loud flapping A hawk angled down directly above and dove with its wings held tight piercing the water like an arrow and disappearing under the surface then bursting up in a gush of spray with a large trout hooked in its talons The trout thrashed about fiercely slapping the river with its tail splashing a shower of water The hawk twisting to shake off the droplets let out a shrill scream and hovered momentarily just above water pounding its drenched wings and rising the trout clamped in its black claws The novel slips into fantasy fable and the enchantment of nature A murder a gambling casino a mission church of serpent handlers and accidental oil spills steal into the story seamlessly The author deftly manipulates these genres He inserts the thoughts of his characters through italicized stream of consciousness paragraphs and introduces each by a black silhouette image of an animal which represents that character as a butterfly or a hawk rendering the novel more reader friendly The novel fits into the little publicized genre of slipstream probably exemplified best by the writings of Jorge Luis Borges But there is no slipstream section at our current bookstores Even the main character the River is unpredictable sometimes harsh yet comforting even obedient Through a Kangaroo Court a medium of last resort the author deftly convinces his readers that this is the only fair trial available for the guilty party His readers will be intrigued and drawn into the story as if it were true Rapture River is a Romance a Murder Mystery an escapist Fable but above all a magical quest for fulfillment in our strange times
