The Qur'an and its Interpretative Tradition

Andrew Rippin, 2022-04-19 The position of the Qur'an as the central symbol and reference point of Islam cannot be disputed Despite this significance the academic study of the Qur'an has lagged far behind that of the Bible In these studies Andrew Rippin reflects upon both the principles and the problems of studying the Qur'an within the discipline of religious studies He also pursues detailed investigations of the meaning of variants to the text and the history of Muslim interpretation of the text in its diversity A newly written introduction lays out some of the general implications of these studies while extensive indexes of Qur'anic verses books authors and topics make this research more readily accessible

The Qur'an as Text

Wild, 2021-09-20 This book contains the updated papers of an international symposium The Qur'an as Text which was held at the University of Bonn in November 1993 This collection intends to break away from the 19th century paradigm of influences which seems largely exhausted but still dominates Qur'anic studies Instead this collection focuses on the literary the intertextual and the receptional aspects of the Qur'anic text A new approach to the holy book of Islam in the light of modern hermeneutics which is based on modern methods of literary history text linguistics and aesthetics can open the door for a new and more adequate understanding of the Qur'an its role for Islamic religion and its unique place in the history of world religions today

Music and the Play of Power in the Middle East, North Africa and Central Asia

Laudan Nooshin, 2016-04-29 What is it about the history geographical position and cultures of the Middle East North Africa and Central Asia that has made music such a potent and powerful agent This volume presents the first direct look at the complex relationship between music and power across a range of musical genres and countries Discourses of power in the region centre on some of the most contested social issues most notably in relation to nationhood gender and religion Individual chapters examine the ways in which music serves as a forum for playing out issues of power ideology resistance and subversion How does music become a space for promoting or conversely resisting or subverting particular ideologies or positions of authority How does it accrue symbolic power in ways that are very particular perhaps unique And how does music become a site of social control or alternatively a vehicle for agency and empowerment at times overt and at others highly subtle What is it about music that facilitates and sometimes disrupts the exercise and flows of power Who controls such flows how and for what purposes In asking such questions in the context of countries such as Afghanistan Egypt Iran Tunisia and Tajikistan the book draws on a wide range of relevant theoretical and critical ideas and many disciplines including ethnomusicology anthropology sociology politics Middle Eastern studies globalization studies gender studies and cultural and media studies The countries and areas explored share a great deal in historical and cultural terms including a legacy of colonial and neo colonial encounters and predominantly Judeo Muslim religious traditions It is hoped that the volume will contribute ultimately to a richer understanding of the role that music plays in these societies and Transformations in the History of Religions Reynolds, TH.M. Ludwig, 2018-11-13 The Qur'an: Text and Commentary, Volume 1 Angelika Neuwirth, 2022-01-01 The first volume of a world renowned scholar's long awaited Qur'an commentary now available in English Angelika Neuwirth's six volume commentary published originally in Germany offers a historical and philological analysis of the form structure and semantic message of each of the 114 Qur'anic suras It brings together the fruits of the past hundred years of modern scholarship and provides access to the aesthetic theological linguistic and semantic background required to appreciate the unique novelty force and historical position of the Qur'an Contextualizing the Qur'anic message in the broader world of late antiquity it bridges the gaps between the inner Islamic scholarly world and the academy Skillfully translated by Samuel Wilder this first volume focuses on the Meccan suras the earliest and often the most aesthetically striking and compelling part of the corpus of Qur'anic proclamations Muslims and the New Media Göran Larsson, 2016-04-22 Scholars from an extensive range of academic disciplines have focused on Islam in cyberspace and the media but there are few historical studies that have outlined how Muslim ulama have discussed and debated the introduction and impact of these new media Muslims and the New Media explores how the introduction of the latest information and communication technologies are mirroring changes and developments within society as well as the Middle East's relationship to the West Examining how reformist and conservative Muslim ulama have discussed the printing press photography the broadcasting media radio and television the cinema the telephone and the Internet case studies provide a contextual background to the historical social and cultural situations that have influenced theological discussions focusing on how the ulama have debated the usefulness or dangers of the information and communication media By including both historical and contemporary examples this book exposes historical trajectories as well as different and often contested positions in the Islamic debate about the new media The Topkapı Qur'ān Manuscript H.S. 32 Rami Hussein Halaseh, 2024-09-02 This study presents a comprehensive and systematic examination of a revered Qur'an manuscript commonly attributed to the third Islamic Caliph Uthmān b. Affān d. 35-656 housed at the Topkapı Palace Museum in Istanbul Türkiye identified as H.S. 32 Halaseh offers a meticulous analysis of the manuscript's codicological paleographic and orthographic characteristics explores its emendations production date and traces the manuscript's journey first to Cairo and then to Istanbul Additionally the study examines and categorizes its textual variants including what are considered today as non canonical and some that are not previously attested in the major qir'ān literature This work not only sheds light on the transmission of the Qur'anic text but also establishes a comprehensive framework for researching Qur'an manuscripts By integrating methods for examining these manuscripts as both physical artifacts and scriptural texts Halaseh presents a holistic methodological approach to their scholarly study Literacy, Culture and Development Daniel A. Wagner, 1993 Literacy is thought to be one of the primary cultural transmitters of information and beliefs within any society where it exists Yet when considered as a social phenomenon literacy is remarkably difficult to define because its functions meanings and methods of learning vary from one cultural group to the next This book compares and contrasts our understanding of literacy and its acquisition and retention It addresses major debates in education policy today such as the importance of mother tongue literacy programs the notion of literacy relapse and the concept of educational poverty The author focuses on Moroccan children whose parents are unschooled whose language is often different from that used in the classroom and whose first instruction often involves rote religious teaching

The Routledge Handbook of Literacy Studies Jennifer Rowsell, Kate Pahl, 2015-05-15 The Routledge Handbook of Literacy Studies offers a comprehensive view of the field of language and literacy studies With forty three chapters reflecting new research from leading scholars in the field the Handbook pushes at the boundaries of existing fields and combines with related fields and disciplines to develop a lens on contemporary scholarship and emergent fields of inquiry The Handbook is divided into eight sections The foundations of literacy studies Space focused approaches Time focused approaches Multimodal approaches Digital approaches Hermeneutic approaches Making meaning from the everyday Co constructing literacies with communities This is the first handbook of literacy studies to recognise new trends and evolving trajectories together with a focus on radical epistemologies of literacy The Routledge Handbook of Literacy Studies is an essential reference for undergraduate and postgraduate students and those researching and working in the areas of applied linguistics and language and literacy

Media of the Masses Andrew Simon, 2022-04-19 Media of the Masses investigates the social life of an everyday technology the cassette tape to offer a multisensory history of modern Egypt Over the 1970s and 1980s cassettes became a ubiquitous presence in Egyptian homes and stores Audiocassette technology gave an opening to ordinary individuals from singers to smugglers to challenge state controlled Egyptian media Enabling an unprecedented number of people to participate in the creation of culture and circulation of content cassette players and tapes soon informed broader cultural political and economic developments and defined modern Egyptian households Drawing on a wide array of audio visual and textual sources that exist outside the Egyptian National Archives Andrew Simon provides a new entry point into understanding everyday life and culture Cassettes and cassette players he demonstrates did not simply join other twentieth century mass media like records and radio they were the media of the masses Comprised of little more than magnetic reels in plastic cases cassettes empowered cultural consumers to become cultural producers long before the advent of the Internet Positioned at the productive crossroads of social history cultural anthropology and media and sound studies Media of the Masses ultimately shows how the most ordinary things may yield the most surprising insights

Muslim Rap, Halal Soaps, and Revolutionary Theater Karin van Nieuwkerk, 2011-12-15 From green pop and clean cinema to halal songs Islamic soaps Muslim rap Islamist fantasy serials and Suficized music the performing arts have become popular and potent avenues for Islamic piety movements politically engaged Islamists Islamic states and moderate believers to propagate their religio ethical beliefs Muslim Rap Halal Soaps and Revolutionary Theater is the first book that explores this vital intersection between artistic production and Islamic discourse in the Muslim world The contributors to this volume investigate the historical and structural conditions that impede or facilitate the emergence of a post Islamist cultural sphere They discuss the development of religious sensibilities among audiences which increasingly include the well to do and the educated young as well as the emergence of a local and global religious market At the heart of these essays is an examination of the intersection between cultural politics performing art and religion addressing such questions as where how and why pop culture and performing arts have been turned into a religious mission and whether it is possible to develop a new Islamic aesthetic that is balanced with religious sensibilities As we read about young Muslims and their quest for a cool Islam in music their struggle to quell their stigmatized status or the collision of morals and the marketplace in the arts a vivid varied new perspective on Muslim culture emerges Arabic Literary Salons in the Islamic Middle Ages Samer M. Ali, 2010-11-15 Arabic literary salons emerged in ninth century Iraq and by the tenth were flourishing in Baghdad and other urban centers In an age before broadcast media and classroom education salons were the primary source of entertainment and escape for middle and upper rank members of society serving also as a space and means for educating the young Although salons relied on a culture of oral performance from memory scholars of Arabic literature have focused almost exclusively on the written dimensions of the tradition That emphasis argues Samer Ali has neglected the interplay of oral and written as well as of religious and secular knowledge in salon society and the surprising ways in which these seemingly discrete categories blurred in the lived experience of participants Looking at the period from 500 to 1250 and using methods from European medieval studies folklore and cultural anthropology Ali interprets Arabic manuscripts in order to answer fundamental questions about literary salons as a social institution He identifies salons not only as sites for socializing and educating but as loci for performing literature and oral history for creating and transmitting cultural identity and for continually reinterpreting the past A fascinating recovery of a key element of humanistic culture Ali's work will encourage a recasting of our understanding of verbal art cultural memory and daily life in medieval Arab culture The Art of Reciting the Qur'an Kristina Nelson, 2014-11-11 For the Muslim faithful the familiar sound of the Qur'anic recitation is the predominant and most immediate means of contact with the Word of God Heard day and night on the street in taxis in shops in mosques and in homes the sound of recitation is far more than the pervasive background music of daily life in the Arab world It is the core of religious devotion the sanctioning spirit of much cultural and social life and a valued art form in its own right Participation in recitation as reciter or listener is itself an act of worship for the sound is basic to a Muslim's sense of religion and invokes a set of meanings transcending the particular occasion For the most part Westerners have approached the Qur'an much as scriptural scholars have studied the Bible as a collection of written texts The Art of Reciting the Qur'an aims at redirecting that focus toward a deeper understanding of the Qur'an as a fundamentally oral phenomenon By examining Muslim attitudes toward the Qur'an the institutions that regulate its recitation and performer audience expectations and interaction Kristina Nelson a trained Arabist and musicologist casts new light on the significance of Qur'anic recitation within the world of Islam Her landmark work is of importance to all scholars and students of the modern Middle East as well as ethnomusicologists anthropologists linguists folklorists and religious scholars

The Performance of Multilingual and 'Ultralingual' Devotional Practices by Young British Muslims Andrey

Rosowsky, 2021-03-24 This book examines the wide range of multilingual devotional performances engaged in by young Muslims in the UK today It evaluates the contemporary mosque school in the UK and contrasts this with practices from the past and with prevailing discourses both political and other which suggest that such institutions are problematic It also challenges the highly politicised and mediatised discourse which suggests that linguistic diversity presents a threat to the privileging of monolingualism in the UK Finally it argues for the usefulness of the term ultralingual when analysing the multilingual devotional language performances of these young people The Blackwell Companion to the Qur'an Andrew

Rippin, 2008-09-22 The Blackwell Companion to the Qur'an is a reader's guide a true companion for anyone who wishes to read and understand the Qur'an as a text and as a vital piece of Muslim life Comprises over 30 original essays by leading scholars Provides exceptionally broad coverage considering the structure content and rhetoric of the Qur'an how Muslims have interpreted the text and how they interact with it and the Qur'an's place in Islam Features notes an extensive bibliography indexes of names Qur'an citations topics and technical terms
