

Public relations in corporate communication

This template covers a comparison between business communication and public relations. It also depicts corporate communication as a process through which companies relay information to internal and external stakeholders. On the other hand, PR is a corporate communication task that works with workers, investors, the authorities, the media, and the general public.

What companies do in public relations

01

- Public relations is in charge of conveying information to the general public to improve the company's image in the eyes of the general public.

02

- Public relations uses external communications provided by corporate communications to build a positive image of a business.

03

- PR employs media such as:
 - Press releases
 - Social media
 - Public events
 - Presentations to stimulate the interests of the public in a company's products or services

04

- Public relations department works closely with corporate communications to identify external groups and generate relevant external communication messages and published materials.
