Red Square Martin Cruz Smith, 2007 Crossover Picturebooks Sandra L. Beckett, 2013-06-17 This book situates the picturebook genre within the widespread international phenomenon of crossover literature examining an international corpus of picturebooks including artists books wordless picturebooks and celebrity picturebooks that appeal to readers of all ages Focusing on contemporary picturebooks Sandra Beckett shows that the picturebook has traditionally been seen as a children's genre but in the eyes of many authors illustrators and publishers it is a narrative form that can address any and all age groups Innovative graphics and formats as well as the creative often complex dialogue between text and image provide multiple levels of meaning and invite readers of all ages to consider texts that are primarily marketed as children's books The interplay of text and image that distinguishes the picturebook from other forms of fiction and makes it a unique art form also makes it the ultimate crossover genre Crossover picturebooks are often very complex texts that are challenging for adults as well as children Many are characterized by difficult adult themes genre blending metafictional discourse intertextuality sophisticated graphics and complex text image interplay Exciting experiments with new formats and techniques as well as novel interactions with new media and technologies have made the picturebook one of the most vibrant and innovative contemporary literary genres one that seems to know no boundaries Crossover Picturebooks is a valuable addition to the study of a genre that is gaining increasing recognition and appreciation and contributes significantly to the field of children's literature as a whole Red Square, Black Square Vladislav Todorov, 1995-01-01 This book builds a new vision of the development of Russian revolutionary culture bringing together fiction criticism utopian projects manifestos performance and film theory religious philosophy and the imaginary space of communism centered around the Mummy of Lenin Revolution and modernization are two main issues of the book The author argues that in Modernism the work of art was conceived as a miniature of the world to come thus art was meant to make projects not master pieces He analyzes the genre of the manifesto as a special rhetorical device of modernist discourse and shows how projects of biological and social engineering elaborate a vision of a future human type apt to exist under unprecedented conditions Red Square Black Square traces the process of totalitarian reduction of the modernist impulse into a rigid party doctrine It follows the turbulent development of Russian Modernism through its categorical arrest under the official doctrine of socialist realism Moscow s Red Square is examined as a primal communist space that manifests the symbolism of power Viewing communism as an aesthetically not economically motivated society the book enacts political aesthetics as a discipline that provides the fundamental tool for an adequate and thorough understanding of communism Todorov concludes by discussing the rise of nationalism in Eastern Europe as a post communist condition and the new mission of the intellectuals The Man in Red Square Bill Moody,2016 mentor's words did not reflect Jabotinsky's intentions. This invaluable addition to the study of Israel's political history will appeal to both Middle Eastern and military historians.
