Region And Strategy In Britain And Japan:

Region and Strategy in Britain and Japan David J. Jeremy, 2005 Region and Strategy in Britain and Japan Takeshi Abe, Douglas A. Farnie, David J. Jeremy, Tetuso Nakaoka, John F. Wilson, 2005-07-20 Highlighting the importance of regional and national differences in industrial development this book is a pioneering long term comparison of the two regions of Lancashire and Kansai Britain and Japan in the Twentieth Century Philip Towle, Nobuko Margaret Kosuge, 2007-04-27 After the horrors of World War II in Asia not least the systematic appalling mistreatment of Allied prisoners of war by the Japanese military few would have predicted that Britain's relationship with Japan would flourish into a booming partnership of economic interdependence by the start of the twenty first century This ambitious examination of Anglo Japanese relations over the course of the 20th century charts the fascinating history of how both nations overcame many years of prejudice and bitter conflict to form a bond fused by financial political and military cooperation In the 1930s many Japanese became convinced that their exports were being kept out of India by British tariffs and it was not until the 1980s that the British government fully accepted the futility of any protectionist impulse and encouraged Japanese companies to invest in Britain Today each country not only assists the other economically but also no longer blames the other for its own domestic problems Britain and Japan in the Twentieth Century elucidates how both nations have struggled to achieve stability and harmony in their relations with each other in the face of contrasting cultural identities Anglo-American Strategic Relations and the Far East, 1933-1939 Greg Kennedy, 2013-01-11 This volume charts how the national strategic needs of the United States of America and Great Britain created a parallel but not joint relationship towards the Far East as the crisis in that region evolved from 1933-39 In short it is a look at the relationship shared between the two nations with respect to accommodating one another on certain strategic and diplomatic issues so that they could become more confident of one another in any potential showdowns with Japan Japan's Strategic Challenges in a Changing Regional Environment Purnendra Jain, Peng Er Lam, 2013 Japan faces significant challenges in both traditional and non traditional areas of national security policy as the economic resurgence of China and the loss of US hegemonic clout significantly transform the strategic landscape of the Asia Pacific region How is Japan coping with this new global and regional politico security environment What strategic moves has it taken to best position itself for the future to maximize its global and regional influence More importantly how is Japan perceived within the region by traditionally close regional partners such as the US and Australia by supporters in Southeast Asia and by new competitors most prominently China and India What international role do these nations wish Japan to play In this comprehensive volume these crucial questions are explored in depth by a group of scholars both distinguished and diverse British and Japanese Military Leadership in the Far Eastern War, 1941-45 Brian Bond, 2012-11-12 Some sixty years after the Far Eastern War ended this innovative new collection brings together five distinguished UK based scholars and five from Japan to reappraise their respective country's leadership in the Malaya and

Burma campaigns This leadership is analyzed on various levels ranging from the grand strategic to operational The Japanese contributors examine the reasons for their forces brilliant advances in 1941-42 whereas the British writers have to account for the disastrous defeat characterized by the poor leadership of senior commanders such as Bennett and Percival Between 1943 and 1945 the tables were turned dramatically so the failure of Japanese command decisions then comes under critical scrutiny and the British have to explain how defeat was transformed into victory Above all this volume should stimulate interest in different methods and styles of military leadership in view of the contrasting approaches of the British and Japanese in the Second World War

Japan's Indian Ocean Raid 1942 Mark Stille, 2023-12-21 An detailed illustrated exploration of the Japanese raid into the Indian Ocean in April 1942 one of the largest operations conducted by the Imperial Navy during the war In the wake of Japan's conquest of Burma in early 1942 plans were formed by the Imperial high command to capture Ceylon modern Sri Lanka to consolidate Japan's defensive perimeter and disrupt British shipping lanes to India Australia and the Middle East The Imperial Japanese Army however could not release sufficient troops for an invasion and so in response the Japanese Navy developed Operation C an aggressive raid by the Combined Fleet into the Indian Ocean The key objective was to destroy the British Eastern Fleet in port Expert naval historian Mark Stille documents the high point of Japanese naval air power as its carriers struck Ceylon the heart of British naval power in the East sinking several Allied ships He describes the Allied air attempts to destroy Admiral Chuichi Nagumo's force and the Japanese attacks against British shipping and the cities along the Indian coast Specially commissioned battlescenes bring to life the sinking of British carrier Hermes the Bristol Blenheim attacks on the Japanese carrier force and a Zero vs Hurricane dogfight over Colombo on 5 April Easy to follow maps and diagrams reveal the strategic situation at the start and end of the campaign and track the movements of the Japanese carrier task force and the British Eastern Fleet throughout Details of weaponry equipment personnel and the events of the fascinating battles that took place are revealed in over 60 photographs many of which are from Japanese sources

Britain and Regional Cooperation in South-East Asia, 1945-49 Tilman Remme, 2015-04-10 This book first published in 1995 traces the attempt by the British Foreign Office to establish an international regional organisation in South East Asia which would allow Britain to dominate the region politically economically and militarily The author explores the changing emphasis of Britain's regional policies and puts the issues affecting South East Asia in the post War period into a wide context He explores events in the light of the Japanese defeat in the Second World War the Communist struggle for supremacy of China the development of Anglo American relations in Asia and the beginnings of the Cold War

Railways and International Politics T.G. Otte, Keith Neilson, 2012-09-10 This new study brings together leading experts to show how the modern world began with the coming of the railway They clearly explain why it had a greater impact than any other technical or industrial innovation before and completely redefined the limits of the civilized world While the effect of railways on economic development is self evident little attention has been paid to their impact on international relations This is unfortunate for in the period from 1848 to 1945 railways were an important element in the struggle between the Great Powers This took many forms Often as in East Asia the competition for railway concessions reflected the clash of rival imperial interests The success or failure of this competition could determine which of the European Powers was to dominate and exploit the markets of China and Siam Just as often railways were linked with military matters Prussia s success in the wars of German unification depended on its strategic railways just as much as on the strength of its armies and the rail links remained a vital aspect of German military thinking before the First World War So too did they for the Russians whose vast Empire required rail links capable of moving the Tsarist army quickly and competently Just as importantly railways could be vital for Imperial defence as the British discovered on the North West frontier of India This book will be of much interest to students of international history military history and strategic studies
