Reckless Eyeballing:

Reckless Eyeballing Ishmael Reed, 1986      Ardor in the Court! Jeffrey Miller, 2002-09 1656 A Boston court sentences a ship's captain to sit in the stocks for two hours for lewd and unseemly behaviour on the Sabbath His offence Arriving home that Sunday after three years at sea he had kissed his wife 1889 The chief justice of England debates with fellow judges whether a man can have sexual connection with a duck 1968 J Edgar Hoover tries to ban the recording Two Virgins because the cover depicts John Lennon and Yoko Ono stark naked from both directions 2000 A stripper sues her plastic surgeon because her bottom looks like her top after he stitches breast implants into her buttocks Spanning all legal history from the Bible onward these and other sex charged legal cases are covered when sex meets the law in Ardor in the Court      Critical Condition Susan Gubar, 2000-03-07 Is feminism dead as has been claimed by notable members of the media and the academy Has feminist knowledge with its proliferation of methodologies and fields been purchased at the price of power Are the conflicts among feminists evidence of self destructive infighting or do they herald the emergence of innovative modes of inquiry Given a feminism now ensconced within higher education as specialized or fractious scholarship Susan Gubar's Critical Condition Feminism at the Turn of the Century demonstrates that an invigorated concentration on activism and artistry can accentuate not the clinical or disparaging meaning of critical but its sense of compelling urgency and irreverent vitality As a pioneer of feminist studies and the object of some of the more rancorous criticism lodged against early feminist scholars Gubar stands in a unique position to comment on current dilemmas Moving beyond defensiveness produced by generational rivalry the impasse propagated by smug deployments of identity politics and the obscurity of poststructuralist theory she claims that the very controversies that undermine feminism's unity also prove its resilience Gubar begins by considering the volatile impact of gender on recent redefinitions of race sexuality religion and class proposed by four important groups in contemporary feminism African American performance and visual artists lesbian creative writers Jewish American women and newly institutionalized female academics She then addresses major divisions including the rifts between various area studies and women's studies as well as strains between generations that both threaten and invigorate feminist inquiry Gubar's forays into art and activism politics and the profession provide a sometimes distressing sometimes comical sometimes optimistic view of feminism emerging from a time of contention into a lively period of pluralized perspectives and disciplines      Nostalgia and Sexual Difference (RLE Feminist Theory) Janice Doane, DEVON HODGES, 2013-05-20 Dissatisfaction with the present can cause people to gaze nostalgically back to an idealized past that nostalgia pervades contemporary rhetoric In lamenting the degeneracy of present day America social and literary critics as well as contemporary novelists often choose as their scapegoat the women's movement and its increasing influence Doane and Hodges show us how these social observers seek to reinstate America and American values in ways that overtly or covertly do battle with the feminist movement for control of rhetoric the power of language      Where There's Life,

There's Lawsuits Jeffrey Miller, 2003 If the police sniff at your door without a warrant is it an illegal search If the mortuary loses your cremated remains can your family get compensation Is it a crime to try to pick an empty pocket Is Yiddish displacing Latin as the second language of our law And exactly why is it that Robin Hood's merry men could not have frequently been merry Our experiences with the law show how we cope with the most dramatic poignant and ridiculous moments of our lives Judgments in lawsuits can make vivid even inspirational literature shining their high beam on whether we have demonstrated grace under pressure Where There's Life There's Lawsuits collects Jeffrey Miller's 20 years of research and bemusement as a legal historian and columnist for The Lawyers Weekly chronicling this intersection of law and the human tragicomedy

Invisibility Blues Michele Wallace, 2016-11-15 First published in 1990 Michele Wallace's Invisibility Blues is widely regarded as a landmark in the history of black feminism Wallace's considerations of the black experience in America include recollections of her early life in Harlem a look at the continued underrepresentation of black voices in politics media and culture and the legacy of such figures as Zora Neale Hurston Toni Cade Bambara Toni Morrison and Alice Walker Wallace addresses the tensions between race gender and society bringing them into the open with a singular mix of literary virtuosity and scholarly rigor Invisibility Blues challenges and informs with the plain spoken truth that has made it an acknowledged classic

Imagining Each Other Ethan Goffman, 2012-02-01 Imagining Each Other explores Black Jewish relations by examining the complex ways they have portrayed each other in recent American literature It illuminates their dramatic alliances and conflicts and their dilemmas of identity and assimilation and addresses the persistent questions of ethnic division and economic inequality that have so encompassed the Black Jewish narrative in America. Focusing primarily on the 1960s and its aftermath, the book reveals how Jewish and African Americans view each other through a complex dialectic of identification and difference channeled by ever shifting positions within American society. Through the works of Richard Wright, Saul Bellow, Bernard Malamud, Amiri Baraka, Paule Marshall, Grace Paley, and others, Goffman unfolds a story of two peoples with powerful biblical and mythic connections that replay themselves in contemporary circumstances. In doing so, he uncovers layers of meaning in works that dramatize this turbulent paradoxical relationship and reveals how this relationship is paradigmatic of multicultural American self-invention. Thinking

Ecologically, Thinking Responsibly Nancy Arden McHugh, Andrea Doucet, 2021-12-01. Thinking Ecologically: Thinking Responsibly brings together a transdisciplinary cohort of feminist critical race, Indigenous, and decolonial scholars who build upon and seek to widen and deepen the legacy and potential of feminist philosopher Lorraine Code's work. Since the publication of her 1987 book Epistemic Responsibility, Code has been at the forefront of linking epistemologies, ontologies, ethics, and epistemic injustice to guide critical frameworks for responsible situated knowing and practices. This volume both enacts and expands Code's theories, epistemologies, and practices. It points to how concepts such as epistemic responsibility and approaches like ecological thinking are not only theoretical frameworks for knowing the world well; they are also practices and approaches that more and more feminists and critical thinkers are embodying in their work in order to think, write, and live critically and responsibly. Aggressive Fictions Kathryn Hume, 2012-01-15. A frequent complaint against contemporary American fiction is that too often it puts off readers in ways they find difficult to fathom. Books such as Bret Easton Ellis's American Psycho, Katherine Dunn's Geek Love, and Don DeLillo's Underworld seem determined to upset, disgust, or annoy their readers or to disorient them by shunning traditional plot patterns and character development. Kathryn Hume calls such works aggressive fiction. Why would authors risk alienating their readers, and why should readers persevere? Looking beyond the theory-based justifications that critics often provide for such fiction, Hume offers a commonsense guide for the average reader who wants to better understand and appreciate books that might otherwise seem difficult to enjoy. In her reliable and sympathetic guide, Hume considers roughly forty works of recent American fiction, including books by William Burroughs, Kathy Acker, Chuck Palahniuk, and Cormac McCarthy. Hume gathers attacks on the reader into categories based on narrative structure and content. Writers of some aggressive fictions may wish to frustrate easy interpretation or criticism. Others may try to induce certain responses in readers. Extreme content deployed as a tactic for distancing and alienating can actually produce a contradictory effect for readers who learn to relax and go with the flow: the result may well be exhilaration rather than revulsion. Introduction to Film Studies Jill Neldes, 2012-03-12. Introduction to Film Studies is a comprehensive textbook for students of cinema.
