Indian Handcrafts United States. Bureau of Indian Affairs, My Polish-American Mother Frances Lareau, 2011-03 Rescue Raids of Luzon! Joseph C. Huber Jr., 2021-01-28 Between January 26th and February 23rd of 1945 on Luzon in the Philippines, America made its greatest rescue of civilians and military prisoners from deep behind enemy lines. Three quickly organized raids by different hastily formed groups saved 7,700 lives. Raids were necessary because a decoded Japanese order stated that prisoners were to be killed before rescue. An order executed in December 44 on Palawan Island in the Philippines. This book summarizes these raids and describes the prison camp experience of the author and his family. Photos, drawings and old documents help tell the tale. In the largest raid on the prison at Santo Tomas in Manila, his family had ringside seats. There is a representative story of the prewar war with its wretched conditions and postwar and includes their experience under fire during the Battle of Manila. The book is a remembrance of the bravery, skills and organizing abilities displayed by American soldiers and Filipino American guerillas whose achievements are not likely to be surpassed. And of his parents who pulled them through magnificently and were recognized with others by order of Gen MacArthur with campaign ribbons with a battle star. I Eat, Therefore I Think Raymond D. Boisvert, 2014-05-07 I Eat, Therefore I Think breaks new ground by introducing philosophy via an activity central to life: eating. Building on the original meaning of philosophy as love of wisdom, it explains how the search for wisdom can best succeed by addressing not just the mind but the entire human being. Eating, an activity that integrates physiological, social, religious, cultural, ethical and aesthetic dimensions, offers an opportunity to re-think fundamental questions. The result: surprising and novel ways to approach art, religion, knowledge, ethics and even democracy. The book outlines a new philosophy for our time. As such, it will be of interest to people curious about the topic of food to those interested in learning about philosophy and to those who seek new ideas as guides for living meaningful lives in an intelligible world Rebellious Cooks and Recipe Writing in Communist Bulgaria Albena Shkodrova, 2021-01-28 How did people exist and resist in their daily lives under Soviet control in the Cold War period Shkodrova's monograph shows how in communist Bulgaria many women passionately exchanged recipes with friends and strangers to build substantial and impressive private collections of recipes This activity was borderline contraband in going against the general disapproval of home cooking that formed part of the ideology of communism in which home cooking was considered household slavery and an agent of patriarchalism Private recipe collections were by far the preferred written source of culinary information more popular than the state approved commercial cookbooks Shkodrova shows how these recipe collections held many different meanings for the women who collected them from helping to navigate the communist economy to enabling new friendships to be developed while engaging safely in power relations and cultivating a sense of individual identity in a society where collective existence was prioritised and exalted Drawing on primary sources including scrapbook cookbooks and working from the establishment of cookery classes before communism and their obliteration thereafter Shkodrova presents a structured outline of the meanings of recipes exchange and home cooking for Bulgarian women under communism
