Lengelle, 2023-07-07 Writing can support our wellbeing even under the most difficult life circumstances helping us to adapt to significant change make sense of loss improve our physical and emotional resilience and foster personal growth Numerous studies of Expressive Writing have confirmed this and there are other established methodologies for practice However to date few accounts have offered detailed descriptions showing how and why putting pen to paper can be so beneficial This book delves deeply into the landscape of Writing for wellbeing and demonstrates the transformative power of writing in a wide range of contexts Topics include personal trauma narratives within the Humanities a participatory Writing for wellbeing study that demonstrates the effectiveness of writing in the context of grief and loss surprise as the hidden mainspring of poetry s therapeutic potency the empowerment and healing potential offered by Black women s blogs playwriting positioning LGBTQIA identities as positive through stories of belonging how writing workshops have helped newly literate Indigenous adults and other participants in the Australian outback and how the smuggled writings of Behrouz Boochani have enabled global witnessing of the stories of refugees held in offshore detention This resource sets out the theory and research at the foundation of Writing for wellbeing in close relation to full and engaging accounts of practice It aims to make the topic accessible and affirms its place as an effective reconstructive practice alongside other expressive arts therapies providing a holistic and inspiring resource for anyone wishing to practice teach or research Writing for wellbeing Xenotropism and the Awakening of Literary Expatriatism through Writing Memoirs Christine Velde, 2016-08-03 Although there have been many discussions about challenges faced by individuals going through East to West migrations there are few literary accounts about those moving from the West to the East Yet these migrations are becoming more frequent now due to advances in technology and the fact that a writer s work can now involve an increasingly global audience One way of expressing these challenges is through writing memoirs Xenotropism and the Awakening of Literary Expatriatism through Writing Memoirs exemplifies the craft of memoirs written while living in a foreign country and explains how this is different from writing from home The book is a theoretical analysis of xenotropism based on the work of three prominent writers in China s history Emily Hahn Nien Cheng and Qiu Xiaolong The author explores the relationship between xenotropism turning towards foreign ideals and practices its complexities and challenges and the writing of a memoir and its impact on mental health This discourse will contribute to new knowledge in the field of creative writing and Asian studies by illustrating how xenotropism or turning towards foreign ideals and practices results in both personal and artistic development and builds an understanding and acceptance of different cultures within an individual These processes of change and understanding in turn facilitate the writing of a memoir which is a cathartic process having a positive effect on one's mental state. Readers interested in creative writing or Asian literary studies will be able to understand the creative process behind writing memoirs from a combination of personal research based literary and theoretical perspectives. 180 Days of Writing for Fifth Grade: Practice, Assess, Diagnose Maloof, Torrey, 2017-03-01 180 Days of Writing is an easy to use resource that provides fifth grade students with practice in writing argument opinion informative explanatory and narratives pieces while also strengthening their language and grammar skills. The atmosphere is generous and open to all and you don't have to be a poet to attend. What I find most exciting about the Bards people here are not conscious of reputation and achievement but love the poem and good friendly unpretentious talk. That doesn't mean that pretensions don't exist if that's what you desire but the coffee is strong, the people sincere and are publishers of small press magazines, pamphlets and books. If you want to be in an atmosphere that is intelligent without self-involved convoluted literary talk of people who need to prove themselves and announce themselves as artists here is a place to find the pleasure that good literary company may offer. Sam Cornish Poet Laureate of Boston MA Introducing Teachers' Writing Groups Jenifer Smith, Simon Wrigley, 2015-11-06 Teachers writing groups have a significantly positive impact on pupils and their writing. This timely text explains the importance of teachers writing groups and how they have evolved. It outlines clearly and accessibly how teachers can set up their own highly effective writing groups. In this practical and informative book the authors share the thinking and practice that is embodied by teachers writing groups. provide practical support for teachers running a group or wishing to write for themselves in order to inform their practice. cover major themes such as the relationship between writing teachers and the teaching of writing, writing as process and pleasure, writing and reflective practice, writing journals and the writing workshop. The authors provide a rationale for the development of writing groups for teachers and for ways of approaching writing that support adult and child writers and this rationale informs the ideas for writing throughout the book. All writing and teaching suggestions have been extensively tried and tested by class teachers and will be of enormous interest to any teacher or student teacher wishing to run their own successful writing group. The

Blood Into Ink Miriam Cooke, 2018-10-08 The experiences of women in twentieth century wars in South Asia and the Middle East challenge the concept of the separation of front and homefront and of family and society common to most modern western wars Women there have not only entered into what was once considered male only territory in men's roles wearing men's clothing but more important they have entered explicitly as women playing a variety of roles in the conflicts surrounding them Their self-conscious self-confident presence has changed the nature of that territory This anthology reflects the realization that through their writing women have created a new mythology of the war peace paradox one that is grounded in the reality of their own lives The works collected here illustrate the many ways in which women have become active participants in social conflict and military battles speaking of war not only as an extraordinary but also as an ordinary experience of coping with violence and conflict on a daily basis Women's involvement with the rituals of violence does not begin or end with traditional war their daily struggles for survival stretch seamlessly into the more public arena of political war In this anthology Drs Cooke and Rustomji Kerns offer a collection of journal entries interviews fiction and poetry by twentieth century Middle Eastern and South Asian women writing about war and political conflicts Some of the works were written in English but the majority were translated specifically for this anthology and are published here for the first time in English Blood Into Ink is an important and much needed addition to the rapidly growing literature on war and peace The anthology will greatly enlarge our understanding of the role of women in one of the most central of human concerns

Writing Black Beauty Celia Brayfield, 2023-10-03 The story of a remarkable woman who wrote a novel that not only became a classic but also changed the way human society views and treats animals Born in 1829 to a young Quaker couple Anna Sewall grew up in poverty in London She was fourteen when she fell and injured her ankle which left her permanently disabled Rejecting the life of a Victorian invalid she developed an extraordinary empathy with horses learning to ride side saddle and to drive a small carriage Rebellious and independent minded Anna suffered periods of severe depression as a young woman She left the Quaker movement but remained close friends with the women writers and abolitionists who had been empowered by its liberal principles It was not until she became terminally ill aged 51 that she found the courage to write her own book

Tragically she died just five months after the book was published in 1877 Black Beauty is now recognised as the first anthropomorphic novel and it had an extraordinary emotional impact on readers of all ages After modest success in Britain it was taken up by a charismatic American George Thorndike Angell a campaigner against animal cruelty who made it one of the bestselling novels of all time Using newly discovered archive material Celia Brayfield shows Anna Sewell developing the extraordinary resilience to overcome her disability rouse the conscience of Victorian Britain and make her mark upon the world
