The Soviet Sixties Robert Hornsby, 2023-01-01 The story of a remarkable era of reform controversy optimism and Cold War confrontation in the Soviet Union Beginning with the death of Stalin in 1953 the sixties era in the Soviet Union was just as vibrant and transformative as in the West The ideological romanticism of the revolutionary years was revived with renewed emphasis on egalitarianism equality and the building of a communist utopia Mass terror was reined in great victories were won in the space race Stalinist cultural dogmas were challenged and young people danced to jazz and rock and roll Robert Hornsby examines this remarkable and surprising period showing that even as living standards rose aspects of earlier days endured Censorship and policing remained tight and massacres during protests in Tbilisi and Novocherkassk alongside invasions of Hungary and Czechoslovakia showed the limits of reform The rivalry with the United States reached perhaps its most volatile point friendship with China turned to bitter enmity and global decolonization opened up new horizons for the USSR in the developing world These tumultuous years transformed the lives of Soviet citizens and helped reshape the wider world

The Midnight Kingdom Jared Yates Sexton, 2023-01-17 From the author of American Rule and the host of The Muckraker Podcast an ambitious account of how white supremacist lies religious mythologies and poisonous conspiracy theories built the modern world and threaten to plunge us into an authoritarian nightmare To fully understand these strange and dangerous times Jared Yates Sexton takes a hard look at our nation's history namely the abuses committed by those in power and the comforting stories that shaped the way the West has viewed itself up to the present As reactionaries and authoritarians cling to myths about Western civilization The Midnight Kingdom exposes how political power religious indoctrination and economic dominance have been repeatedly weaponized to oppress and exploit sounding an alarm for what lies ahead as the current order frays Beginning with the Roman Empire and racing through centuries of colonization war genocide and the recurring clashes of progress and regression Sexton finds our modern world at a crossroads In an echo of past crises we have arrived at a time of historic inequality and a fading trust in our institutions Meanwhile authoritarianism is gaining momentum and the progress of the twentieth century is being rolled back at dizzying speed This catastrophic moment holds terrible potential for a return to a totalitarian past or potentially a better realer more human future The difference depends on a true reckoning with our history and the larger forces at play or hiding behind this disastrous fantasy of Western superiority Bracing and compulsively readable The Midnight Kingdom takes a critical look at the forces that have shaped human civilization for centuries and invites us to seek a radically different future

Tomei, 1999 Conversations in Exile John Glad, 1993 An entire generation of Russian writers have been living in exile from their homeland Although today's glasnost has special meaning for many of these banished writers it does not dissolve their experience of forced separation from their country of origin In Conversations in Exile John Glad brings together interviews with fourteen prominent Russian writers in exile all of whom currently live in the United States France or Germany Conducted between 1978 and 1989 these frank and captivating interviews provide a rich and complex portrait of a national literature in exile Glad's introduction situates the three distinct waves of westward emigration in their historical and political framework Organized by genre the book begins with discussions with the older generation of writers and then moves on to more recent arrivals the makers of fantasy and humor the aesthetes the moralists and the realists Each voice is compelling for its invaluable testimony some reveal startling insights into the persecution of dissidents under Soviet rule while others address the relationship between creativity writing and conditions of exile Taken together these interviews reveal the range of modern Russian writing and document the personalities and positions that have made Russian writers in emigration so diverse experimental and controversial The Writers Vasily Aksyonov Joseph Brodsky Igor Chinnov Natalya Goranevskaya Frifrikh Gorensetin Roman Goul Yury Ivask Boris Khazanov Edward Liminov Vladimir Makisimov Andrei Siniavsky and Maria Rozanova Sasha Sokolov Vladimir Voinovich Aleksandr Zinoviev Excerpt John Glad You're a Russian poet but an American essayist Does that bring on any measure of split personality Do you think you are becoming less and less Russian Joseph Brodsky recipient of 1987 Nobel Prize for Literature That's not for me to say As far as I'm concerned in my inner self inside it feels quite natural I think being a Russian poet and an American essayist is an ideal situation It's all a matter of whether you have a the heart and b the brains to be able to do both Sometimes I think I do Sometimes I think I don't Sometimes I think that one interferes with the other Cumulative Index, 1972-1975, to Published Hearings, Studies, and Reports of the Subcommittee to Investigate the Administration of the Internal Security Act and Other Internal Security Laws of the Committee on the Judiciary, United States Senate United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee to Investigate the Administration of the Internal Security Act and Other Internal Security Laws, 1976 Mapping Experience in Polish and Russian Women's Writing Urszula Chowaniec, 2010-09-13 The volume encompasses eleven articles which discuss the critical views that Polish and Russian women writers have articulated with regard to the notion of experience and constructions of femininity in the national imagination from the 19th to the 21st centuries Major themes of the articles include women's experiences as writers in the 19th century women's embodied experiences of a traumatic past body and sexuality in the different ages of women political and aesthetic discourses and femininity Although the articles are arranged in chronological order they do not form an absolute chronological or periodic continuum i e from Romanticism to Postmodernism although references to certain aesthetic periods are made The authors of the articles reflect in detail on how the women writers and their literary texts represent different understandings and experiences in relation to dominant perceptions for example of the memory of war of motherhood of art and aesthetics and so on Readers are encouraged to seek parallels and continuities between the different historical times and spaces between women s writing in Russia and Poland between different scholarly approaches and aims The articles of this volume bring together important critical standpoints in women s writing in Poland and Russia in which parallels continuities and resemblances can be traced but in which discontinuities breaks and differences also make themselves visible Apart from the conspicuous resemblances between individual Russian and Polish women writers works or even between groups of women writers the articles document the diversity within Russian and Polish women s writing respectively and even within individual writers
