1. Personal injury/property damage (ie physical damage)	This is when the claimant's person or property is damaged, eg a broken arm or a damaged car. Such losses do not usually pose any problems at the duty of care stage.
2. Consequential economic loss	Economic loss consequent on physical damage, eg a lost salary because of a broken leg.
3. Pure economic loss	Economic loss that arises where there has been no damage to the claimant's property or injury to their person.
4. Psychiatric damage	When the claimant suffers psychiatric damage – the precise definition is not explored in this element.

Head of claim	Type of loss	Duty
Damaged metal	Physical damage (property damage)	A duty of care was owed in respect of the property damage and it was recoverable.
Loss of profit on damaged metal	Consequential economic loss (loss of profit was a direct consequence of the property damage)	A duty of care was owed in respect of the consequential economic loss and it was recoverable.
Loss of profit on the four further melts	Pure economic loss (economic loss which did not result from any damage to the claimant's property or persons. This loss resulted from damage to the electricity cables which belonged to a third party)	No duty of care was owed in respect of the pure economic loss and it was not recoverable. Note that if the claimant had owned the electricity cables, this would have been consequential economic loss and therefore recoverable.

When there is no damage to the claimant's property or injury to their person. (All not usually recoverable)

Three tests created for establishing duty of care (Hedley byrne v bauer)

3. Defective advice
 One must be satisfied
 (Murphy v Brentwood district council)

1. Reasonable reliance

 - special relationship between them
 - special knowledge held by the defendant
 - special skill or knowledge held by the claimant

Exceptions to the general rule for PEL

1. Negligent statements (the Hedley byrne v bauer principle)
 (stevenage town council v the council)
 - general context in which advice was given (chaudhry v prabhu)
 - where the PEL was caused by a negligent statement (also where the claimant was a professional)
 c) the defendant's negligence was a direct cause of the claimant's loss and a duty of care was owed.

Free and Equal Joseph Grčić,2011 The ideas of John Rawls have revolutionized the shape and content of much of contemporary political and social philosophy HisA Theory of Justice 1971 andPolitical Liberalism 1993 among other works have been a rich source of ideas which continue to influence contemporary discussions about justice and politics. Although much has been written on the political philosophy of Rawls, there has not been any in-depth study focused on the implications of the ideas of Rawls for contemporary existing democracies. Drawing on some of his earlier work, the author offers a detailed exploration of how Rawlsian ideas impact the basic elements of Western democracies and the US Constitution and discusses the changes that would be necessary to make modern democracies more consistent with the basic values of liberal equality as understood by Rawls. The ideas of justice, equality, fairness, liberty, public reason, stability, the rule of law, and other related concepts are the bases of the analysis of the US Constitution and suggestions for reform presented here. For many people, the American Dream has come to seem more like a vague hope than a real possibility. It is becoming increasingly clear that our society is faced with profound social and political problems which need to be confronted and addressed. Some of these problems are described in this book, and the solutions defended here are based on a deeper understanding of the underlying principles of the Constitution informed by the ideas of the philosopher John Rawls. This book is intended for the general educated public and college classrooms in political philosophy, philosophy of law, American government.
