Some of the activities require the students to explore waterways of the United States and how they are connected. These activities are best suited for use with upper elementary and middle school classes.

Paddle-to-the-Sea. Written and Illustrated by H. C. Holling, 1941 Lake Nipigon Nancy Scott, 2015-01-03. The natural history of Lake Nipigon, the primary watershed feeding the Great Lakes, is explored, as well as the evolving human history of the area from its aboriginal prehistory through first European contact, the fur trade era, resource development, and ultimately to the communities that exist there today. Great Lakes Chronicle Wisconsin Coastal Management, 2018-10-02. Lakes Superior and Michigan have long played a vital role in shaping our state's history, culture, and economy. For forty years, the Wisconsin Coastal Management Program has collaborated with governments and nonprofit organizations to preserve and protect this crucial resource, and since 2002 has promoted public awareness of issues affecting the lakes in its annual Wisconsin Great Lakes Chronicle. Great Lakes Chronicle: Essays on Coastal Wisconsin brings together more than one hundred articles by coastal management practitioners, providing a broad perspective on issues affecting Wisconsin's Great Lakes shorelines and advocating for the wise and balanced use of our coastal environment for the benefit of people now and in the future. The Runyaker's Journey Riley McLincha, 2014-02-05. The Runyaker's Journey is a story of two journeys. The first, the Horseshoe to Horseshoe Runyaking Expedition, a solo adventure of paddling and running 1400 miles from Oxford, MI to Niagara Falls, ON. The journey took fifty-seven days over four summers, using a 9.5 ft kayak he calls Swiftee. Secondly, it's the vehicle used to tell the Runyaker's life journey, which is that of a true-to-life Forrest Gump-like character, a boy growing up in Little Chicago, a run-down rural area near Clio, MI. Despite having slim chances of succeeding, he grows into a man that accomplished many remarkable things. Becoming Kin Patty Krawec, 2022-09-27. We find our way forward by going back. The invented history of the Western world is crumbling fast. Anishinaabe writer Patty Krawec says, but we can still honor the bonds between us. Settlers dominated and divided, but Indigenous peoples won't just send them all home. Weaving her own story with the story of her ancestors and with the broader themes of creation, replacement, and disappearance, Krawec helps readers see settler colonialism through the eyes of an Indigenous writer. Settler colonialism tried to force us into one particular way of living, but the old ways of kinship can help us imagine a different future. Krawec asks, What would it look like to remember that we are all related? How might we become better relatives to the land, to one another, and to Indigenous movements for solidarity? Braiding together historical, scientific, and cultural analysis, Indigenous ways of knowing, and the vivid threads of communal memory Krawec crafts a stunning forceful call to unforget our history This remarkable sojourn through Native and settler history myth identity and spirituality helps us retrace our steps and pick up what was lost along the way chances to honor rather than violate treaties to see the land as a relative rather than a resource and to unravel the history we have been taught Ecospatiality Lowell Wyse,2021-07-15 John Steinbeck s Salinas Valley Richard Wright s Chicago Leslie Marmon Silko s New Mexico Readers often have strong connections with literary places like these And some works of literature can even change our understanding of the world we live in But can place also change our view of literature Site Reading advances a place based approach to literature reading classic texts through the twin lenses of geographical awareness and environmental thought This book highlights recent developments in ecocriticism and geocriticism to argue for a theory of ecospatiality with nature space and story as the three elements of place Site Reading reconsiders well known works of twentieth century American prose and shows how social and environmental issues always overlap Travel writer William Least Heat Moon whose work embodies the ecospatial perspective portrays his experiences with place on the local regional and continental scales Classic novels by Silko Willa Cather and Ana Castillo usually discussed in isolation converge in a way that maps diverse cultural perspectives and environmental threats onto the shared geography of Central New Mexico A reading of Steinbeck s Salinas Valley Watershed texts investigates the impacts of literary tourism in Steinbeck Country before drilling down into Steinbeck s portrayals of spatial development and environmental history And an innovative analysis of Native Son shows how Richard Wright uses cartographic details to decry the spatial racial politics of South Side Chicago in the 1930s In this book Lowell Wyse shows how place provides the grounds for both human experience and critical practice By bringing together concepts like literary cartography deep mapping and bioregionalism in an ecospatial approach Site Reading not only maps new terrain between ecocriticism and geocriticism but also shows why place matters in the world and in the text Toy Stories Tanya Jones,2017-04-25 Toys those celebrated childhood cohorts and lead actors in children s imaginative play have a fantastic history of heroism in fiction From teddy bears that guard sleeping babies to plastic soldiers and cowboys who lay siege to wooden block castles toys are often the heroes of the stories children inspire authors to tell In this collection of new essays scholars from a great range of disciplines examine fictional toys as protectors of the children they love as heroes of their own stories and as champions for the greater good in the writings of A A Milne Hans Christian Andersen William Joyce John Lasseter and many others From Sea to Shining Sea the Story of America Teacher's Edition , Sustainable Land Sector Development in Northern Australia Jeremy Russell-Smith,Glenn James,Howard Pedersen,Kamaljit K. Sangha,2018-09-03 Key Features Provides clear and authoritative recommendations for managing fire in ecological and social contexts Authors are all international leaders in their fields and include not only academics but also leaders of Indigenous communities Explains Indigenous cultural and knowledge systems to a degree that has rarely been accessible to lay and academic readers outside specialized disciplines like Anthropology

Responds to growing need for new approaches to managing human ecological systems that are in greater sympathy with Australia's natural environments climate and value the knowledge of Indigenous people Timely for scholarly and interest groups intervention as the Australian government is again looking to develop the north Sustainable Land Sector Development in Northern Australia sets out a vision for developing North Australia based on a culturally appropriate and ecologically sustainable land sector economy This vision supports both Indigenous cultural responsibilities and aspirations as well as enhancing enterprise opportunities for society as a whole In the past well meaning if often misguided policy agendas have failed and continue to fail North Australians This book helps breach that gap by acknowledging and harnessing Indigenous cultural strengths and knowledge systems for looking after the country and its people as part of a smart novel and diversified ecosystem services economy
