The Red Badge of Courage Stephen Crane, 1981-03-01 First published in 1895, America's greatest novel of the Civil War was written before 21-year-old Stephen Crane had smelled even the powder of a sham battle. But this powerful psychological study of a young soldier's struggle with the horrors both within and without that war strikes the reader with its undeniable realism and with its masterful descriptions of the moment-by-moment riot of emotions felt by men under fire. Ernest Hemingway called the novel an American classic, and Crane's genius is as much apparent in his sharp, colorful prose as in his ironic portrayal of an episode of war so intense, so immediate, so real that the terror of battle becomes our own in a masterpiece so unique that many believe modern American fiction began with Stephen Crane.

The Time Machine / The Invisible Man H. G. Wells, 2007-10-02 Together in one indispensable volume, The Time Machine and The Invisible Man are masterpieces of irony and imaginative vision from H. G. Wells, the father of science fiction. The Time Machine conveys the Time Traveller into the distant future and an extraordinary world. There, stranded on a slowly dying Earth, he discovers two bizarre races: the effete Eloi and the subterranean Morlocks, a haunting portrayal of Darwin's evolutionary theory carried to a terrible conclusion. The Invisible Man is the fascinating tale of a brash young scientist who, experimenting on himself, becomes invisible and then criminally insane, trapped in the terror of his own creation. Convincing and unforgettably real, these two classics are consummate representations of the stories that defined science fiction and inspired generations of readers and writers. With an Introduction by John Calvin Batchelor and an Afterword by Paul Youngquist.

The Man in the Iron Mask Alexandre Dumas, 2014-12-02 The Musketeers are back in another exciting adventure. This time a terrible secret threatens to bring down the throne of France. Aramis, Athos, Porthos, and d'Artagnan must rally once again to serve their king and save the country.
