Regional Agencies And Area Based Regeneration:

Regional Agencies and Area-based Regeneration Brian Robson, Jamie Peck, Adam Holden, 2000 Regional Development Agencies RDAs were established in April 1999 as non departmental public bodies Their remit is to promote the economic well being of the English regions and to further the goals of sustainable development and social inclusion This report explores the interface between the regional agenda for RDAs and the local delivery of area based regeneration The study is based on interviews with those involved in RDAs at senior board and executive levels and provides analysis of the regional strategies of the eight existing RDAs Regional agencies and area based regeneration looks at new forms of governance developed alongside the implementation of the RDAs communication and consultation with regional stakeholders the development and implementation of regional strategies the role of RDAs in managing local regeneration the complexities contradictions and positive possibilities that devolution provides for regional development

Regional agencies and area based regeneration is essential reading for policy makers and those working in RDAs urban regeneration partnerships communities involved in urban regeneration and national and local government as well as anyone with an interest in area regeneration strategies and practice

Developing Australia's Regions Andrew Beer, Alaric Maude, William Pritchard, 2003-05-01 Delves behind the too often negative media headlines and stereotypes about regional Australia and considers the true state of Australia's regions including metropolitan regions and what can be done to improve their economic social and environmental well being

Cities and Regions in Crisis Martin Jones, 2019 This book offers a new geographical political economy approach to our understanding of regional and local economic development in Western Europe over the last twenty years It suggests that governance failure is occurring at a variety of spatial scales and an impedimenta state is emerging This is derived from the state responding to state intervention and economic development that has become irrational ambivalent and disoriented The book blends theoretical approaches to crisis and contradiction theory with empirical examples from cities and regions

The Futures of the City Region Michael Neuman, Angela Hull, 2013-09-13 Does the city region constitute a new departure in urbanisation If so what are the key elements of that departure The realities of the urban in the 21st century are increasingly complex and polychromatic The rise of global networks enabled by supranational administrations both governmental and corporate strongly influences and structures the management of urban life How we conceive the city region has intellectual and practical consequences First in helping us grasp rapidly changing realities and second in facilitating the flow of resources ideas and learning to enhance the quality of life of citizens Two themes interweave through this collection within this broad palette First are the socio spatial constructs and their relationship to the empirical evidence of change in the physical and functional aspects of urban form Second is what they mean for the spatial scales of governance This latter theme explores territorially based understandings of intervention and the changing set of political concerns in selected case studies In efforts to address these issues and improve upon knowledge this collection brings together international scholars building new data driven cross disciplinary theories to create new images of the city region that may prove to supplement if not supplant old ones The book illustrates the dialectical interplay of theory and fact time and space and spatial and institutional which expands on our intellectual grasp of the theoretical debates on city regions through practical knowing citing examples from Europe the United States Australasia and beyond This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Regional Studies The New Governance of the English Regions M. Sandford, 2005-11-22 English regions appeared to have been killed off by the massive no vote in the referendum in the North East on 4 November 2004 By contrast this book analyzes the many institutions and networks established at the English regional tier since 1997 It argues that a new form of governance is developing in the English regions characterized by processes rather than specific policy concerns strategic co ordination scrutiny and civic engagement Developing Locally , Developing Locally Beer, Andrew, Haughton, Graham, Alaric Maude, 2003-11-26 This work offers comparisons of local and regional economic development organisations objectives activities and effectiveness across four English speaking nations Town and Country Planning in the UK Simin Davoudi, David Webb, Geoff Vigar, John Pendlebury, Tim Townshend, Trevor Hart, Vincent Nadin, 2014-12-05 Town and country planning has never been more important to the UK nor more prominent in national debate Planning generates great controversy whether it s spending 80m and four years inquiry into Heathrow s Terminal 5 or the 200 proposed wind turbines in the Shetland Isles On a smaller scale telecoms masts take away house extensions and even fences are often the cause of local conflict Town and Country Planning in the UK has been extensively revised by a new author group This 15th Edition incorporates the major changes to planning introduced by the coalition government elected in 2010 particularly through the National Planning Policy Framework and associated practice guidance and the Localism Act It provides a critical discussion of the systems of planning the procedures for managing development and land use change and the mechanisms for implementing policy and proposals It reviews current policy for sustainable development and the associated economic social and environmental themes relevant to planning in both urban and rural contexts Contemporary arrangements are explained with reference to their historical development the influence of the European Union the roles of central and local government and developing social and economic demands for land use change Detailed consideration is given to the nature of planning and its historical evolution the role of the EU central regional and local government mechanisms for developing policy and managing these changes policies for guiding and delivering housing and economic development sustainable development principles for planning including pollution control the importance of design in planning conserving the heritage community engagement in planning The many recent changes to the system are explained in detail the new national planning policy framework the impact of the loss of the regional tier in planning and of the insertion of neighbourhood level planning the transition from development control to development management the continued and growing importance of environmental matters in planning community engagement partnership working changes to planning gain and the introduction of the Community Infrastructure Levy and new initiatives across a number of other themes Notes on further reading are provided and at the end of the book there is an extensive bibliography maintaining its reputation as the bible of British planning Urban Transformation and Urban Governance Boddy, Martin, 2003-10-29 Urban renewal sustainable development the contribution of our towns and cities to economic competitiveness along with continuing concerns over social cohesion present major challenges for policy makers This study presents information and analysis focused directly on these challenges Developing England's North Craig Berry, Arianna Giovannini, 2017-11-03 This book explores the politics of local economic development in Northern England Socio economic conditions in the North and its future prospects have become central to national debates in the UK The status of Northern regions and their local economies is intimately associated with efforts to rebalance the economy away from the South East London and the finance sector in the wake of the 2008 financial crisis The contributors to this volume focus in particular on the coalition and Conservative governments Northern Powerhouse agenda They also analyse associated efforts to devolve power to local authorities across England which promise to bring both greater prosperity and autonomy to the deindustrialized North Several chapters critically interrogate these initiatives and their ambitions by placing them within their wider historical geographical institutional and ideological contexts As such Berry and Giovannini seek to locate Northern England within a broader understanding of the political dimension of economic development and outline a series of ideas for enhancing the North's prospects
