Sense-making: Problematizing Constructs of Literacy for 21st Century Education Marilyn J. Narey, Kelli Jo Kerry-Moran, 2021-03-15 This book is a rich yet highly accessible volume that details an exciting and much needed inquiry into the notion of literacy what it is why it is and how it might be framed most effectively for 21st century education The chapters unfold in a creative interplay of practice and theory Narey s insightful questioning into the socio historical cultural implications of literacy as empowerment establishes the critical context while Kerry Moran s examination of the burgeoning literacy landscape reveals challenges for teacher education Drawing upon classic and cutting edge theories Narey builds a provocative and powerful case for a 21st century construct of literacy as sense making sense as relative to the senses i e sight hearing and sense as making meaning Her innovative model of the literacy event opens up a range of potential foci for analysis and facilitates her teasing out of two critical areas for instruction sensory perception and aesthetic knowledge This theoretical sense making lens is applied to Kerry Moran s teacher education classroom as the authors reflect upon further development As a timely original and thought provoking work this slim volume of big ideas promises to be a valuable resource for teacher educators and other scholars who seek a clear and cohesive frame for literacy in 21st century education This is a very well written scholarly text that provides a new and important theory of 21st century literacy Narey s sketches of literacy as sense making are laid out in logical form building upon researched and referenced sources to ground her ideas and offering the reader information examples and new insights In addition to providing many significant perspectives underpinning her new theory Narey provides excellent historical and current explanations about literacy from highly respected researchers in the field The inclusion of a practical application of Narey s conceptual theoretical framework to Kerry Moran s example of an instructional unit in a teacher education course is helpful to understanding the theory in practice The references throughout the work are extensive comprehensive and very well documented This text Sense making Problematizing Constructs of Literacy for 21st Century Education contributes original thinking to the field of literacy and learning and would be an excellent resource for literacy and language professors or instructors in a post graduate or professional development program Penny Silvers Professor of Education Dominican University USA Making Sense Of Theory & Practice In Early Childhood: The Power Of Ideas Waller, Tim, Whitmarsh, Judy, Clarke, Karen, 2011-04-01 This title offers students an overview of a range of theoretical concepts some traditionally associated with early childhood and some less traditionally It aims to stimulate debate and to demonstrate how theoretical thinking can inform pedagogy and research

with innovative results

Assessing New Literacies Anne Burke, Roberta F. Hammett, 2009 New literacies globally popular among children and adolescents in and out of school contexts are challenging educators and institutions to rethink pedagogies As educators begin to embrace the pedagogical possibilities of multimodal texts and digital practices they are exploring the complexities of assessing these new literacies The essays in this book explore what it means to assess the sophisticated textual engagements of new literacies including reading and writing online social networking gaming multimodal composing and creating virtual identities Chapters offer practical examples of new literacies and examine how assessment provides insight into the diverse ways in which language is conceived valued and used to inform the literate lives of its twenty first century users Scholars and educators will find this collection full of rich understanding of the assessment concerns raised by new communication practices youth culture digital engagements and semiotic diversification

A Guided Reader for Secondary English David Stevens, 2012-08-21 The Guided Reader for Secondary English draws on extracts from the published work of some of the most influential education writers to provide insight guidance and clarity about key issues affecting Secondary English teachers The book brings together key extracts from classic and contemporary writing and contextualises these in both theoretical and practical terms The extracts are accompanied by a summary of the key ideas and issues raised questions to promote discussion and reflective practice and annotated further reading lists to extend thinking Taking a thematic approach and including a short introduction to each theme the chapters cover Theoretical models of curricular English The nature and structure of the Secondary School English curriculum Historical perspectives Texts and intertextuality The arts context for secondary English Assessment and evaluation Linguistic and cultural contexts Future possibilities and tensions Aimed at trainee and newly qualified teachers including those working towards Masters level qualifications as well as existing teachers this accessible but critically provocative text will be an essential resource for those that wish to deepen their understanding of Secondary English Education

The Space and Practice of Reading Chin Ee Loh, 2017-02-10 Mirroring worldwide debates on social class literacy rates and social change this study explores the intersection between reading and social class in Singapore one of the top scorers on the Programme for International Assessment PISA tests and questions the rhetoric of social change that does not take into account local spaces and practices This comparative study of reading practices in an elite school and a government school in Singapore draws on practice and spatial perspectives to provide critical insight into how taken for granted practices and spaces of reading can be in fact unacknowledged spaces of inequity Acknowledging the role of social class in shaping reading education is a start to reconfiguring current practices and spaces for more effective and equitable reading practices This book shows how using localized contextualized approaches sensitive to the home school national and global contexts can lead to more targeted policy and practice transformation in the area of reading instruction and intervention Chapters in the book include Becoming a Reader Home School Connections Singaporean Boys Constructing Global Literate Selves School Nation Connections
