Red Haze Nuage Rouge:

Red Haze Christian Gailly, 2005-01-01 a tale told deftly by the brilliant French minimalist Christian Gailly It is a story at once spare and mysteriously complex complicated by the ever odder perspective of the narrator as the details accumulate Lucien the narrator's friend is a rake a womanizer who womanizes once too often and loses his offending member to his latest conquest As the narrator's interest in the mutilated man and the vengeful woman grows into an obsession Red haze becomes an unsettling story of how closely intertwined love and hatred passion and cruelty can be cover Historical Dictionary of Postmodernist Literature and Theater Fran Mason, 2016-12-12 The main aim of the book has been to include writers movements forms of writing and textual strategies critical ideas and texts that are significant in relation to postmodernist literature In addition important scholars journals and cultural processes have been included where these are felt to be relevant to an understanding of postmodernist writing This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Postmodernist Literature and Theater contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 400 cross referenced entries on postmodernist writers the important postmodernist aesthetic practices significant texts produced throughout the history of postmodernist writing and important movements and ideas that have created a variety of literary approaches within the form This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the postmodernist literature and theater Fiction Now Warren F. Motte, 2008 Fiction Now reports on the current states of the novel in France taking a series of soundings within the compass of innovative French writing since 2001 Chapters focus closely upon Jean Echenoz Marie Redonnet Christian Gailly Lydie Salvayre Gérard Gavarri Hélène Lenoir Patrick Lapeyre and Christine Montalbetti Each of the authors invoked exemplified in his or her work a different set of strategies concerns and approaches one of them transposes the Book of Judith to the Parisian suburbs another imagines the most taciturn of cowboys in the American West still another goes well beyond death into the afterlife of a concert pianist Despite their diversity of theme and technique these writers share a will to make French fiction new and demonstrate compellingly that the novel as it is practiced in France today is an extremely vigorous deeply enthralling and richly plural cultural form American Short-story Writers Since World War II. Patrick Meanor, Richard Edward Lee, 2007 Focuses on how writers have established successful literary reputations without having appeared in mass circulation magazines Highlights the role of university presses in the success of many contemporary writers the generally uncommitted and indifferent attitudes of most of the mass circulation publishing houses and the importance of prizes that various organizations award annually and the influential anthologies in which these prizewinning stories appear Le roi des montagnes, ed. by A.R. Ropes Edmond François V. About, 1897 Le roi des montagnes Edmond About, 1904 Selling the Story Jonathan Paine, 2019-08-06 A literary scholar and investment banker applies economic criticism to canonical novels dramatically changing the way we read these classics and proposing a new model for how economics can inform literary analysis Every writer is a player in the marketplace for literature Jonathan Paine locates the economics ingrained within the stories themselves revealing how a text provides a record of its author's attempt to sell the story to his or her readers An unusual literary scholar with a background in finance Paine mines stories for evidence of the conditions of their production Through his wholly original reading Balzac's The Splendors and Miseries of Courtesans becomes a secret diary of its author's struggles to cope with the commercializing influence of serial publication in newspapers The Brothers Karamazov transforms into a story of Dostoevsky's sequential bets with his readers present and future about how to write a novel Zola's Money documents the rise of big business and is itself a product of Zola's own big business his factory of novels Combining close readings with detailed analyses of the nineteenth century publishing contexts in which prose fiction first became a product Selling the Story shows how the business of literature affects even literary devices such as genre plot and repetition Paine argues that no book can be properly understood without reference to its point of sale the author's knowledge of the market of reader expectations and of his or her own efforts to define and achieve literary value American Book Publishing Record, 2005

The Novel Map Patrick M. Bray, 2013-01-31 Focusing on Stendhal G. de Nerval George Sand and Marcel Proust The Novel Map Mapping the Self in Nineteenth Century French Fiction explores the ways that these writers represent and negotiate the relationship between the self and the world as a function of space in a novel turned map With the rise of the novel and of autobiography the literary and cultural contexts of nineteenth century France reconfigured both the ways literature could represent subjects and the ways subjects related to space In the first person works of these authors maps situate the narrator within the imaginary space of the novel Yet the time inherent in the text's narrative unsettles the spatial self drawn by the maps and so creates a novel self one which is both new and literary The novel self transcends the rigid confines of a map In this significant study Patrick M. Bray charts a new direction in critical theory
