Pure State Of Nature Sacred Cows Destructive Myths And The Environment:

The Pure State of Nature David Horton, 2020-07-29 Aborigines did not cause the extinction of the megafauna and it is unlikely that they have caused the extinction of any element of the fauna and flora If you want to practise controlled burning in order to protect houses or farms then do it in the same way as you would use a bulldozer to clear a firebreak but don't pretend that you are doing anything but damage to the environment If you commercialise an environmental resource you do so to make money Don't pretend that it also benefits the environment Spanning fifty thousand years and an entire continent The Pure State of Nature presents a passionate account of the Australian environment The myths that abound in popular and scientific writing the theories and fancies about the place of humans in the ecology of this vast landmass are subjected to scrutiny In particular the author demolishes the widely accepted orthodoxy about the use of fire by Aborigines and their supposed part in the extinction of the Australian megafauna From the ruins of those myths The Pure State of Nature offers lessons for the new millennium In turns provocative humorous impassioned and gentle this is a bold book of ideas about the past and present a book about how we can shape the future To The Pure State of Nature Dr David Horton brings many years experience as scientist farmer and archaeologist Among his publications are Recovering the Tracks and The Encyclopaedia of Aboriginal Australia He now writes and consults from his stud sheep farm in New South Wales

Aboriginal Environmental Knowledge Catherine Laudine, 2016-09-17 Whilst there are popular ideas about which champion Aboriginal environmental knowledge many of these are based more on romantic notions than on any detailed understanding of what might be the content of this knowledge This book is based on a grounded and broad assessment of less well known details of Aboriginal knowledge and provides both a great deal of detail and a new assessment of rituals and practices Aboriginal environmental knowledge is examined here as an integrated source of both religious and scientific knowledge An important finding is that Aboriginal environmental knowledge also includes knowledge about education for attitudes considered appropriate for survival Though evidence for this is readily available in the literature it has not been part of current depictions of Aboriginal environmental knowledge

An Environmental History of Australian Rainforests until 1939 Warwick Frost, 2020-06-10 This book provides a comprehensive environmental history of how Australia's rainforests developed the influence of Aborigines and pioneers farmers and loggers and of efforts to protect rainforests to help us better understand current issues and debates surrounding their conservation and use While interest in rainforests and the movement for their conservation are often mistakenly portrayed as features of the last few decades the debate over human usage of rainforests stretches well back into the nineteenth century In the modern world rainforests are generally considered the most attractive of the ecosystems being seen as lush vibrant immense mysterious spiritual and romantic Rainforests hold a special place both providing a direct link to Gondwanaland and the dinosaurs and today being the home of endangered species and highly rich in biodiversity They are also a critical part of Australia's heritage Indeed large areas of Australian rainforests are now covered by World Heritage Listing However they also represent a dissonant heritage What exactly constitutes rainforest how it should be managed and used and how much should be protected are all issues which remain hotly contested Debates around rainforests are particularly dominated by the contradiction of competing views and uses seeing rainforests either as untapped resources for agriculture and forestry versus valuing and preserving them as attractive and sublime natural wonders Australia fits into this global story as a prime example but is also of interest for its aspects that are exceptional including the intensity of clearing at certain periods and for its place in the early development of national parks This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Environmental History Australian History and Comparative History

Indigenous Peoples and the Collaborative Stewardship of Nature Anne Ross, Kathleen Pickering Sherman, Jeffrey G Snodgrass, Henry D Delcore, Richard Sherman, 2016-09-17 Involving Indigenous peoples and traditional knowledge into natural resource management produces more equitable and successful outcomes Unfortunately argue Anne Ross and co authors even many progressive methods fail to produce truly equal partnerships This book offers a comprehensive and global overview of the theoretical methodological and practical dimensions of co management The authors critically evaluate the range of management options that claim to have integrated Indigenous peoples and knowledge and then outline an innovative alternative model of co management the Indigenous Stewardship Model They provide detailed case studies and concrete details for application in a variety of contexts Broad in coverage and uniting robust theoretical insights with applied detail this book is ideal for scholars and students as well as for professionals in resource management and policy

Inferno Roger Franklin, 2010 In the words of Roger Franklin fire can be a curious wonderful thing On February 7 2009 however there was nothing wonderful about the flames that engulfed Victoria killing 173 people and reducing several towns to dust Franklin s book INFERNO THE DAY VICTORIA BURNED is the first to explore the horrors of the day that will forever be known as Black Saturday Not only does the author explain what happened that day individual heroism unimaginable tragedy tales of towns all but wiped off the map but also why it happened The author examines the roles of the Victorian government the CFA and the local councils that were so determined to protect roadside vegetation He analyses the pros and cons of preventive burning questions the merits of the state s controversial stay or go policy and delves into the mind of an arsonist Through it all there is a clear message failure was everywhere on Black Saturday With bushfires a constant threat in Australian life Franklin cites many important lessons that need to be learned if such a disaster is to be avoided in the future

Ecocritical Concerns and the Australian Continent Beate Neumeier,Helen Tiffin,2019-11-08 Ecocritical Concerns and the Australian Continent investigates literary historical anthropological and linguistic perspectives in connection with activist engagements The necessary cross fertilization between these different perspectives throughout this volume emerges in the resonances between essays exploring recurring concerns ranging from biodiversity and preservation policies to the devastating effects of the mining industries to present concerns and futuristic visions of the effects of climate change Of central concern in all of these contexts is the impact of settler colonialism and an increasing turn to indigenous knowledge systems A number of chapters engage with questions of ecological imperialism in relation to specific sociohistorical moments and effects probing early colonial encounters between settlers and indigenous people or rereading specific forms of colonial literature Other essays take issue with past and present constructions of indigeneity in different contexts as well as with indigenous resistance against such ascriptions while the importance of an understanding of indigenous notions of care for country is taken up from a variety of different disciplinary angles in terms of interconnectedness anchoredness living country and living heritage The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Indigenous Australia and New Guinea Ian J.

a general audience The First Wave brings together a variety of contributions from thought provoking writers including both original research and creative work Our contributors explore the dynamics of these early encounters from Indigenous cosmological perspectives and European history of ideas from representations in art and literature to the role of animals food and fire in mediating first contact encounters and Indigenous agency in exploration and shipwrecks The First Wave includes poetry by Yankunytjatjara Aboriginal poet Ali Cobby Eckermann fiction by Miles Franklin award winning Noongar author Kim Scott and Danielle Clode and an account of the arrival of Christian missionaries in the Torres Strait Islands by Torres Strait political leader George Mye
