Jack Greenwalt, Graham A. Jamieson, 1974 Erythroid Cells J. Robin Harris, 2013-06-29 This series of books devoted to aspects of blood cell biochemistry development immunology and ultrastructure has evolved and separated from the long established Plenum series Subcellular Biochemistry It is the intention of these volumes to draw together related areas of investigation and to provide in the fullness of time complete coverage of this rapidly advancing important biomedical discipline Both fundamental and medically applied topics dealing with normal and pathological cells will be included This the first volume of the series contains a diverse collection of chapters all of which relate to erythroid cells The range of material included is extremely broad and the authors have used contrasting technical approaches both within their personal experimental studies and within their manuscripts This has led to the production of a very interesting compilation which does nevertheless possess a strong overall thematic unity As with all edited volumes some topics of importance and interest are not included This may be because of oversight on my part as editor or because the authors originally selected failed to submit their manuscript by the agreed upon submission date For these omissions I take full responsibility and trust that at least some of the topics omitted for instance membrane cation transport systems will be covered within a future volume of the series This book commences with two chapters of a developmental nature The Modern Practice of Pediatrics
