Morris, Martin K. Mayer, Robert C. Kenter, R. Bruce Anderson, 2021-09-12 Policy Making and Southern Distinctiveness examines the uniqueness of southern politics and their policy choices While decades of scholarship on the politics of the American South have focused on partisanship and electoral outcomes as the primary elements of interest in southern politics few works have focused on the more practical outcomes of these political processes specifically comparing state policy choices of southern states to non southern states This book examines six different policy arenas voting access gun control health care

reproductive rights water and COVID 19 pandemic response comparing policy choices in states in the South with states in the non South The authors find that the South is distinct in several but not all of the policy arenas examined They conclude that the South as a region is unique because of the exceptional degree of one party control evident in the South coupled with a long standing preoccupation with partisanship and race based politics Policy Making and Southern Distinctiveness provides valuable insights into how and why states behave in the manner they do and where southern states may diverge from the rest of the country It will be of interest to scholars of southern politics state comparative policy public policy American politics and federalism intergovernmental relations The Australian Policy Handbook Catherine Althaus, Sarah Ball, Peter Bridgman, Glyn Davis, David Threlfall, 2022-12-21 The seventh edition of this classic handbook on the policy process is fully updated featuring new material on policy making amid local and global disruption the contestable nature of modern policy advice commissioning and contracting public engagement and policy success and failure The Australian Policy Handbook shows how public policy permeates every aspect of our lives It is the stuff of government justifying taxes driving legislation and shaping our social services Public policy gives us roads railways and airports emergency services justice education and health services defence industry development and natural resource management While politicians make the decisions public servants provide analysis and support for those choices This updated edition includes new visuals and introduces a series of case studies for the first time These cases covering family violence behavioural economics justice reinvestment child protection and more illustrate the personal and professional challenges of policymaking practice Drawing on their extensive practical and academic experience the authors outline the processes used in making public policy They systematically explain the relationships between political decision makers public service advisers community participants and those charged with implementation The Australian Policy Handbook remains the essential guide for students and practitioners of policy making in Australia
