Coly, 2019-06-01 Postcolonial Hauntologies is an interdisciplinary and comparative analysis of critical literary visual and performance texts by women from different parts of

Africa While contemporary critical thought and feminist theory have largely integrated the sexual female body into their disciplines colonial representations of African women s sexuality haunt contemporary postcolonial African scholarship which by maintaining a culture of avoidance about women s sexuality generates a discursive conscription that ultimately holds the female body hostage Ayo A Coly employs the concept of hauntology and ghostly matters to formulate an explicative framework in which to examine postcolonial silences surrounding the African female body as well as a theoretical framework for discerning the elusive and cautious presences of female sexuality in the texts of African women In illuminating the pervasive silence about the sexual female body in postcolonial African scholarship Postcolonial Hauntologies challenges hostile responses to critical and artistic voices that suggest the African female body represents sacred ideological discursive ground on which one treads carefully if at all Coly demonstrates how ghosts from the colonial past are countered by discursive engagements with explicit representations of women s sexuality and bodies that emphasize African women s power and autonomy

Transformation in African Literature J. Roger Kurtz, 2020-10-04 This book fills a gap in the field of contemporary trauma studies by interrogating the relevance of trauma for African literatures Kurtz argues that a thoughtful application of trauma theory in relation to African literatures is in fact a productive exercise and furthermore that the benefits of this exercise include not only what it can do for African literature but also what it can do for trauma studies He makes the case for understanding trauma healing within the larger project of peacebuilding with an emphasis on the transformative potential of what he terms the African moral imagination as embodied in the creative work of its writers He offers readings of selected works by Chinua Achebe Ngugi wa Thiong'o Chimamanda Adichie and Nuruddin Farah as case studies for how African literature can influence our understanding of trauma and trauma healing This will be a valuable volume for those with interests in current trends and developments in trauma studies African literary studies postcolonial studies and memory studies
