Purloined Epistles Based On A True Story:

Purloined Letters Mark H. Silver, 2008-04-07 This engaging study of the detective story's arrival in Japan and of the broader cross cultural borrowing that accompanied it argues for a reassessment of existing models of literary influence between unequal cultures Because the detective story had no pre existing native equivalent in Japan the genre's formulaic structure acted as a distinctive cultural marker making plain the process of its incorporation into late nineteenth and early twentieth century Japanese letters Mark Silver tells the story of Japan's adoption of this new Western literary form at a time when the nation was also remaking itself in the image of the Western powers His account calls into question conventional notions of cultural domination and resistance demonstrating the variety of possible modes for cultural borrowing the surprising vagaries of intercultural transfer and the power of the local contexts in which imitation occurs Purloined Letters considers a fascinating range of primary texts populated by wise judges faceless corpses wily confidence women desperate blackmailers a fetishist who secrets himself for days inside a leather armchair and a host of other memorable figures The work begins by analyzing Tokugawa courtroom narratives and early Meiji biographies of female criminals dokufu mono or poison woman stories which dominated popular crime writing in Japan before the detective story's arrival It then traces the mid Meiji absorption of French British and American detective novels into Japanese literary culture through the quirky translations of muckraking journalist Kuroiwa Ruiko Subsequent chapters take up a series of detective stories nostalgically set in the old city of Edo by Okamoto Kido a Kabuki playwright inspired by Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes and the erotic grotesque and macabre works of Edogawa Ranpo whose pen name punned on Edgar Allan Poe Epistolary Fiction in Europe, 1500-1850 Thomas O. Beebee, 1999-03-28 This book explores epistolary fiction as a major phenomenon across Europe from the Renaissance to the nineteenth century Intercepted Letters Thomas E. Jenkins, 2006-01-01 Intercepted Letters examines the phenomenon of epistolarity within a range of classical Greek and Roman texts with a focus on letters as symbols for larger culturally constructed processes of reading and writing Beginning with the myth of Palamedes and continuing through to the poets of the Roman period Intercepted Letters examines the importance of epistolary motifs in narratives concerning power voice and interpretation A Companion to Rainer Werner Fassbinder Brigitte Peucker, 2012-02-20 A Companion to Rainer Werner Fassbinder is the first of its kind to engage with this important figure Twenty eight essays by an international group of scholars consider this controversial director's contribution to German cinema German history gender studies and auteurship A fresh collection of original research providing diverse perspectives on Fassbinder's work in films television poetry and underground theatre Rainer Werner Fassbinder remains the preeminent filmmaker of the New German Cinema whose brief but prolific body of work spans from the latter half of the 1960s to the artist's death in 1982 Interrogates Fassbinder's influence on the seminal ideas of his time auteurship identity race queer studies and the cataclysmic events of German twentieth century history Contributions from internationally diverse scholars specializing in film culture and German studies Includes coverage of his key films including Gods of the Plague 1970 Beware of a Holy Whore 1971 The Bitter Tears of Petra von Kant 1972 Martha 1973 TV World on a Wire 1973 Effi Briest 1974 Ali Fear Eats the Soul 1974 Fox and His Friends 1975 Fear of Fear 1975 Chinese Roulette 1976 In a Year With 13 Moons 1978 Despair 1978 The Third Generation 1979 Berlin Alexanderplatz 1980 TV and Querelle 1982 Florence 98, Destruction and Creation Personal and Cultural Transformation Mary Ann Mattoon, 1999 The Fourteenth Congress for Analytical Psychology was held August 23-28 1998 in the ancient city of Florence Italy The theme Destruction and Creation Personal and Cultural Transformations is especially appropriate to the Italian setting with that nation's history of destruction both from nature and from human activity and its tradition especially in Florence of creative individuals and institutions The theme is fitting also to the context of Jungian psychology with its emphasis on these and other pairs of opposites with their integral role in psychic wholeness Acknowledging also that destruction is indispensable to creation some Jungians prefer the term creative unconscious to the traditional collective unconscious Letters and Cultural Transformations in the United States, 1760-1860 Sharon M. Harris, 2016-05-06 This volume illustrates the significance of epistolarity as a literary phenomenon intricately interwoven with eighteenth and nineteenth century cultural developments Rejecting the common categorization of letters as primarily private documents this collection of essays demonstrates the genre's persistent public engagements with changing cultural dynamics of the revolutionary early republican and antebellum eras Sections of the collection treat letters implication in transatlanticism authorship and reform movements as well as the politics and practices of editing letters The wide range of authors considered include Mercy Otis Warren Charles Brockden Brown members of the Emerson and Peabody families Margaret Fuller Elizabeth Stoddard Catherine Brown John Brown and Harriet Jacobs The volume is particularly relevant for researchers in U.S. literature and history as well as women's writing and periodical studies This dynamic collection offers scholars an exemplary template of new approaches for exploring an understudied yet critically important literary genre Letters to Power Samuel McCormick, 2015-11-09 Although the scarcity of public intellectuals among today's academic professionals is certainly a cause for concern it also serves as a challenge to explore alternative more subtle forms of political intelligence Letters to Power accepts this challenge guiding readers through ancient medieval and modern traditions of learned advocacy in search of persuasive techniques resistant practices and ethical sensibilities for use in contemporary democratic public culture At the center of this book are the political epistles of four renowned scholars the Roman Stoic Seneca the Younger the late medieval feminist Christine de Pizan the key Enlightenment thinker Immanuel Kant and the Christian anti-philosopher Søren Kierkegaard Anticipating much of today's online advocacy their letter writing helps would-be intellectuals understand the economy of personal and public address at work in contemporary relations of power suggesting that the art of lettered protest like letter writing itself involves appealing to diverse and often strictly virtual audiences In this sense Letters to Power is not only a nuanced historical study but also a book in search of a usable past

Reclaiming Archaeology Alfredo González-Ruibal, 2013-08-21 Archaeology has been an important source of metaphors for some of the key intellectuals of the 20th century Sigmund Freud Walter Benjamin Alois Riegl and Michel Foucault amongst many others However this power has also turned against archaeology because the discipline has been dealt with perfunctorily as a mere provider of metaphors that other intellectuals have exploited Scholars from different fields continue to explore areas in which archaeologists have been working for over two centuries with little or no reference to the discipline It seems that excavation stratigraphy or ruins only become important at a trans disciplinary level when people from outside archaeology pay attention to them and somehow dematerialize them Meanwhile archaeologists have been usually more interested in borrowing theories from other fields rather than in developing the theoretical potential of the same concepts that other thinkers find so useful The time is ripe for archaeologists to address a wider audience and engage in theoretical debates from a position of equality not of subalternity Reclaiming Archaeology explores how archaeology can be useful to rethink modernity's big issues and more specifically late modernity broadly understood as the 20th and 21st centuries The book contains a series of original essays not necessarily following the conventional academic rules of archaeological writing or thinking allowing rhetoric to have its place in disclosing the archaeological In each of the four sections that constitute this book method time heritage and materiality the contributors deal with different archaeological tropes such as excavation surface depth genealogy ruins fragments repressed memories and traces They criticize their modernist implications and rework them in creative ways in order to show the power of archaeology not just to understand the past but also the present Reclaiming Archaeology includes essays from a diverse array of archaeologists who have dealt in one way or another with modernity including scholars from non Anglophone countries who have approached the issue in original ways during recent years as well as contributors from other fields who engage in a creative dialogue with archaeology and the work of archaeologists

The Bloomsbury Handbook to Literature and Psychoanalysis Jeremy Tambling, 2023-03-09 Providing the most comprehensive examination of the two way traffic between literature and psychoanalysis to date this handbook looks at how each defines the other as well as addressing the key thinkers in psychoanalytic theory Freud Klein Lacan and the schools of thought each of these has generated It examines the debts that these psychoanalytic traditions have to literature and offers plentiful case studies of literature's influence from psychoanalysis Engaging with critical issues such as madness memory and colonialism with reference to texts from authors as diverse as Shakespeare Goethe and Virginia Woolf this collection is admirably broad in its scope and wide ranging in its geographical coverage It thinks about the impact of psychoanalysis in a wide variety of literatures as well as in film and critical and cultural theory A History of the Four Georges Justin McCarthy, Justin Huntly McCarthy, 1901

True Crime Mark Seltzer, 2013-10-18 True crime is crime fact that looks like crime fiction It is one of the most popular genres of our pathological public sphere and an integral part of our contemporary wound culture a culture or at least cult of commiseration If we cannot gather in the face of anything other than crime violence terror trauma and the wound we can at least commiserate That is as novelist Chuck Palahniuk writes we can at least all be miserable together The murder leisure industry its media and its public these modern styles of violence and intimacy sociality and belief are the subjects of True Crime Observations on Violence and Modernity True Crime draws on and makes available to American readers and tests out work on systems theory and media theory for instance the transformative work of Niklas Luhmann on social systems and of Friedrich Kittler on the media apriori work yet to make its impact on the American scene True Crime is at once a study of a minor genre that is a scale model of modern society and a critical introduction to these forms of social and media history and theory With examples factual and fictional of the scene of the crime ranging from Poe to CSI from the true crime writing of the popular Japanese author Haruki Murakami to versions of the violence media complex in the work of the American novelist Patricia Highsmith and the Argentinian author Juan Jos Saer True Crime is a penetrating look at modern violence and the modern media and the ties that bind them in contemporary life

A History of the Four Georges and of William IV, Justin McCarthy, Justin Huntly McCarthy, 1901 The Peculiarity of Literature Jeffrey DeShell, 1997 If literature is to survive as literature it must be freed from its subjugation to other disciplines other concerns and other projects If Poe's fiction is to survive in any meaningful way it must be liberated from the critical tradition that sees nothing in it but confirmation of its own theories PRIVATE LETTERS OF EDWARD

GIBBON, 1896 Letters, 1929 Private letters of Edward Gibbon, 1753-1794, ed. by R.E. Prothero Edward [private letters] Gibbon, 1896 Deconstruction Jonathan D. Culler, 2003 It could be argued that deconstruction has to a considerable extent been formed by critical accounts of it This collection reprints a cross section of these important works charting the ways in which deconstruction is conceptualized and demonstrating the impact it has had on a wide range of traditions The essential pieces in this set include writings by Jacques Derrida Jonathan Culler Paul de Man Barbara Johnson and a wide range of key thinkers in areas as diverse as psychoanalysis law gender studies and architecture The major themes covered include Vol 1 Part I What is Deconstruction Part II Philosophy Vol 2 Part III Literary Criticism Part IV Feminism and Queer Theory Vol 3 Part V Psychoanalysis Part VI Religion Theology Part VII Architecture Vol 4 Part VIII Politics Part IX Ethics

Private Letters of Edward Gibbon (1753-1794) Edward Gibbon, 1897 Textual Communication Maurice Couturier, 2021-12-01 First published in 1991 Textual Communication examines the character and development of the novel from Richardson to Nabokov in relation to the printing and publishing industry The book blends literary theory with a historical analysis of communication carrying the debate on the novel beyond the pioneering work of Booth and Genette while responding to and taking issue with the writings of Foucault Baudrillard McLuhan and Barthes It analyses the structures of the industry which manufactured and marketed novels to show how novelists solved the communication problems that they faced in the eighteenth nineteenth and twentieth centuries It also pinpoints critical moments in the history of the novel when new narrative strategies appeared and places them in the context of the communication environment in which the texts were produced Using Lacan s theory of the divided subject the book defines textual communication as a form of interaction in which two divided subjects the author and the reader try to communicate with each other under or against the law of the book market censorship literary conventions and language

The Cambridge Companion to the French Novel Timothy Unwin, 1997-10-28 This volume offers a unique and valuable insight into the novel in French over the past two centuries In a series of essays acknowledged experts discuss a variety of topics including nineteenth century realism women and fiction popular fiction experiment and innovation war and the Holocaust the Francophone novel and postmodern fiction They offer a challenging reassessment of major figures while deliberately reading traditional views of literary history against the grain Theoretical discussion is combined with close reading of texts and exploration of context comparison with other genres and other literatures and reference to novels from earlier periods This companionable introduction includes a chronology and guide to further reading From it emerges a strong sense of the vitality and energy of the modern French novel and of the debates surrounding it
