Expanding Religion Miklós Tomka, 2011-01-27 Reiterated international comparative surveys offer evidences about developments of religion related scene in Central and Eastern Europe The present volume is the first one which presents an extensive and detailed cross national analysis of sociological data comparing extensively countries regions and denominations in the past two decades It displays achievements and shortages of a religious revival in the post communist region as well as religion s role in family life social responsibility and public commitment It proves the combination of de Christianization based on previous persecution of religion and an ongoing modernization and the rise and the transformation of religion In some countries popular religiosity of traditional social strata is dominant In other countries there is a visible transition from old and low strata religiosity to a more restricted but socially more influential religiosity of young middle and upper strata groups In final outcome the volume substantiates the growing public role of religion in Eastern and Central Europe as well as the distinct impact of religiosity on individual behaviour These results contradict the idea of an overwhelming secularization but argue for a more complex process overcoming the communist past
