Understanding Chinese Multilingual Scholars' Experiences of Writing and Publishing in English Congjun Mu, 2020-01-22

This book analyses the English writing and publishing experiences of 118 scholars from 18 Chinese universities from a social cognitive perspective. It addresses the challenges and strategies multilingual scholars, particularly Chinese academics, reported in the process of writing and publishing in English. This allows the author to present a taxonomy of journal article writing strategies that correspond to the lived experiences of scholars in China but which can also be applied to other contexts in the world. This book offers a step by step analysis of ethnographic case studies, insights and implications for teaching practice as well as suggested directions for future research. It will be of particular interest to scholars in the fields of ERPP, English for Research Publication Purposes as well as students and scholars of applied linguistics more broadly.

English for Research Publication Purposes Karen Englander, James Corcoran, 2019-02-21. Scholars who use English as an additional language confront challenges when disseminating their research in the global market of knowledge production dominated by English. English for Research Publication Purposes analyses the experiences and practices of these scholars across the globe and presents critical plurilingual pedagogies as a theoretically and empirically informed means of supporting them. This book draws on an empirical study of a Latin American university's effort to mount a course that provides support to emerging and established scholars who use English as an additional language. Brings theoretically informed discussions of critical pedagogies, plurilingualism and identity affirmation to better serve plurilingual scholars who seek to publish their research in English language journals. Provides examples of classroom activities that can be adapted and adopted to local contexts and realities in a curriculum based on critical plurilingual pedagogies. Proposes future directions for research into the internationally urgent growing concerns of global scholars who produce English medium academic knowledge for the world stage. Incisive and cutting edge. English for Research Publication Purposes will be key reading for academics and upper level students working in the areas of ESP, EAP, ERPP and Applied Linguistics.

Publishing Research in English as an Additional Language Margaret Cargill, Sally Burgess, 2017-07-13. Many universities worldwide now require established and novice scholars as well as PhD students to publish in English in international journals. This growing trend gives rise to multiple interrelated questions which this volume seeks to address through the perspectives of a group of researchers and practitioners who met in Coimbra, Portugal in 2015 for the PRISEAL and MET conferences. The volume offers truly global coverage with chapters focusing on vastly different geo-social areas and disciplines from the humanities to the hard sciences. It will be of interest to applied linguists, particularly those working in the area of English for Research Publication Purposes and to language professionals working in research writing support, research supervision and academic publishing as well as to journal editors and managers.
