Public Policy in a New Key Amitai Etzioni, Public Policy in a New Key brings together important contributions by a major social analyst on some of the most crucial policy questions of our time Amitai Etzioni brings to these issues not only a lifetime study of sociology and its sister social sciences but a critical commitment to societal change firmly rooted in democratic values and the ethics of social responsibility Although these writings half of which appear here for the first time range widely over the spectrum of domestic and foreign policy questions they are linked by a broadly conceived vision of sociological method that acts as a universal key to many social issues Etzioni defines his approach to policy analysis as a macrosociology that deals with society in terms of its large scale constituting units and their combinations His method is flexible and superbly attuned to the dynamics of change that underlie the contexts of each issue treated here Key Actors in Public Policy-making for Quality of Life Graciela Tonon, 2022-04-27 This book analyzes how quality of life research results can be transferred to policy making and considers the role of actors in this process researchers policy makers and citizens as well as their interrelationships This book points to the need to include actors other than the state in public policy making related to quality of life and well being issues in defining problems and formulating alternatives It identifies obstacles and facilitators in the process and offers a review of different types of aid that affect well being and quality of life Finally it shows possible pathways for various stakeholders in policy making to interact with one another in the building of good societies

Law in a New Key Amitai Etzioni, 2010-12-01 A book for thoughtful readers and not particularly lawyers or scholars of law and society who are engaged in the issues of the day and want something other than easy answers from the right and left Most issues of law and social policy can be understood better through a lens that balances rights and interests and protects all of us while protecting each of us says renowned communitarian sociologist Amitai Etzioni in his latest of 30 books In Law in a New Key Etzioni addresses hot bed issues of terrorism drone warfare airport security and scanners government surveillance norms of social disapproval and forgiveness human rights and respect for ethnic cultural differences He shares his perspective as one who has fought in a resistance and then later became a professor at Columbia University and The George Washington University The perspective and his decades of academic research persuaded him that the answer to thorny legal and policy issues is found neither in unyielding devotion to individual rights at all costs nor in reflexive empowerment of the state in times of crisis and pain The answer is in moral dialogs respect for the basic right to life and security responsible checks on power and a balancing of interests that all must be seen as legitimate in a world of pundits and partisans who favor one right What good is the right to privacy if the basic right to live is sacrificed as the right holder is blown out of the sky If new technologies make it possible to conduct terrorism and crime without the law catching up to them What happens when respect for one religious position means choosing among religious positions A collection of 15 trenchant essays drawn from the popular press and academic journals yet accessible to a spectrum of readers who care about the key issues of the day and see the complexity in them Law in a New Key takes a fresh look at so many important topics that need examination through a community concerned lens The frame gives contours and substance to today s debates without offering the usual entrenched policy solutions of kneejerk partisans Etzioni asks such questions frankly and on a variety of topics that matter Rights carry responsibilities and freedom and human rights must put living first in a world that does not always concede that self evident proposition It is book about law and society whose time has come For many readers the social and legal notes he plays will finally sound in their register Community Organizing and Community Building for Health Meredith Minkler,2005 Handbook of Public Policy Implementation Fritz Sager,Céline Mavrot,Lael R.
