Recruiting A Multi Racial Police Force A Research Study:

Recruiting a Multi-racial Police Force Simon Holdaway, 1991-01-01 At the beginning of 1990 there were 1306 officers from minority ethnic groups in the police forces of England and Wales just one percent of police strength Concern about under representation of the ethnic minorities in the police service has led to a number of police recruitment initiatives in recent years with varying emphasis on the reasons behind the problem and the strategies that might be undertaken to combat it This report describes an 18 month research project which looked at specific police initiatives and general policies to recruit members of ethnic minorities The findings show that ethnic minority recruitment is an issue which touches on a very broad range of police policies and practices and will be of interest to everyone concerned with formulating and implementing policies that recognize the multi racial nature of our society and create equal opportunities within it

Resigners? The Experience of Black and Asian Police Officers Anne-Marie Barron, Simon Holdaway, 2016-07-27

Based on interviews with black Asian and white resigners from the police this book analyses the ways in which mundane features of employment within constabularies racialize the work of officers and leads to a decision to resign It is argued that the occupational culture of policing remains a key context for the racialization of relationships between officers from majority and minority ethnic groups This book adds to sociological and criminological research by grounding racialized relations within the reality of day to day work

Policing beyond Macpherson Mike Rowe, 2013-06-17 The book will explore the impact of the Lawrence Report since it was published in 1999

Upon publication Home Secretary Jack Straw promised that the Macpherson Inquiry would lead to real change in the policing of minority ethnic communities in Britain Several senior police officers made similar pledges and insisted that the benchmark against which their commitment should be judged should be the extent to which progress was made on the ground In the aftermath of the report a host of initiatives have addressed issues ranging from police liaison with victims first aid training to stop and search procedures and police complaints As well as exploring the many ways in which the Lawrence Report has impacted on the police service and on society more widely this collection assesses the extent to which in retrospect the Macpherson Inquiry has led to significant changes to policing and highlights areas where future efforts ought to be concentrated

Racism and Public Policy Y. Bangura, R. Stavenhagen, 2005-04-05 In a time when racism is on the rise as a source of conflict and social justice has been increasingly demanded by the civic society this collection stands as a timely reminder that to ignore the racial factor in the globalization forces is as mistaken as eliminating class analysis The essays published here supplement the literature of comparative race relations from the standpoint of the theory of institutional racism and its effect on public policies such as immigration citizenship security and policing

Urban Crime Prevention, Surveillance, and Restorative Justice Paul Knepper, Jonathan Doak, Joanna Shapland, 2017-09-20 Crime prevention surveillance and restorative justice have transformed the response to crime in recent years Each has had a significant impact on policy introducing new concepts and reassessing traditional aims and priorities While such efforts attract a great deal of criminological interest they tend to be discussed within separate and discr

Racism in the Criminal Justice System University of Toronto. Centre of Criminology, 1995

Anti-Racist Probation Practice Lena Dominelli, 2017-03-02 The probation service has committed itself to anti racist initiatives and those promoting equal opportunities for some time However the experiences of black people whether as workers or clients indicates that the realities of day to day practice are far removed from this Moreover the picture is just as bleak if not even more so in other parts of the criminal justice system including the judiciary and the prison service Anti Racist Probation Practice addresses this conundrum and drawing on the experiences of black people makes practical proposals for moving forward in non tokenistic ways These include core areas of practice for example court reports monitoring systems resource allocation and working relations Arguing that process procedures and outcomes in the work done must be taken together if individual institutional and cultural racism are to be eradicated the book shows that anti racist probation practice must be taken seriously by both black and white people if it is to materialise
