Women Ethnographers and Native Women Storytellers Susan Berry Brill de Ramírez, 2015-11-19 This book focuses on the collaborative work between Native women storytellers and their female ethnographers and or editors but the book is also about what it is that is constitutive of scientific rigor factual accuracy cultural authenticity and storytelling signification and meaning Regardless of discipline academic ethnographers who conducted their field work research during the twentieth century were trained in the accepted scientific methods and theories of the time that prescribed observation objectivity and evaluative distance In contradistinction to such prescribed methods regarding the ethnographic work conducted among Native Americans it turns out that the intersubjectively relational work of women both ethnographers and the Indigenous storytellers with whom they worked has produced far more reliably factual historically accurate and tribally specific Indigenous autobiographies than the more scientifically objective approaches of most of the male ethnographers This volume provides a close lens to the work of a number of women ethnographers and Native American women storytellers to elucidate the effectiveness of their relational methods Through a combined rhetorical and literary analysis of these ethnographies we are able to differentiate the products of the women's working relationships By shifting our focus away from the surface level textual reading that largely approaches the texts as factually informative documents literary analysis provides access into the deeper levels of the storytelling that lies beneath the surface of the edited texts Non Native scholars and editors such as Franc Johnson Newcomb Ruth Underhill Nancy Lurie Julie Cruikshank and No l Bennett and Native storytellers and writers such as Grandma Klah Mar a Chona Mountain Wolf Woman Mrs Angela Sidney Mrs Kitty Smith Mrs Annie Ned and Tiana Bighorse help us to understand that there are ways by which voices and worlds are more and less disclosed for posterity The results vary based upon the range of factors surrounding their production but consistent across each case is the fact that informational accuracy is contingent upon the the degree of mutual respect and collaboration in the women s working relationships And it is in their pioneering intersubjective methodologies that the work of these women deserves far greater attention and approbation Meeting the Standards Mary E. Haas, Margaret A. Laughlin, 1997 This volume expands upon the ten thematic strands for social studies standards identified by the National Council for the Social Studies by providing readings for each of thematic strands

Craddock Stories Fred B Craddock, 2001-06-01 One of the things that makes Fred Craddock s sermons so compelling is his masterful use of storytelling but until now few of his stories have ever been published This collection offers for the first time hundreds of Craddock stories told in his own words and a glimpse of his life Imagery & Creativity Dorothea S. Whitten, 1993 From pottery to story to carnivals various forms of artistic expression from the Americas can be shown to reflect universal human imagery and creativity In this collection contributors from a variety of disciplines utilize an ethnoaesthetic perspective to place art forms within their cultural and social milieus and address the problem of understanding culturally patterned creative expressions caught up in organized art worlds The book presents an array of contemporary and ancient arts of North Central and South America and the Caribbean ranging from the cultural heritage of the Central Andes and Mesoamerica to contemporary peoples who share a legacy of colonial domination such as Native American artists of Canada and the American Southwest the Saramaka Maroons of Suriname Trinidadian Carnival designers and the Canelos Quichua of Amazonian Ecuador Approaches used by the authors include a general survey of the arts of a region an intensive study of the aesthetic genres and styles of a culture an examination of the historical and ethnohistorical features of artistic and cultural hegemony and a reconstruction of life histories in cultural context Throughout the book the authors seek to combine respect for the local level creation and production of art narrative and performance with an understanding of macro level institutional manifestations of art world domination and hegemony Together they show that these diverse art forms reflect universal human imagery and creativity that persist through time and communicate across cultural barriers Feminist Messages Joan Newlon Radner, 1993 Burning dinners stitching scandalous quilts talking hard in the male dominated world of rap music Feminist Messages interprets such acts as instances of coding or covert expressions of subversive or disturbing ideas While coding may be either deliberated or unconscious it is a common phenomenon in women s stories art and daily routines Because it is essentially ambiguous coding protects women from potentially dangerous responses from those who might be troubled by their messages
