On The Natural History Of Destruction:

On the Natural History of Destruction W.G. Sebald, 2011-06-22 W G Sebald completed this extraordinary important and controversial book before his untimely death in December 2001. It is a harrowing study of the devastation of German cities by Allied bombardment in World War II and an examination of the silence in German literature and culture about this unprecedented trauma. On the Natural History of Destruction is an essential and deeply relevant study of war and society suffering and amnesia. Like Sebald's novels, it is studded with meticulous observation, moments of black humour, and throughout the author's unmatched intelligence and humanity. W. G. Sebald in Context Uwe Schütte, 2023-09-07 The German academic and writer W G Sebald made an astounding ascent into the canon of world literature. In this volume, leading experts from both the English and the German speaking worlds explore his celebrated prose works published in the short span from 1996 to his premature death in 2001. Special attention is paid to Sebald's unpublished texts and books awaiting translation into English. The volume, illustrated with many unpublished archive images, scrutinizes the dual nature of Sebald's life and work located between Germany and England: academic and literary writing, vilification and idolization. Through nearly forty essays on a broad range of topics, W G Sebald in Context achieves a revision of our understanding of Sebald, defying many clichés about him. Particular attention is paid to the manifold ways in which Sebald's writings exerted a legacy far beyond literature, especially in the areas of art, cinema, and popular music.

German Wartime Memory, American Exceptionalism, and Post-Cold War Blockbuster Cinema Robert Pirro, 2025-08-29 This book excavates the diverse and mostly unnoticed political meanings made available to American and German audiences by the blockbuster films helmed by transplanted West German directors Roland Emmerich and Wolfgang Petersen. Through formal film analysis, broad consideration of American and German film criticism, and reflection on relevant political developments of the post-Cold War era, the book reveals how traces of Germany's experience of dictatorship and wartime destruction find inadvertent cinematic expression in ways that helped American and German moviegoers find orientation in the changed political and cultural landscape of a newly globalized world. To complement and deepen the analysis of the Hollywood output of Emmerich and Petersen, the book juxtaposes the creative product of these transplanted directors to examples of a converse cinematic phenomenon considered under the label American Babelsberg, which encompasses World War Two-themed films shot by American directors in Germany utilizing the production facilities at Babelsberg. Focus here is placed particularly on two high-profile cinematic releases of the aughts: Valkyrie (2008) and Inglourious Basterds (2009). The magnetic attraction to or nettlesome burden of World War Two memories on these directors of American Babelsberg and German Hollywood is explained in this book by the entwined histories of Germans and Americans, the different challenges of national self-definition and renewal they faced in the post-Cold War world, and their long-standing and ongoing transatlantic discourse of political ideas and cultural ideals. This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of film studies, politics, and popular culture.

and contemporary history W.G. Sebald Scott D. Denham, Mark Richard McCulloh, 2006 The series publishes monographs and edited volumes that showcase significant scholarly work at the various intersections that currently motivate interdisciplinary inquiry in German cultural studies Topics span all periods of German and German speaking lands and cultures from the local to the global with a special focus on demonstrating how various disciplines history musicology art history anthropology religious studies media studies political theory literary and cultural studies among others and new theoretical and methodological paradigms work across disciplinary boundaries to create knowledge and add to critical understanding in German studies broadly All works are in English Three to four new titles will be published annually The Blue Sapphire of the Mind Douglas E. Christie, 2012-12-04 There are no unsacred places the poet Wendell Berry has written There are only sacred places and desecrated places What might it mean to behold the world with such depth and feeling that it is no longer possible to imagine it as something separate from ourselves or to live without regard for its well being To understand the work of seeing things as an utterly involving moral and spiritual act Such questions have long occupied the center of contemplative spiritual traditions In The Blue Sapphire of the Mind Douglas E Christie proposes a distinctively contemplative approach to ecological thought and practice that can help restore our sense of the earth as a sacred place Drawing on the insights of the early Christian monastics as well as the ecological writings of Henry David Thoreau Aldo Leopold Annie Dillard and many others Christie argues that at the most basic level it is the quality of our attention to the natural world that must change if we are to learn how to live in a sustainable relationship with other living organisms and with one another He notes that in this uniquely challenging historical moment there is a deep and pervasive hunger for a less fragmented and more integrated way of apprehending and inhabiting the living world and for a way of responding to the ecological crisis that expresses our deepest moral and spiritual values Christie explores how the wisdom of ancient and modern contemplative traditions can inspire both an honest reckoning with the destructive patterns of thought and behavior that have contributed so much to our current crisis and a greater sense of care and responsibility for all living beings These traditions can help us cultivate the simple spacious awareness of the enduring beauty and wholeness of the natural world that will be necessary if we are to live with greater purpose and meaning and with less harm to our planet

Curricular and Architectural Encounters with W.G. Sebald Teresa Strong-Wilson, Ricardo L. Castro, Warren Crichlow, Amarou Yoder, 2022-12-30 This book engages with the writings of W G Sebald mediated by perspectives drawn from curriculum and architecture to explore the theme of unsettling complacency and confront difficult knowledge around trauma discrimination and destruction Moving beyond overly instrumentalist and reductive approaches the authors combine disciplines in a scholarly fashion to encourage readers to stretch their understandings of currere The chapters exemplify important timely and complicated conversations centred on ethical response and responsibility in order to imagine a more just and aesthetically experienced world In the analysis of BILDUNG as human formation the book illuminates the pertinent lessons to be learned from the works of Sebald and provokes further investigations into the questions of memory grief and limits of language Through its juxtaposition of curriculum and architecture and using the prose of Sebald as a prism the book revitalizes questions about education and ethics probes the unsettling of complacency and enables conversation around difficult knowledge and ethical responsibility as well as offering hope and resolve An important intervention in standard approaches to understanding currere this book provides essential context for scholars and educators with interests in the history of education curriculum architectural education and practice studies memory studies narrative research Sebaldian studies and educational philosophy

W.G. Sebald, 2016-08-09 This volume presents the work of internationally renowned scholars from Australia Germany Italy South Africa the UK and the US The focus on W G Sebald's writing as that of an expatriate author offers a fresh and productive approach to Sebald scholarship In one way or another all 28 essays in this innovative bi lingual collection take up the notion of Sebald's experience as an expatriate writer be it in the analysis of intertextual transmedial and generic border crossings on the exposure to the other and the experience of alterity on the question of identity construction and performance on affinities with other expatriate writers on the recurring topics of home exile dislocation and migration or on the continuing work of memory to work through and to preserve the consciousness of a destructive past that has informed the childhood as much as the adult life world of the author

Present Pasts Andreas Huyssen, 2003 This book analyzes the relation of public memory to history forgetting and selective memory in three late twentieth century cities that have confronted major social or political traumas Berlin Buenos Aires and New York

Planck Brandon R. Brown, 2015-05-01 In Planck Driven by Vision Broken by War Brandon R Brown interweaves the voices and writings of Planck his family and his contemporaries with many passages appearing in English for the first time to create a portrait of a groundbreaking physicist working in the midst of war

The War in the Empty Air Dagmar Barnouw, 2005-10-11 This book will provoke intellectually ideologically and emotionally loaded responses in the U S Germany and Israel Barnouw's critique of the enduringly narrow post Holocaust perspective on German guilt and the ensuing fixation on German remorse questions taboos that the political and cultural elites in those three countries would rather leave alone Barnouw makes us understand why the maintenance of a privileged memory of the Nazi period and World War II may not survive much longer Manfred Henningsen University of Hawai'i In Germany the reemergence of memories of wartime suffering is being met with intense public debate In the United States the recent translation and publication of Crabwalk by G 1 4nter Grass and The Natural History of Destruction by W G Sebald offer evidence that these submerged memories are surfacing Taking account of these developments Barnouw examines this debate about the validity and importance of German memories of war and the events that have occasioned it Steering her path between the notions of victim and perpetrator Barnouw seeks a place where acknowledgment of both the horror of Auschwitz and the suffering of the non Jewish Germans can together create a more complete historical remembrance for postwar generations

Impossible Speech Christopher P.

Hanscom,2024-03-26 In what ways can or should art engage with its social context Authors readers and critics have been preoccupied with this question since the dawn of modern literature in Korea Advocates of social engagement have typically focused on realist texts seeing such works as best suited to represent injustices and inequalities by describing them as if they were before our very eyes Christopher P Hanscom questions this understanding of political art by examining four figures central to recent Korean fiction film and public discourse the migrant laborer the witness to or survivor of state violence the refugee and the socially excluded urban precariat Instead of making these marginalized figures intelligible to common sense this book reveals the capacity of art to address the impossible speech of those who are not asked expected or allowed to put forward their thoughts yet who in so doing expand the limits of the possible Impossible Speech proposes a new approach to literature and film that foregrounds ostensibly nonpolitical or nonsensical moments challenging assumptions about the relationship between politics and art that locate the politics of the work in the representation of content understood in advance as being political Recasting the political as a struggle over the possibility or impossibility of speech itself this book finds the politics of a work of art in its power to confront the boundaries of what is sayable Bombs Away! ,2016-08-09

Prompted by recent challenges to and debates about the relative public silence concerning the effects of the Allied air war over Europe during World War II this collection of essays examines literary visual film and photography and institutional museums representations of the bombing of civilian targets predominantly in Germany The authors examine narrative strategies of both well known and relatively little known works as well as the moral and ideological presuppositions of the varied representations of the depredations of total war The introduction and afterword by the editors invite the readers to expand the contours and historical context of the debates about the German public discourse on the bombing war beyond the narrow confines of perpetrators and victims The volume will be of interest to literary scholars historians and the general reading public interested in warfare and its effects on civilian populations Cities and Literature Malcolm

Miles,2018-10-03 This book offers a critical introduction to the relation between cities and literature fiction poetry and literary criticism from the late eighteenth to twenty first centuries It examines examples of writing from Europe North America and post colonial countries juxtaposed with key ideas from urban cultural and critical theories Cities and Literature shows how literature frames real and imagined constructs and experiences of cities Arranged thematically each chapter offers a narrative which introduces a number of key thinkers and writers whose vision illuminates the prevailing idea of the city at the time The themes are extended or challenged by boxed cases of specific texts or images accompanied by short critical commentaries the structure provides readers with a map of the terrain enabling connections across time and place within manageable limits and offers elements of critical discussion to serve a growing number of university courses which involve the intersections of cities and literature This volume offers access to literature from an urban perspective for the social sciences and access to urbanism from a literary viewpoint It is an excellent resource for both undergraduate and postgraduate students in the fields of urban studies and English literature planning cultural and human geographies architecture cultural studies and cultural policy Misplaced Objects Silvia Spitta, 2009-07-01 When things move things change Starting from this deceptively simple premise Silvia Spitta opens a fascinating window onto the profound displacements and transformations that have occurred over the six centuries since material objects and human subjects began circulating between Europe and the Americas This extended reflection on the dynamics of misplacement starts with the European practice of collecting objects from the Americas into Wunderkammern literally cabinets of wonders Stripped of all identifying contexts these exuberant collections including the famous Real Gabinete de Historia Natural de Madrid upset European certainties forcing a reorganization of knowledge that gave rise to scientific inquiry and to the epistemological shift we call modernity In contrast cults such as that of the Virgin of Guadalupe arose out of the reverse migration from Europe to the Americas The ultimate marker of mestizo identity in Mexico the Virgin of Guadalupe is now fast crossing the U S Mexico border and miracles are increasingly being reported Misplaced Objects then concludes with the more intimate and familial collections and recollections of Cuban and Mexican American artists and writers that are contributing to the Latinization of the United States Beautifully illustrated and radically interdisciplinary Misplaced Objects clearly demonstrates that it is not the awed viewer but rather the misplaced object itself that unsettles our certainties allowing new meanings to emerge
