of all the book highlights the role of focusing on people in this endeavour as it is only when landscapes are appropriately designed and when people recognize these benefits that they become valued and protected as a community resource This book is organized into two parts Part 1 focuses on the conceptual foundations that underpin the neighbourhood landscape design guidelines being developed In this section the authors describe the key concepts relating functions of neighbourhood landscapes to the key urban development goals of sustainability liveability and reliance how they can be represented in a framework and how a synthesis of current knowledge of cities as socio ecological systems helps to identify principles that can guide the designing of neighbourhood landscapes Part 2 is more application focused and is centred on neighbourhood landscape design guidelines inspired by the concept of ecosystem services The guidelines consist of design approaches practical strategies design targets and performance monitoring indicators for tracking the performance of neighbourhood landscapes The book is written for readers in academia and design practice and anyone who has a role in shaping neighbourhood landscapes for the benefit of urban dwellers Organic Philosophy; Or, Man's True Place in Nature ... Man's True Place in Nature by Hugh Doherty ,1864 Nature, Space and the Sacred S. Bergmann,H.

Bedford-Strohm,2016-12-05 Nature Space and the Sacred offers the first investigative mapping of a new and highly significant agenda the spatial interactions between religion nature and culture In this ground breaking work different concepts of religion theology space and place and their internal relations are discussed in an impressive range of approaches Weaving together a diversity of perspectives this book presents an innovative and truly transdisciplinary environmental science Its broad range offers a rich exchange of insights methods and theoretical engagements Tree Cultures Paul

Cloke,Owain Jones,2020-07-12 The relationship between nature and culture has become a popular focus in social science but there have been few grounded accounts of trees Providing shelter fuel food and tools trees have played a vital role in human life from the earliest times but their role in symbolic expression has been largely overlooked For example trees are often used to express nationalistic feelings Germans drew heavily on tree and forest imagery in nation building and the idea of hearts of oak has been central to concepts of English identity Classic scenes of ghoulish trees coming to life and forests closing in on unsuspecting passers by commonly feature in the media In other instances trees are used to represent paradisaical landscapes and symbolize the ideologies of conservation and concern for nature Offering new theoretical ideas this book looks at trees as agents that co constitute places and cultures in relationship with human agency What happens when trees connect with human labour technology retail and consumption systems What are the ethical dimensions of these connections The authors discuss how trees can affect and even define notions of place and the ways that particular places are recognized culturally Working trees companion trees wild trees and collected or conserved trees are considered in relation to the dynamic politics of conservation and development that affect the values given to trees in the contemporary world Building on the growing field of landscape study this book offers rich insights into the symbolic and practical roles of trees It will be vital reading for anyone interested in the anthropology of landscape forestry conservation and development and for those concerned with the social science of nature Nature, place and spirit John Campbell Gardiner, 2014 Places and Politics in an Age of Globalization Roxann Prazniak, Arif Dirlik, 2001-02-07 This ambitious work provides a unique statement on the question of place based activism and its relationship to powerful forces of international capital Arguing that specific places around the world are sites for the defense and enhancement of daily life in the context of rapidly expanding global technologies and investment options the contributors reach for a vision of social development that supports sustainable humane cultures Bringing together the local and the global this work provides the first sustained linkage of ethnic groups in diaspora to macrocosmic processes of world capital that inevitably reach down to mediate even the most local experiences The essays ranging in their discussion of place from Los Angeles and New York to New Zealand and Indonesia offer both reasoned argument and authoritative information on how local experience interacts with larger processes of global capital and the diasporic phenomenon The book will be an invaluable resource and launching point for scholars and students in ethnic and identity studies and will interest all readers exploring the production of place and identification The Selborne Magazine and "Nature Notes," 1909 Aristotle's Physics and Its Medieval Varieties Helen S. Lang, 1992-08-17 This book considers the concepts that lay at the heart of natural philosophy and physics from the time of Aristotle until the fourteenth century The first part presents Aristotelian ideas and the second part presents the interpretation of these ideas by Philoponus Albertus Magnus Thomas Aquinas John Buridan and Duns Scotus Across the eight chapters the problems and texts from Aristotle that set the stage for European natural philosophy as it was practiced from the thirteenth to the seventeenth centuries are considered first as they appear in Aristotle and then as they are reconsidered in the context of later interests The study concludes with an anticipation of Newton and the sense in which Aristotle's physics had been transformed Nature Neighbors Nathaniel Moore Banta, 1914 Unity, 1905 Rhetorical Agendas Patricia Bizzell, 2006-04-21 This volume represents current theory and research in rhetoric across disciplines and is of interest to scholars and students in rhetoric studies in speech communication English and related disciplines The ISLE Reader Michael P. Branch, Scott Slovic, 2003 This volume gathers nineteen of the most representative and defining essays from the journal ISLE Interdisciplinary Studies in Literature and Environment over the course of its first ten years Following an introduction that traces the stages of ecocriticism's development The ISLE Reader is organized into three sections each of which reflects one of the general goals the journal has sought to accomplish The section titled Re evaluations provides new readings of familiar environmental writers and new environmental perspectives on authors or literary traditions not usually considered from a green perspective The writings in Reaching Out to Other Disciplines promote cross pollination among various disciplines and methodologies in the environmental arts and humanities The writings in the final section New Theoretical and Practical Paradigms are especially significant for the conceptual and methodological terrain they map The ISLE Reader documents the state of research in ecocriticism and related interdisciplinary fields provides a survey of the field and points to new methodologies and possibilities for the future

Leibniz on the Nature of the Church Avelino González-Ferrer,2025-09-18 Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz 1646 1716 one of the most prominent figures in both the history of philosophy and the history of mathematics but also one of the greatest advocates of Christian unity of the early modern period may just have the solution to divisions within the Church with his unique understanding of the nature of the Church Leibniz s unique theological metaphysics and pioneering thought on the centrality of the concept of person makes his ideas on the nature of the Church particularly promising The book presents how Leibniz s ideas are formed by history and meetings with extraordinary figures and how these ideas mature and develop through time into a theological metaphysics and much later as a philosophy of personalism that secures Leibniz s place as an early pioneer of the philosophical movement of personalism Leibniz on the Nature of the Church presents a historical systematic and provocative reading of these until now overlooked ideas

The Politics of Sacred Places Nimrod Luz,2023-09-07 The Politics of Sacred Places is a study of the socio political dimensions of sacred sites in Israel Palestine drawing on over 20 years of in depth ethnographic research which introduces cutting edge theories on secularization struggles for recognition and diversity issues This book focuses on contemporary sacred sites and their socio political meanings for minorities within a hegemonic and a secularizing state system It argues that sacred places provide a space that is less scrutinized by the state and where alternative visions of the socio political may be produced A plethora of sites and case studies are examined including the rural shrine of Maqam abu al Hijja in the lower Galilee the Mosque of Hassan Bek in the heart of Tel Aviv Jaffa and the most disputed sacred place in the region the Haram al Sharif in Jerusalem These sites are explored through mostly a phenomenological lens and in various contexts from the individual body to the global This book offers a critical analytical study of the socio political aspects of sacred sites in contemporary societies within the broader understanding of scale and the spatial turn in the study of religion
