State and Society in Bali H. Geertz, 2022-07-04 Balinese texts temples theatre performances and rituals in seven essays are placed into specific political contexts in an effort to gain a deeper understanding of the changing relations between state and society on the complex island of Bali How have local communities been linked to various claimants to state sovereignty through Bali s history What have been the forms and functions of the institutions that have joined peasants with kings and bureaucrats How have these institutions changed and in what ways have they remained the same over the centuries How have these relationships been represented by Balinese to themselves And how should research on these issues be carried further forward The contributors to this volume I Gusti Ngurah Bagus Hildred Geertz Henk Schulte Nordholt Raechelle Rubinstein David J Stuart Fox Adrian Vickers and Carol Warren represent the disciplines of anthropology literature and history but all of them cut creatively across disciplinary lines In contrast to previous Bali research these studies put more emphasis on historical background and pay close attention to local Balinese perspectives Early and colonial history form the frame of several papers while others deal with major changes in the recent past While each paper taken alone has its own specialized concerns if the set is read as a series an outline can be discerned not only of Balinese history and culture but also of some characteristic features of the new research on Bali being carried out in the 1980s The interdisciplinary approach of this volume makes it challenging reading for a wider audience of Southeast Asianists

Critical Reflections on Religion and Media in Contemporary Bali Richard Fox, 2011 Drawing on ethnographic and archival research conducted on the Indonesian island of Bali this book demonstrates that more nuanced attention to problems of media will have serious implications for how we think about the study of religions past and present The Spell of Power H.G.C. Schulte Nordholt, 2010-01-01 Note This title was out of print Re issued in its original form in 2010 The first comprehensive history of Balinese politics from the middle of the 17th century till the end of Dutch colonial rule in 1942 Based on extensive research in colonial archives in the Netherlands and Indonesia a variety of Balinese historical narratives interviews with former colonial officials as well as many Balinese and fieldwork data concerning temples rituals and oral histories Schulte Nordholt traces Balinese history by means of a collective biography of the Mengwi dynasty describing the rise to power the formation and expansion of a negara the subsequent crises and its fall in 1891 Between 1906 and 1942 Bali became part of the Dutch colonial state and experienced bureaucratic rule and processes that resulted in a traditionalization of Balinese kingship and culture The story of the Mengwi dynasty under colonial rule ended in a conflict between two factions This conflict had an unexpected but devastating outcome Triguna Made Mantle Hood, 2010 This book combines ethnography philosophy and musical analysis for an in depth look into the social context and musical praxis of gamelan gong gede the largest gamelan orchestra of bronze gongs and percussion on the island of Bali The Hindu Balinese notion of three human qualities called triguna serves as an interpretive framework for categorizing the musical repertoire according to both widespread religious knowledge and more esoteric wisdom Series KlangKulturStudien SoundCultureStudies Vol 2 The Changing World of Bali Leo Howe, 2006-06-07 The glossy guide book image of Bali is of a timeless paradise whose people are devoutly religious and artistically gifted However a hundred years of colonialism war and Indonesian independence and tourism have produced both modernizing changes and created an image of Bali as traditional Incorporating up to date ethnographic field work the book investigates the myriad of ways in which the Balinese has responded to the influx of outside influence The book focuses on the fascinating interrelationship between tourism economy culture and religion in Bali painting a twenty first century picture of the Balinese In documenting these diverse changes Howe critically assesses some of the work of Bali s most famous ethnographer Clifford Geertz and demonstrates the importance of a historically grounded and broadly contextualized approach to the analysis of a complex society Between Harmony and Discrimination: Negotiating Religious Identities within Majority-Minority Relationships in Bali and Lombok , 2014-05-22 Between Harmony and Discrimination explores the varying expressions of religious practices and the intertwined shifting interreligious relationships of the peoples of Bali and Lombok As religion has become a progressively more important identity marker in the 21st century the shared histories and practices of peoples of both similar and differing faiths are renegotiated reconfirmed or reconfigured This renegotiation inspired by Hindu or Islamic reform movements that encourage greater global identifications has created situations that are perceived locally to oscillate between harmony and discrimination depending on the relationships and the contexts in which they are acting Religious belonging is increasingly important among the Hindus and Muslims of Bali and Lombok minorities Christians Chinese on both islands have also sought global partners Contributors include Brigitta Hauser Sch ublin David D Harnish I Wayan Ardika Ni Luh Sitjiati Beratha Erni

Budiwanti I Nyoman Darma Putra I Nyoman Dhana Leo Howe Mary Ida Bagus Lene Pedersen Martin Slama Meike Rieger Sophie Strauss Kari Telle and Dustin Wiebe Children Dancing in Bali Jonathan McIntosh, 2025-05-01 The question of power and agency between children and adults within the context of traditional Balinese dance remains multilayered While adults exercise authority over children in formal settings an alternative dynamic exists outside the confines of traditional performance contexts where children operate as artistic agents In this illuminating ethnographic study of Balinese dance traditions Jonathan McIntosh examines how children navigate the nexus of practice performance and power through the medium of Balinese culture From structured dance classes to gatherings that embrace popular music Children Dancing in Bali spotlights the creative potential of Balinese performance practices to negotiate identity and society The Life of a Balinese Temple Hildred Geertz, 2004-06-30 Should a temple be seen as a work of art its carvers as artists its worshipers as art critics and patrons What is a temple and its art to the people who make and use it Noted anthropologist Hildred Geertz attempts to answer these and other questions in this unique look at transformations in material culture and social relations over time in a village temple in Bali Throughout Geertz offers insightful glimpses into what the statues structures and designs of Pura D sa Batuan convey to those who worship there deepening our understanding of how a village community evaluates workmanship and imagery Following an introduction to the temple and villagers of Batuan Geertz explores the problematics of the Western concept of art as a guiding framework in research She goes on to outline the many different kinds of work ideational as well as physical undertaken in connection with the temple and the social institutions that enable constrain and motivate their creation Finally the art works themselves are presented set within the intricate sociocultural contexts of their making Using the history of Batuan as the main framework for discussing each piece Geertz looks at the carvings from the perspective of their makers each generation occupying a different social situation She confronts concepts such as aesthetics representation sacredness and universality and the dilemmas they create in field research and ethnographic writing Recent temple carvings from the tumultuous and complex period that followed the expulsion of the Dutch and the increasing globalization and commercialization of Balinese society demonstrate yet again that any anthropology of art must also be historical More Than Words Richard Fox, 2018-09-15 Grounded in ethnographic and archival research on the Indonesian island of Bali More Than Words challenges conventional understandings of textuality and writing as they pertain to the religious traditions of Southeast Asia Through a nuanced study of Balinese script as employed in rites of healing sorcery and self defense Richard Fox explores the aims and desires embodied in the production and use of palm leaf manuscripts amulets and other inscribed objects Balinese often attribute both life and independent volition to manuscripts and copperplate inscriptions presenting them with elaborate offerings Commonly addressed with personal honorifics these script bearing objects may become partners with humans and other sentient beings in relations of exchange and mutual obligation The question is how such practices of the living letter may be related to more recently emergent

conceptions of writing linked to academic philology reform Hinduism and local politics which take Balinese letters to be a symbol of cultural heritage and a neutral medium for the transmission of textual meaning More than Words shows how Balinese practices of apotropaic writing on palm leaves amulets and bodies challenge these notions and yet coexist alongside them Reflecting on this coexistence Fox develops a theoretical approach to writing centered on the premise that such contradictory sensibilities hold wider significance than previously recognized for the history and practice of religion in Southeast Asia and beyond

Geertz, 2016-11-01 In Storytelling in Bali Hildred Geertz makes a case for the importance of the role of informal storytelling as an engine of social change in Bali in the 1930s This is a study of more than 200 texts dictated by the painters of the village of Batuan in 1936 to the anthropologist Gregory Bateson It is completed by three years field work in Batuan in the 1980s The tales reveal a set of strong ambivalences about the magical powers of kings priests and sorcerers and about social strains within villages and families These narratives were related in the daily settings of home and coffee shop and also in the spectacular dance dramas of the time
