Overseas Chinese Christians in Contemporary China Sin Wen Lau, 2020-08-25 Overseas Chinese Christians in Contemporary China explores how diasporic Chinese understandings of what it means to be Chinese are changing in post 1978 China Ethnographically it focuses on overseas Chinese Christian business people residing in Shanghai Hyper mobile well educated and financially secure these elites adopt a long term view of their time in the country This study examines how these elites put Christianity to work mediating their hopes fears and obligations in order to illuminate the ways in which this overseas Chinese experience departs from existing academic models of diasporic Chinese as either bridge builders or pragmatic capitalists By focusing on religion this study offers novel insights into how overseas Chinese are making a place for themselves in a globalising China

Traditional Chinese Medicine in the United States Emily S. Wu, 2013-06-06 Traditional Chinese medicine TCM originated from the traditional medical system in the Chinese civilization with influences from the Daoist and Chinese folk traditions in bodily cultivation and longevity techniques In the past few decades TCM has become one of the leading alternative medical systems in the United States This book demonstrates the fluidity of a medical ideological system with a rich history of methodological development and internal theoretical conflicts continuing to transform in our postmodern world where people and ideas transcend geographic ethnic and linguistic limitations The unique historical trajectories and cultural dynamics of the American society are critical nutrients for the localization of TCM while the constant traffic of travelers and immigrants foster the globalizing tendency of TCM The practitioners in this book represent an incredible range of clinical applications personal styles theoretical rationalizations and business models What really unifies all these practitioners is not their specific practices but the goal of these practices The shared goal is to strive for health not just health in terms of the lack of illness but the ultimate health of achieving perfect balance in every aspect of the being of a person physically mentally spiritually and energetically

Buddhism and Healing in the Modern World C. Pierce Salguero, Kin Cheung, Susannah Deane, 2024-09-30 This rich collection focuses on the nexus between Buddhism and healing in the modern and contemporary world highlighting the many ways Buddhists have adapted in response to and in dialogue with modern science biomedicine and other facets of modernity from the nineteenth century to today Buddhist healing activities are much more diverse than the narrow range of mindfulness techniques that have dominated scholarly and popular focus From the community based healing practices of Asian American Buddhists and transnational Tantric sex therapy retreats to concerns about balancing being contemporary with being authentically Buddhist contributors explore how Buddhists have rethought the mind body relationship against the backdrop of the modernization and globalization of Buddhism They examine Buddhists navigating the differences and commonalities that exist in their practice and modern systems of mental and physical healthcare paying attention to how they have negotiated shifting configurations of legitimacy authority and authenticity Through historical and ethnographic case studies the work details these ruptures and reconciliations in Japan Sri Lanka Tibet Korea and the United States in addition to mapping the transnational pathways of exchange as knowledge about Buddhism and medicine has traveled between Asia and the West Buddhism and Healing in the Modern World encompasses a wide range of Buddhist ideas about health and health seeking practices that remain a vital part of the everyday practice of modern Buddhism across the globe

Authentic Chinese Christianity Koen De Ridder, 2001 This volume intends to tackle two problems The first is the historical framework of imperialism until now widely applied by Western and Chinese scholars as an approach to the Christian evangelization movement in China The theological aspect of the missionary action is seldom taken into account nor is religion treated as an authentic human experience In this volume two authors try to place the position of the Christian mission in its broader context Scott Somers reflects on the changing image of the Japanese occupation in Taiwan based on protestant missionary sources Koen De Ridder discusses the early diplomatic contacts between China and Belgium and the position of the Belgian missionaries A second problem dealt with is that of the native Christians While Jessie Lutz attempts to sketch a profile of the Chinese Protestant evangelizers Jean Paul Wiest focuses his attention on the Roman Catholics among the Chinese Hakka minority Gary Tiedemann explains the material spiritual and political incentives for conversion among the inhabitants of North China paying special attention to the socio political profile of the converts In the contribution of Ann Heylen we return to Taiwan where we are offered a better understanding of the Protestant contribution to the study of the Min language Finally Karel Steenbrink describes the changing religious affiliation of assimilated Chinese in Indonesia during the period 1900 1942

Culture, Cognition, and Emotion in China's Religious Ethnic Minorities Rachel Sing-Kiat Ting, Louise Sundararajan, 2017-10-20 This study examines the suffering narratives of the Bimo and Christian religious communities of the Yi minority who reside in the remote mountains of Sichuan and Yunnan China respectively It is informed by the theoretical framework of ecological rationality which posits that religions influence and are influenced by cognitive styles that have co evolved with the ecological niche of a culture It was predicted and found that in times of adversity traditional religious communities differ in emotion expression causal attribution and help seeking behavior with far reaching ramifications for how they are uniquely vulnerable to the ravages of modernization The authors hope that the voices of the study participants heard through their harrowing narratives may inspire a deepened sensitivity to the plight of rural Chinese communities as China races to become a superpower in the global economy

The English Catalogue of Books ...: 1801-1836. Ed. and comp. by R.A. Peddie and Q. Waddington. 1914 ,1917 Religion and the New Immigrants Helen Rose Fuchs Ebaugh, 2000 New immigrants_those arriving since the Immigration Reform Act of 1965_have forever altered American culture and have been profoundly altered in turn Although the religious congregations they form are often a nexus of their negotiation between the old and new they have received little scholarly attention Religion and the New Immigrants fills this gap Growing out of the carefully designed Religion Ethnicity and the New Immigration Research project Religion and the New Immigrants combines in depth studies of thirteen congregations in the Houston area with seven thematic essays looking across their diversity The congregations range from Vietnamese Buddhist to Greek Orthodox a Zoroastrian center to a multi ethnic Assembly of God presenting an astonishing array of ethnicity and religious practice Common research questions and the common location of the congregations give the volume a unique comparative focus Religion and the New Immigrants is an essential reference for scholars of immigration ethnicity and American religion
