Public Services Through Private Enterprise Microprivatisation For Improved Delivery:

Public Services Through Private Enterprise Malcolm Harper, 2000 Cigarettes and soft drinks are available in just about every village in the developing world clean water primary education and health services are not The main reason for this paradoxical and tragic situation is the failure to deliver public services especially in the face of growing populations What is more the supply of essential services in most developing countries is grossly inequitable those who need them the most are the least able to afford them This important book suggests a strategy to overcome what appears to be an otherwise hopeless situation micro privatization Governments can hand over responsibility for many public services to small private or community enterprises The quality efficiency and outreach of the services are considerably improved and the costs significantly reduced To illustrate the efficacy of this strategy Malcolm Harper presents twenty four real life case studies from Asia Africa and Latin America the USA and Europe which amply demonstrate that micro privatization is practical anywhere The activities covered by these examples of successful initiatives include urban services utilities agricultural services health and hygiene transport welfare and education

Contracting for Public Services Penelope J. Brook, Suzanne Smith, 2001-01-01 A new book published by the World Bank's Private Sector Advisory Services outlines an innovative approach to delivering development assistance for public basic services such as potable water safe sanitation modern energy and primary education and healthcare Called output based aid the approach delegates service delivery to the non profit or for profit private sector under contracts that tie payments to the outputs or results actually delivered to target beneficiaries The book gathers cases of innovative output based approaches from across the infrastructure and social sectors and also provides a checklist for designing and implementing output based schemes From the World Bank website

Constructing Development Bjorn Harald Nordtveit, 2009-08-24 Former World Bank education specialist Bjorn Nordtveit argues in this groundbreaking study that a development project or policy should not be understood and analyzed as a linear system Instead he believes we should view it as a complex and dialectical organism Basing his theories on post development and complexity theories as well as New Institutional Economics Nordtveit lays out a novel method of analyzing development both on the ground and in the think tank Informed by detailed quotations from interviews with local people involved in a World Bank literacy project in Senegal the author demonstrates how a project is entangled in the global economy and how it constructs development through a discourse of gender equity growth of the civil society and promotion of the use of private provision of social services Nordtveit's new analytical methodology claims it is necessary for all development initiatives to first investigate whether the donors vision of development coincides with national and local notions of development Only then can the holistic and complex interrelations between the project and all other development desires and services in the community be studied Finally the project's cost effectiveness must be considered The author also examines the strengths and weaknesses of public private partnerships which are being used ever more frequently by donor agencies to implement social services Constructing Development is a tour de force Going back and forth between the global and the local it examines a World Bank women s literacy project in Senegal through a critical and integrated discussion of education and development globalization gender civil society and privatization Nordtveit offers an insightful and innovative critique of development theory and practice drawing on new authors and fields such as Complexity Theory His book is a must read across a number of fields including comparative and international education adult education gender studies and economic development Steven J Klees Former President Comparative and International Education Society Harold R W Benjamin Professor of International and Comparative Education University of Maryland

Urban Livelihoods Tony Lloyd-Jones,Carole Rakodi,2014-10-14 One of the most promising approaches to poverty reduction in developing countries is to encourage sustainable livelihoods for the poor This takes account of their opportunities and assets and the sources of their vulnerability Based on recent and extensive research this volume thoroughly assesses the value of the livelihoods approach to urban poverty The book reviews the situation and strategies of the urban poor and identifies the policies and practical programmes that work best Lasting improvements depend not just on economic development but on political commitment and structures that are responsive to the claims and needs of different groups of poor people

Social Citizenship in the Shadow of Competition Bronwen Morgan,2017-11-30 Social Citizenship in the Shadow of Competition explores how economic concepts and tools are reshaping regulatory law Building on studies that link law both institutionally and discursively to the legitimation of economic neo liberalism the book charts lawmakers attempts to justify social welfare regulation in the language imposed by economic theory It presents new qualitative findings from an ambitious regulatory reform programme targeting over 1 700 pieces of legislation Bronwen Morgan argues that the interplay between economic discourse and lawmaking does not destroy the possibility of social citizenship however the subsequent regulatory conversations frequently silence or weaken the claims of vulnerable groups Thus even when vulnerable groups secure instrumental success economic conceptions of bureaucratic rationality impoverish their capacity to express certain kinds of intangible values and aspirations To expand or retain social citizenship requires that we learn to conceive of what matters in political economy without relying on the logic of utility or other instrumental rationalities      Sociology and Social Anthropology in India Yogesh Atal,2009 The Indian Council of Social Science Research the premier organization for social science research in India conducts periodic surveys in the major disciplines of the social sciences to assess disciplinary developments as well as to identify gaps in research in these disciplines      The Indian Journal of Public Administration ,2006      Cleaner Production and Industrial Ecology Leenard Willem Baas,Leo Baas,2005      Alternative Publishers of Books in North America ,2001      Yojana ,2002      Indian Books in Print ,2003      Journal of Social and Economic Development ,2006 With reference to India      Productivity ,2002      Social Action ,2000      Indian National Bibliography Bellary Shamanna Kesavan,2000-06      The State of Iraq Cities Report, 2006/2007 Iraq.
