Red Bologna:

Red Bologna Max Jäggi, Roger Müller, Sil Schmid, 1977      Molecular Red McKenzie Wark, 2015-04-21 In Molecular Red McKenzie Wark creates philosophical tools for the Anthropocene our new planetary epoch in which human and natural forces are so entwined that the future of one determines that of the other Wark explores the implications of Anthropocene through the story of two empires the Soviet and then the American The fall of the former prefigures that of the latter From the ruins of these mighty histories Wark salvages ideas to help us picture what kind of worlds collective labor might yet build From the Russian revolution Wark unearths the work of Alexander Bogdanov Lenin's rival as well as the great Proletkult writer and engineer Andrey Platonov The Soviet experiment emerges from the past as an allegory for the new organizational challenges of our time From deep within the Californian military entertainment complex Wark retrieves Donna Haraway's cyborg critique and science fiction writer Kim Stanley Robinson's Martian utopia as powerful resources for rethinking and remaking the world that climate change has wrought Molecular Red proposes an alternative realism where hope is found in what remains and endures

Free Public Transit Prince Jason Prince, 2019-10-15 Just like we don't pay to use elevators this book argues that we shouldn't pay to ride public transit In an age of increasing inequalities and ecological crisis movements advocating free public transit push us to rethink the status quo and consider urban transit as a fundamental human right Editors Jason Prince and Judith Dellheim have collected a panorama of case studies from around the world the United States Canada Estonia Greece France Italy Sweden Poland China Australia Brazil Mexico and more These movements are spread across the world and they aim to achieve two main outcomes ecological good and fair wealth distribution Free public transit coupled with increased capacity and improving service of public transit might well be the only viable strategy to eliminating car usage and achieving greenhouse gas targets in industrialized cities within a reasonable timeframe Movements for free mass transit also aim to see public transit treated as a public good like water and garbage service that should be paid for out of general tax revenues or a fairer regional tax strategy This book covers the rapidly changing transport options in cities today including bike and car share options Uber and Lyft and the imminent arrival of driverless vehicles The first English language book ever written on the subject Free Public Transit is a ground breaking book for those concerned about the future of our cities and an essential resource for those who make or try to change urban planning and transport policies

Social Movements and Political Power Carl Boggs, 1986 Author note Carl Boggs teaches political science at the University of Southern California      After Difference Paolo Heywood, 2018-02-19 Queer activism and anthropology are both fundamentally concerned with the concept of difference Yet they are so in fundamentally different ways The Italian queer activists in this book value difference as something that must be produced in opposition to the identity politics they find around them Conversely anthropologists find difference in the world around them and seek to produce an identity between anthropological theory and the ethnographic material it elucidates This book describes problems faced by an activist politics of difference and issues concerning the identity of anthropological reflection itself connecting two conceptions of difference whilst simultaneously holding them apart The Red Sea Najeeb M.A. Rasul, Ian C.F. Stewart, 2015-04-02 This book presents a broad overview of the current state of knowledge regarding the Red Sea from its geological formation and oceanographic development to the environmental influences on its ecology and the changes it is experiencing due to the rapid development of its coastlines and role as one of the world's major transport routes The book gathers invited contributions from researchers with an interest in the geology geophysics oceanography and environment of the Red Sea while also providing comprehensive new data and a complete review of the literature It will be of interest not only to researchers actively studying the sea and its surroundings but will also appeal to all those involved in planning and managing the Red Sea its environment its resources and the countries which rely on its existence Social Economics and the

Solidarity City Brendan Murtagh, 2018-09-25 Social Economics and the Solidarity City explores the impact and potential of the social economy as a site of urban struggle political mobilization and community organization The search for alternatives to the neoliberal logic governing contemporary cities has often focused on broad and ill defined political social and environmental movements These alternatives sometimes fail to connect with the lived realities of the city or to change the lives of those exploited in neoliberal restructuring This book seeks to understand the capacity of the social economy to revitalize urban ethics local practices and tangible political alterity Providing a critical account of the social economy and its place in urban and state restructuring this book draws on a range of international cases to argue that the social economy can be made a transformative space Evaluating community enterprises social finance and solidarity economics author Brendan Murtagh maps the possibilities contradictions and tactics of moving the rhetoric of the just city into local and global action
