Red Empty Chicago 2003:

Liverpool Biennial of Contemporary Art ,2004 Red Empty (Chicago 2003) Carl Michael von Hausswolff,2005
Light and darkness transform city buildings into surreal structures an ordinary gray concrete building in plain daylight changes at night into a mysterious monolith or under a blue tinted lens into an ethereal edifice Swedish artist Carl Michael von Hausswolff harnessed these transformative powers of light to create a powerful spectacle that presents Chicago architecture from a wholly original perspective in this collection of striking photographs Red Empty Chicago 2003 is the latest in a series of urban centered works spanning from Bangkok to Santa Fe in which von Hausswolff set 1000 watt red spotlights against the architecture of run down abandoned buildings to generate spectral real world monochromes His images explore intermediate realms through these otherworldly images worlds traced by psychic residue that rewrite the history of particular sites Red Empty is a compelling visual work that transforms Chicago architecture into sculptures of light shadow and stone Art ... Community Self-Determination John J. Laukaitis, 2015-09-11 After World War II American Indians began relocating to urban areas in large numbers in search of employment Partly influenced by the Bureau of Indian Affairs this migration from rural reservations to metropolitan centers presented both challenges and opportunities This history examines the educational programs American Indians developed in Chicago and gives particular attention to how the American Indian community chose its own distinct path within and outside of the larger American Indian self determination movement In what John J Laukaitis terms community self determination American Indians in Chicago demonstrated considerable agency as they developed their own programs and worked within already existent institutions The community based initiatives included youth programs at the American Indian Center and St Augustine s Center for American Indians the Native American Committee s Adult Learning Center Little Big Horn High School O Wai Ya Wa Elementary School Native American Educational Services College and the Institute for Native American Development at Truman College Community Self Determination presents the first major examination of these initiatives and programs and provides an understanding of how education functioned as a form of activism for Chicago s American Indian community Screening

Red and Blue Nation? Pietro S. Nivola,David W. Brady,2008-04-01 A Brookings Institution Press and the Hoover Institution publication America s polarized politics are largely disconnected from mainstream public preferences This disconnect poses fundamental dangers for the representativeness and accountability of government as well as the already withering public trust in it As the 2008 presidential race kicks into gear the political climate certainly will not become less polarized With important issues to address including immigration policy health care and the funding of the Iraq war it is critical that essential policies not be hostage to partisan political battles Building upon the findings of the first volume of Red and Blue Nation Brookings 2006 which explored the extent of political polarization and its potential causes this new volume delves into the consequences of the gulf between red states and blue states The authors examine the impact of these political divisions on voter behavior Congressional law making judicial selection and foreign policy formation They shed light on hotly debated institutional reform proposals including changes to the electoral system and the congressional rules of engagement and ultimately present research supported policies and reforms for alleviating the underlying causes of political polarization While most discussion of polarization takes place in separate spheres of journalism and academia Red and Blue Nation brings together a unique set of voices with a wide variety of perspectives to enrich our understanding of the issue Written in a broad accessible style it is a resource for anyone interested in the future of electoral politics in America Contributors include Marc
