Punching Out Other Writings:

Selected Essays and Other Writings of John Donald Wade John Donald Wade, 2010-12-01 One of the most important of the Southern magazines in the 1920s was The Fugitive a magazine of verse and brief commentaries on literature in general Among its contributors were John Crowe Ransom Allen Tate Robert Penn Warren Donald Davidson and Merrill Moore Publication began in April 1922 and ended in December 1925 Soon thereafter the Fugitive writers and some others became profoundly concerned with the materialism of American life and its effect upon the South The group became known as Agrarians Their thinking and discussion culminated in a symposium I'll Take My Stand published in 1930 In his first two lectures Davidson describes the underlying nature and aims of the Fugitive and Agrarian movements He brings to the discussion his intimate and thorough knowledge of Southern life and letters The third lecture deals with the place of the writer in the modern university posing the questions of whether the writer needs the university and whether the university needs or wants the writer

Wobblies and Zapatistas Staughton Lynd, Andrej Grubačić, 2008-09-01 Wobblies and Zapatistas offers the reader an encounter between two generations and two traditions Andrej Grubačić is an anarchist from the Balkans Staughton Lynd is a lifelong pacifist influenced by Marxism They meet in dialogue in an effort to bring together the anarchist and Marxist traditions to discuss the writing of history by those who make it and to remind us of the idea that my country is the world Encompassing a Left libertarian perspective and an emphatically activist standpoint these conversations are meant to be read in the clubs and affinity groups of the new Movement The authors accompany us on a journey through modern revolutions direct actions antiglobalist counter summits Freedom Schools Zapatista cooperatives Haymarket and Petrograd Hanoi and Belgrade intentional communities wildcat strikes early Protestant communities Native American democratic practices the Workers Solidarity Club of Youngstown occupied factories self organized councils and soviets the lives of forgotten revolutionaries Quaker meetings antiwar movements and prison rebellions Neglected and forgotten moments of interracial self activity are brought to light The book invites the attention of readers who believe that a better world on the other side of capitalism and state bureaucracy may indeed be possible

Incarcerating the Crisis Jordan T. Camp, 2016-04-18 The United States currently has the largest prison population on the planet Over the last four decades structural unemployment concentrated urban poverty and mass homelessness have also become permanent features of the political economy These developments are without historical precedent but not without historical explanation In this searing critique Jordan T. Camp traces the rise of the neoliberal carceral state through a series of turning points in U.S. history including the Watts insurrection in 1965 the Detroit rebellion in 1967 the Attica uprising in 1971 the Los Angeles revolt in 1992 and events in post Katrina New Orleans in 2005 Incarcerating the Crisis argues that these dramatic events coincided with the emergence of neoliberal capitalism and the state's attempts to crush radical social movements Through an examination of the poetic visions of social movements including those by James Baldwin Marvin Gaye June Jordan Jos Ram rez and Sunni Patterson it also suggests that alternative outcomes have been and continue to be possible Prefiguring the Idea of the University for a Post-Capitalist Society Gary Saunders, 2023-12-06 Using an Open Marxist theoretical framework this book provides a critique of the neoliberal reforms made to higher education since the late 1970s and the impact this has had on the sector Rather than arguing for a return to the idea of the public university the book argues that public and private models of higher education are both forms of capitalist accumulation and have historically perpetuated forms of oppression exploitation and discrimination thus a more radical solution that addresses both the current crisis of higher education and the contradictory and exploitative nature of late capitalism is required This book critically examines the autonomous learning spaces that emerged out of the UK student protests 2009 2010 and documents what can be learned from them to prefigure the idea of the university for a post capitalist society leaders and forming authentic class struggle unions rooted in sabotage direct action and striking to achieve concrete gains

This is the first book to compile workers struggles on a global basis examining the formation and expansion of radical unions in the Global South and Global North The tangible evidence marshaled in this book serves as a handbook for understanding the formidable obstacles and concrete opportunities for workers challenging neoliberal capitalism even as the unions of the
