Kherlen,2014-02-18 This dissertation explores the socio cultural and institutional environment of the public sector organizations of Mongolia that have strong influence on current public administration reform results This study applies the Cultural theory and Value theory The strong hierarchy favoring rule bounded behavior and collectivism fatalism accepting an authority as inevitable and uncontrollable and individualism wishing to have control over own actions are the types of culture common in Mongolian public sector organizations Accordingly Mongolian public sector employees transcending their selfish interests emphasize the well being of others protection of order harmony in relations life safety and stability Then self direction values with emphases on independent thought and action and creativity are important for them This socio cultural context has great implication for work behavior of public employees for their action to implement the reform policies in government organizations Thus the institutional leadership which produces and protects values becomes essential for introducing changes in the existing intuitional environment      Transcending New Public Management Per Laegreid,2017-03-02 Following on from the success of the editors previous book New Public Management The Transformation of Ideas and Practice which examined the public reform process up to the end of the last decade this new volume draws on the previous knowledge both theoretically and empirically It examines and debates the post new public management reform development in Denmark Norway Sweden Australia and New Zealand The ideal follow up to the previous volume this book includes many of the same contributors in addition to some fresh voices and is a must for anyone looking for an integrated framework of analysis Comprehensive and analytical it is an important contribution to the study of public administration and particularly to the reform of public management      International Handbook of Public Management Reform Shaun Goldfinch,Joe Wallis,2009-01-01 This volume presents a compelling package for anyone interested in public sector reform It effectively combines a wide range of well researched reviews of national experiences with state of the art thematic chapters in key reform areas such as IT governance public sector leadership and accountability The result is a robust insightful and sometimes sobering series of accounts of the promises and pitfalls of efforts to reform the institutions and practices of public governance around the world A must read Paul t Hart Australian National University This major Handbook provides a state of the art study of the recent history and future development of international public management reform Through a careful cross country analysis spanning the last three decades this timely volume critically evaluates whether countries are converging towards a single public management model The book goes on to investigate unresolved issues surrounding leadership e government accountability and computer systems failure currently facing reformers Shaun Goldfinch and Joe Wallis have brought together a number of eminent scholars from across Europe Asia North America and Australasia to explore the role of economic ideas human resources and the state of public management reform in twelve countries Providing a broad global overview of public management and facilitating a greater understanding of the difficult issue of reform this book will find widespread appeal amongst academics and postgraduate students of public administration as well as practitioners in the field      Encyclopedia of Public Administration and Public Policy: K-Z Jack Rabin,2003 From the Nuremberg trials to the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978 to recent budget reconciliation bills the Encyclopedia of Public Administration and Public Policy provides detailed coverage of watershed policies and decisions from such fields as privatization biomedical ethics education and diversity This second edition features a wide range of new topics including military administration government procurement social theory and justice administration in developed democracies It also addresses current issues such as the creation of the Department of Homeland Security and covers public administration in the Middle East Africa Southeast Asia the Pacific and Latin America      Public Management: Policy making, ethics and accountability in public management Stephen P. Osborne, 2002 Since the 1980s the public sector has been undergoing major changes throughout the Western industrialized world the transitional economies of central and Eastern Europe Latin America and South East Asia The main thrust of these changes has been to bring public sector management practices closer to those of the private sector This raises the question of how far public and private sector management are comparable This set examines the relationships between public sector and private sector management in terms of both classical management theory and the new public management that emerged in the 1980s and 1990s While the collection concentrates on articles from the last 20 years some historical pieces are also included The four volumes are arranged along the following lines volume 1 for and against the public sector volume 2 managing the plural state volume 3 broadening the public management perspective and volume 4 from policy to practice in public services

The Global Public Management Revolution Donald F. Kettl, 2006-05-24 Over the last quarter century governments around the world have launched ambitious efforts to reform how they manage their programs Citizens have demanded smaller cheaper more effective governments They have also asked for more programs and better services To resolve this paradox governments have experimented with scores of ideas to be more productive improve performance and reduce costs In this new edition of The Global Public Management Revolution Donald F Kettl charts the basic models of reform that are being employed worldwide Reviewing the standard strategies and tactics behind these reforms Kettl identifies six common core ideas the search for greater productivity more public reliance on private markets a stronger orientation toward service more decentralization from national to subnational governments increased capacity to devise and track public policy and tactics to enhance accountability for results Kettl predicts that reform and reinvention will likely become mantras for governments of all stripes Ultimately this strategy means coupling the reform impulse with governance government's increasingly important relationship with civil society and the institutions that shape modern life

Staff Participation and Public Management Reform D. Farnham, A. Hondeghe, S. Horton, 2005-06-07 This book explores the role of civil servants and their trade unions in the public management reform process framing it in its economic social cultural and legal contexts Building on neo institutional and stakeholder theories the book shows how staff and their representative organisations have influenced the formulation and implementation of public management reforms in twelve OECD countries This study challenges top down elite theories that have dominated the existing literature explaining how staff participation practices both direct and indirect have impacted on the implementation of reforms in different ways in different countries The book concludes that variations in staff participation in the reform process depend upon institutional and political factors and the distribution of power in the employment relationship
