Reclaiming Difference:

Managing Cultural Change Melissa Butcher, 2016-05-13 Despite decades of policy interventions and awareness raising programmes migration and mobility continue to give rise to tensions and questions of how to live together in a culturally diverse world Managing Cultural Change takes a new approach to these challenges re-examining responses to migration and mobility as part of a process of managing wider cultural change Presenting research from a range of settings from liberalising India global workplaces in Asia and migrant youth culture in Sydney this book explores the manner in which cultural change disturbs established frames of reference In considering affective responses to these liminal moments of disruption it argues that adaptive strategies such as demarcating difference and re-placing home that is reasserting belonging are deployed in order to reclaim a sense of synchronicity within the self and with a transforming external environment With attention to the prevalence and durability of the processes and tensions inherent in cultural change the author also examines the intercultural or cosmopolitan competencies developed in interaction with difference and whether it is possible to teach people these skills in order to re-find cultural fit and manage change in a constantly shifting world Contributing to research on transnational migration and mobility studies while developing the use of conceptual tools such as cultural fit and liminality Managing Cultural Change will be of interest to sociologists geographers and anthropologists working in the fields of globalisation migration and transnational communities ethnicity and identity belonging and cosmopolitanism

Reading Julia Alvarez Alice L. Trupe, 2011-03-21 This comprehensive overview of Julia Alvarez's fiction nonfiction and poetry offers biographical information and parses the author's important works and the intentions behind them Reading Julia Alvarez reviews the author's acclaimed body of writing exploring both the works and the woman behind them The guide opens with a brief biography that includes the saga of the Alvarez family's flight from the Dominican Republic when Julia was ten and carries her story through the philanthropic organic coffee farm that she and her husband now operate in that nation The heart of the book is a broad overview of Alvarez's literary achievements followed by chapters that discuss individual works and a chapter on her poetry The book also looks at how the author's writings grapple with and illuminate contemporary issues and at Alvarez's place in pop culture including an examination of film adaptations of her books Through this guide readers will better understand the relevance of Alvarez's works to their own lives and to new ways of thinking about current events

Social Work Reclaimed Steve Goodman, Isabelle Trowler, Eileen Munro, 2011-11-15 Reclaim Social Work RSW is the innovative model of children's social work pioneered by the London Borough of Hackney This book sets out what RSW is how it was set up and the theory and evidence base underlying it Chapters written by RSW social workers outline the methodological approaches used and demonstrate how it works in practice

Science Fiction Adam Roberts, 2006-06-19 Science Fiction is a fascinating and comprehensive introduction to one of the most popular areas of modern culture This second edition reflects how the field is rapidly changing in both its practice and its critical reception

With an entirely new conclusion and all other chapters fully reworked and updated this volume includes a concise history of science fiction and the ways in which the genre has been used and defined explanations of key concepts in Science Fiction criticism and theory through chapters such as Gender Race Technology and Metaphor examines the interactions between Science Fiction and Science Fact anchors each chapter with a case study drawn from short story book or film from Frank Herbert's Dune to Star Wars from The Left Hand of Darkness to Neuromancer Introducing the reader to nineteenth century Pulp Golden Age New Wave Feminist and Cyberpunk science fictions this is the essential contemporary guide to a major cultural movement

Standing in the Intersection Karma R. Chávez, Cindy L. Griffin, 2012-10-11 Winner of the 2013 Best Edited Book Award presented by the Organization for the Study of Communication Language and Gender OSCLG Building on the decades of work by women of color and allied feminists Standing in the Intersection is the first book in more than a decade to bring communication studies and feminist intersectional theories in conversation with one another The authors in this collection take up important conversations relating to notions of style space and audience and engage with the rhetoric of significant figures including Carol Moseley Braun Barbara Jordan Emma Goldman and Audre Lorde as well as crucial contemporary issues such as campus activism and political asylum In doing so they ask us to complicate notions of space location and movement to be aware of and explicit with regard to our theorizing of intersecting and contradictory identities and to think about the impact of multiple dimensions of power in understanding audiences and audiencing

Fictions of Feminine Citizenship D. Francis, 2010-03-01 Reading novels by contemporary women in the Caribbean diaspora alongside and against law history and anthropology the book argues that Caribbean women's sexuality has been mobilized for various imperialist and nationalist projects from the nineteenth century to present

Critiquing Postmodernism in Contemporary Discourses of Race S. Kim, 2009-11-23 Critiquing Postmodernism in Contemporary Discourses of Race challenges the critical emphasis on otherness in treatments of race in literary and cultural studies Sue J Kim deftly argues that this treatment not only perpetuates narrow identity politics but obscures the political and economic structures that shape issues of race in literary studies Kim's revelatory book shows how reading authors through their identity ends up neglecting both complex historical contexts and aesthetic forms This comparative study calls for a reconsideration of the bases for critical engagement and a reading ethics that melds the best of historicist and formalist approaches to literature

Reclaiming the American West Alan Berger, 2002-10-25 Berger design Harvard U provides an overview of what possibilities are offered by converting abandoned mines as well as the physical philosophical technological environmental political regulatory and ethical issues involved In the opening chapters he addresses the history size scope and various forms of reclamation projects Subsequent topics cover more speculative and theoretical discussions of aesthetics space nature time and revaluing together with photographic evidence The book contains 199 color illustrations and is oversize 11 25x9 5

L. W. Forman,1919      A World Atlas of Translation Yves Gambier,Ubaldo Stecconi,2019-02-15 What do people think of translation in the different historical cultural and linguistic traditions of the world How many uses has translation been put to How distant from one another are the concepts of translation found in the different traditions These are some of the questions A World Atlas of Translation addresses Its twenty one reports give us pictures taken from the inside both from traditions that are well represented in the literature and from the many that for now are not But the Atlas is not content with documenting no map is this innocent In fact the wealth of information collected and made accessible by its reporters can be useful to gauge the dispersion of translation concepts across traditions As you read its reports the Atlas will keep asking How far apart do these concepts look to you Finally and more ambitiously the reports can help us test the hypothesis that a cross cultural notion of translation exists In this respect the Atlas is mostly a proof of concept It hopes to encourage further fact based research in quest of a robust and compelling unifying notion of translation      Violence in Caribbean Literature

Véronique Maisier,2014-12-11 Violence in Caribbean Literature Stories of Stones and Blood this book looks at the scene of the throwing of a stone found in five novels and uses it as a starting point to an examination of the turmoil of history in the Caribbean the colonial education imposed on Caribbean populations the gendered relations that exist today in the Caribbean region the political status and aspirations of Caribbean nations and the psychological impact of colonization on Caribbean minds The trope of the stone and the analysis of the violence it delivers provide the thread that conducts the linked readings of these novels written by Dominican Jean Rhys Trinidadian Merle Hodge Guadeloupean Gis le Pineau Martinican Patrick Chamoiseau and Jamaican American Michelle Cliff The analytical and critical readings of these writers novels complement each other and draw out their commonalities echoes and differences while the juxtaposition of Anglophone and Francophone novels from different Caribbean nations contributes to a polyphonic understanding of the region While the book offers diversity in the range of countries and languages represented and in the interdisciplinarity of the scholarly fields that intersect in its cultural discussions it maintains its coherence by the unifying theme of violence and its representations in Caribbean literature      Friends and Enemies Chris Bongie,2008-01-01 This timely contribution to debates about the future of postcolonial theory explores the troubled relationship between politics and the discipline both in the sense of the radical political changes associated with the anti colonial struggle and the implication of literary writers in institutional discourses of power Using Haiti as a key example Chris Bongie explores issues of commemoration and commodification of the post colonial by pairing early nineteenth century Caribbean texts with contemporary works An apt volume for an age that struggles with the reality of memories of anti colonial resistance Friends and Enemies is a provocative take on postcolonial scholarship
