Punjab Colonial Challenge And Popular Response:

Artisans, Sufis, Shrines Hussain Ahmad Khan, 2014-12-19 In nineteenth century Punjab a cultural tug of war ensued as both Sufi mystics and British officials aimed to engage the local artisans as a means of realizing their ideological ambitions. When it came to influence and impact the Sufi shrines had a huge advantage over the colonial art institutions such as the Mayo School of Arts in Lahore. The mystically inspired shrines built as a statement of Muslim ruling ambitions were better suited to the task of appealing to local art traditions. By contrast the colonial institutions rooted in the Positivist Romanticism of the Victorian West found assimilation to be more of a challenge. In questioning their relative success and failures at influencing local culture the book explores the extent to which political control translates into cultural influence. Folktales, Sufi shrines, colonial architecture, institutional education methods and museum exhibitions all provide a wealth of sources for revealing the complex dynamic between the Punjabi artisans, the Sufi community and the colonial British. In this unique look at a little explored aspect of India's history Hussain Ahmad Khan explores this evidence in order to illuminate this web of cultural influences. Examining the Sufi artisan relationship within the various contexts of political revolt, the decline of the Mughals and the struggle of the Sufis to establish an Islamic state, this book argues that Sufi shrines were initially constructed with the aim of affirming a distinct Muslim identity. At the same time art institutions established by colonial officials attempted to promote eclectic architecture representing the British Indian empire as well as to revive the pre-colonial traditions with which they had previously seemed out of touch. This important book sheds new light on the dynamics of power and culture in the British Empire. Rethinking 1857 Sabyasachi Bhattacharya, 2007. Contributed articles presented at a conference moderated by Indian Council of Historical Research held in December 2006. Proceedings - Punjab History Conference, 2006. Punjab Kripal Chandra Yadav, 2003. The writings on Punjab are in most cases long on rhetoric but short in substance. Surprisingly there is no dearth of people even today who still carry a heavy baggage of outdated notions about Punjab history. The six essays given here try to correct some of these wrong notions at length.

Politics and Society in Tajikistan Suchandana Chatterjee, 2002. Discusses The Character Of Socio Political Transformation In Tajikistan In The Wake Of Civil War Of 1992. Also Raises The Question About The Relevance Of Afghan Situation For The Internal Politics Of The Country. 5 Chapters. Conclusion. Bibliography. Index. Map Of Tajikistan.

Spatializing Popular Sufi Shrines in Punjab Yogesh Snehi, 2019-04-24. This book explores the organic lives of popular Sufi shrines in contemporary Northwest India. It traverses the worldview of shrine spaces, rituals and their complex narratives and provides an insight into their urban and rural landscapes in the post-Partition Indian Punjab. What happened to these shrines when attempts were made to dissuade Sikhs, Muslims and Hindus from their veneration of popular saints in the early twentieth century? What was the fate of popular shrines that persisted even when the Muslim population was virtually wiped off as a result of migration during Partition? How did these shrines manifest in the context of the threat posed by militants in the 1980s How did such popular practices reconfigure themselves when some important centres of Sufism were left behind in the West Punjab now Pakistan This book examines several of these questions and utilizes a combination of analytical tools new theoretical tropes and an ethnographic approach to understand and situate popular Sufi shrines so that they are both historicized and spatialized As such it lays out some crucial contours of the method and practice of understanding popular sacred spaces within India and elsewhere bridging the everyday and the metanarratives of power structures and state formation This book will be useful to scholars researchers and those engaged in interdisciplinary work in history social anthropology historical sociology cultural studies historical geography religion and art history as well as those interested in Sufism and its shrines in South Asia

Challenge, Continuity, and Change in Pakistan Amit Ranjan, Ian Talbot, 2025-09-30 This book brings a multi disciplinary approach to studying Pakistan s contemporary political social and environmental challenges It offers insights from various disciplines to show the interconnectedness of many of Pakistan s problems and their historical roots The analysis includes issues of political alienation and exclusion vulnerability to climate change induced disasters and how such challenges might be mitigated The case studies in the book reveal that reality is complex and that demographic social and technological change is moving apace in Pakistan This dynamism points to another aspect of Pakistan and its resilience in the face of manmade and natural disasters An increasingly youthful and urbanised population is challenging social inequalities and power structures whilst the state attempts to respond in old ways to maintain order and stability The emergence of overseas Pakistani communities and their connectedness with the homeland is another growing development with ramifications for politics and society A significant contribution on critical affairs in Pakistan this book investigates if the country is moving towards a critical crossroads in its development It will be of interest to historians and political scientists of Modern South Asia as well as geographers interested in examining impact of climate change

The Insecurity State Mark Condos, 2017-08-03 In this provocative new work Mark Condos explores the dark underside of the ideologies that sustained British rule in India Using Punjab as a case study he argues that India's colonial overlords were obsessively fearful and plagued by an unreasoning belief in their own vulnerability as rulers These enduring anxieties precipitated and justified an all too frequent recourse to violence joined with an insistence on untrammelled power placed in the hands of the executive Examining how the British colonial experience was shaped by a chronic sense of unease anxiety and insecurity this is a timely intervention in debates about the contested project of colonial state building the oppressive and violent practices of colonial rule the nature of imperial sovereignty law and policing and the postcolonial legacies of empire

Punjab Reconsidered Anshu Malhotra, Farina Mir, 2012-02-21 What is Punjabiya? What are the different notions of Punjab This volume analyses these ideas and explores the different aspects that constitute Punjab as a region conceptually in history culture and practice Each essay examines a different Punjabi culture language based and literary religious and those that define a community rural urban and middle class and historical contemporary and cosmopolitan Together these essays unravel the complex foundations of Punjabiya The volume also shows how the recent history of Punjab partition aspirations of statehood and a large and assertive diaspora has had a discernible impact on the region's scholarship Departing from conventional studies on Punjab this book presents fresh perspectives and new insights into its regional culture

The Post-Colonial State in the Era of Capitalist Globalization Tariq Amin-Khan, 2012-03-12 State formation in post colonial societies differed greatly from the formation of the Western capitalist state The latter has been extensively studied while a coherent grasp of the post colonial state has remained elusive Amin Khan provides a critical historical and contemporary understanding of post colonial state formations in Asia and Africa and suggests how this process differed from the formation of states in Latin America In distinguishing between the post colonial state and the Western capitalist state the author argues that the unitary colonial state left a strong legacy on the decolonized states of Asia and Africa reinscribing their subordination vis vis Western states transnational corporations and multilateral institutions The indigenous elites decision at the time of decolonization to retain colonial state structures meant the readaptation of capitalism imperialism nexus to suit new post colonial realities which enabled the formation of clientelist relationships This post colonial reality and exploration of the contemporary context provides the basis of analyzing two post colonial state forms the capitalist and proto capitalist varieties which are examined using the case studies of India and Pakistan      The Press in Colonial India Nayeem Showkat,2025-09-30 This book examines the history of the press in the princely state of Jammu and Kashmir under the British Raj Based on extensive archival data the author meticulously traces and documents the history of freedom of the press speech and assembly as well as the restrictions imposed in the princely state of Jammu and Kashmir during British colonialism Structured chronologically the book presents a historical narrative of the press in the state during the Dogra period 1846 1947 and further shows the continuities during the decade of Partition 1947 1957 It analyses a novel aspect of communication by examining symbolic resources and the communication history of the region The book sheds light on the significant role of culture as a form of political and mass communication particularly in the absence of newspapers bringing forth previously undisclosed aspects to the public domain Presenting a comprehensive legal history of the press in the princely state of Jammu and Kashmir the book will be of interest to those intrigued by the history of South Asia Media and Communication Studies and Journalism      Ethnic Subnationalist Insurgencies in South Asia Jugdep S. Chima,2015-03-24 This book provides a micro historical analysis of the emergence and contemporary dynamics of recent ethnic sub nationalist insurgencies in South Asia Using comparative case studies it discusses the causes of each insurgency analyses the trajectory and dynamics of each including attempts at resolution and highlights the wider theories of ethno nationalist insurgency and mobilization Bringing together an international group of contributors the book covers insurgencies in India Sri Lanka Pakistan Nepal and Bangladesh It questions why ethnic sub nationalist insurgencies occurred at particular points in time and not at others and explores the comparative trajectories of these movements The book goes on to discern reappearing patterns of conflict escalation de escalation through the method of comparative process tracing It argues that while identity is a necessary factor for insurgency it is not a sufficient one Instead ethnic mobilization and insurgency only emerge when it is activated by tension emerging from political competition between ethnic and central state elites These elite led dynamics when combined with favourable socio economic and political conditions make the ethnic masses primed to accept the often symbolically rich appeals from their leaders to mobilize against the central state Providing an important study on ethno nationalist insurgencies in South Asia the book will be of interest to those working in the fields of South Asian Politics Security Studies and Ethnic Conflict      The breakup of India and Palestine Victor Kattan,Amit Ranjan,2023-08-15 This book is the first study of political and legal thinking about the partitions of India and Palestine in 1947 The chapters in the volume authored by leading scholars of partition draw attention to the pathways of peoples geographic spaces colonial policies laws and institutions that connect them from the vantage point of those most engaged by the process political actors party activists jurists diplomats philosophers and international representatives from the Middle East South Asia and beyond Additionally the volume investigates some of the underlying causes of partition in both places such as the hardening of religious fault lines majoritarian politics and the failure to construct viable forms of government in deeply divided societies      The Paradoxes of Partition, 1937-47: 1937-39 S. A. I. Tirmizi, 1998 Comprises documents relating to the partition of India in 1947      Workers of the Empire, Unite Yann Béliard, Neville Kirk, 2021-03-01 In most studies of British decolonisation the world of labour is neglected the key roles being allocated to metropolitan statesmen and native elites Instead this volume focuses on the role played by working people their experiences initiatives and organisations in the dissolution of the British Empire both in the metropole and in the colonies How central was the intervention of the metropolitan Left in the liquidation of the British Empire Were labour mobilisations in the colonies only stepping stones for bourgeois nationalists To what extent were British labour activists willing and able to form connections with colonial workers and vice versa Here are some of the complex questions on which this volume sheds new light Though convergences were fragile and temporary this book recapture the sense of uncertainty that accompanied the final decades of the British Empire a period when radical minorities hoped that coordinated efforts across borders might lead not only to the destruction of the British Empire but to that of capitalism and imperialism in general Exploiting rare primary sources and adopting a resolutely transnational approach our collection makes an original contribution to both labour history and imperial studies

Congress Party Politics and New Challenges Attar Chand, 1985      The Age of Total War, 1860-1945 Jeremy Black, 2010-09-16 What is total war Definitions abound but one thing is certain the concept of total war has come to be seen as a defining concept of the modern age In The Age of Total War celebrated historian Jeremy Black explores the rise and demise of an era of total war which he defines in terms of the intensity of the struggle the range geographical and or chronological of conflict the nature of the goals and the extent to which civil society was involved He contends that this era roughly 1860 1945 was markedly different from the warfare that characterized earlier periods and that it is very different from the situation that has evolved since with its emphasis on asymmetrical conflict and limited warfare Acknowledging that various definitions are problematic and often contradictory Black argues that 1860 to 1945 was an era in which the prospect of war and the consequences of it were crucially important for human history He focuses primarily on conflict between Western powers including Japanese participation in the Russo Japanese War Trends and developments subsequent to 1945 have combined Black asserts to make a return to total war unlikely
