Harlick, 2006-09 As winter's first snow starts to fall a young Quebecoise sneaks off to meet her Algonquin lover in an isolated hunting camp on the Migiskan Reserve Five days later Meg Harris discovers her frozen and brutalized body The young Native is charged with her murder and Meg feels responsible as the young woman was a member of the crew that was helping Meg to clear some cross country ski trails Meg convinced of the Native's innocence sets out to find the real killer against a backdrop of police prejudice As she scrambles to unravel the truth the snow turns to freezing rain locking her West Quebec wilderness within a prison of ice The sequel to Death's Golden Whisper again visits the Canadian wilderness of Quebec where survival hinges on the strong alliances one forms with one's neighbors      Herakleides Lorelei Hilda Corcoran, Marie Svoboda, 2010 Herakleides was a young man who lived and died in Roman Egypt almost 2000 years ago This multidisciplinary study of his mummy highlights the funerary practices and religious beliefs of his world      Judgment Day for the Shroud of Turin Walter C. McCrone, 2011-02-02 One of the most precious relics of the Catholic Church the Shroud of Turin is still believed by many to be the cloth that covered Jesus Christ in the tomb When displayed to the public the shroud becomes an international tourist attraction with interest heightening it to an eighth Wonder of the World Yet scientists led by famed microanalyst Dr Walter McCrone have proved the shroud to be a fake a medieval painting that can be easily duplicated today using the simplest of materials The painstaking investigation that led McCrone to this historic discovery is recounted here in Judgment Day for the Shroud of Turin one of only two books to scientifically and fully discount the shroud story Upon close examination even leading members of the Catholic Church had to agree with McCrone's findings which gained international attention when featured on the A E Television Network Told in fascinating detail with all the intrigue of a good mystery novel McCrone's memoir is a lasting contribution to shroud study one that occupied more than twenty years of the author's life      A Naval Encyclopædia, 1880      Furniture Manufacturer, 1927      Red Spike Bucklow, 2016-06-15 Blood rust lava wine the flush of passion and the glow of approaching night no color arrests our attention more than the color red Today it is the flag of danger and seduction of spirit and revolution but throughout nearly all of human history it has held a special place in our aesthetics In this book Spike Bucklow brings us into the heart of this fiery hue to better understand the unique powers it has had over us Bucklow takes us from a thirty four thousand year old shaman burial dress to the iPhone screen exploring the myriad of purposes we have put red to as well as the materials from which we have looked to harvest it And we have looked for it everywhere from insects to tree resin to tar to excitable gasses Bucklow also details how our pursuit of the color drove medieval alchemy and modern chemistry alike and he shows us red's many symbolic uses its association with earth blood and fire its coloring of caves and the throne rooms of goddesses as well as national flags fire trucks power grids and stoplights The result is a material and cultural history that makes one see this color afresh beating with vibrancy a crucial part of the
