Regional Dimension Of Transformation In Central Europe:

The Regional Dimension of Transformation in Central Europe Grzegorz Gorzelak,1996 Providing a new picture of the socio economic map of central Europe focusing on Poland after several years of transformation this book gives an account of the major problems of regional restructuring The author identifies the opportunities and problems faced by particular regions relating the Polish experience to the experiences of other central European countries and provides a general picture of spatial patterns of transformation in this part of Europe

The Regional Dimension of Transformation in Central Europe Grzegorz Gorzelak,2012-10-12 Providing a new picture of the socio economic map of central Europe after several years of transformation and focusing in particular on Poland this book gives an account of the major problems of regional restructuring The author identifies the opportunities and problems faced by particular regions by relating the Polish experience to the experience of other central European countries This in turn provides a general picture of spatial patterns of transformation in this specific part of Europe and will interest those concerned with the transformation of Eastern Europe

The Routledge Handbook to Regional Development in Central and Eastern Europe Gábor Lux,Gyula Horváth,2017-07-06 Twenty five years into transformation Central and Eastern European regions have undergone substantial socio economic restructuring integrating into European and global networks and producing new patterns of regional differentiation and development Yet post socialist modernisation has not been without its contradictions manifesting in increasing social and territorial inequalities Recent studies also suggest there are apparent limits to post socialist growth models accompanying a new set of challenges within an increasingly uncertain world Aiming to deliver a new synthesis of regional development issues at the crossroads between post socialism and post transition this book identifies the main driving forces of spatial restructuring in Central and Eastern Europe and charts the different regional development paths which take shape against the backdrop of post crisis Europe A comparative approach is used to highlight common development challenges and the underlying patterns of socio economic differentiation alike The issues investigated within the Handbook extend to a discussion of the varied economic consequences of transition the social structures and institutional systems which underpin development processes and the broadly understood sustainability of Central and Eastern Europe s current development model This book will be of interest to academics and policymakers working in the fields of regional studies economic geography development studies and policy

Integration and Transition in Europe Grzegorz Gorzelak,Gunther Maier,George Petrakos,2013-01-11 With the harmonization of the EU economies and issues of EU enlargement and integration with Europe s transition economies topping the political agenda the economic geography of Europe is being recast This important volume analyses the spatial implications of the integration transition process and examines key issues such as north south and east west divides regional cooperation and cross border dynamics

Regional Development in Central and Eastern Europe Grzegorz Gorzelak,John Bachtler,Maciej Smętkowski,2018-10-24 This book provides an up to date assessment of the main processes and dilemmas of regional development and regional policy in the newer European Union Member States in Central and Eastern Europe and neighbouring countries It highlights the difficulties of balancing the demands within the new Member States for rapid regional growth and development with firstly the demands of the European Union overall that restructuring and development should conform to the aims and principles of EU common policies and secondly with budgetary constraints The book covers a wide range of issues including global and national challenges to regional convergence and cohesion regional dynamics city networks and border issues the effectiveness of policy responses at national and European levels including an assessment of policy experiences from outside the new Member States and likely future developments

Mapping Modernities Alan Dingsdale, 2013-02-01 When the communist governments of Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union collapsed between 1989 and 1991 there was a revived interest in a region that had been largely neglected by western geographers Mapping Modernities draws on the resulting work and other original theoretical and empirical sources to describe interpret and explain the place and spatial order of modernities in Central and Eastern Europe since 1920 to give a theoretically underpinned regional geography of the area The book interprets the geography of Central and Eastern Europe from 1920 to 2000 in terms of spatial modernity It details the individual and collective development of places produced within the three modernising projects of Nationalism Communism and Neo liberalism

East Central Europe and the former Soviet Union Michael Bradshaw, Alison Stenning, 2016-04-15 A comprehensive introduction to the important economic social and political processes and development issues in this increasingly popular area of study Employing a groundbreaking thematic approach the book centres its discussion on the interrelation between contemporary development theories and continuing transition issues in this huge and complex region

Spaces and Places in Central and Eastern Europe Gyula Horváth, 2014-08-21 Across Europe there is a rapidly changing context for undertaking regional development In the 20th century development of the former planned economies Bulgaria Czech Republic Hungary Poland Romania and Slovakia was defined by these countries differences rather than their common ideological roots These disparities altered over time and were marked by changing social structures However the ranking of regions has remained the same as core areas have strengthened their positions while the structural obstacles to the modernisation of peripheral areas have remained due to a lack of coherent regional policy This book examines the specific regional development paths of Central and Eastern European countries and evaluates the effects of the determining factors of this process Through analysis of the system of objectives instruments and institutions used in different eras and case studies of Hungary East Germany and Germany development models are established and compared with Western European patterns The book summarises the experiences of Central and Eastern European regional cooperation and examines the basic nature of the cohesion problems of the Carpathian Basin trans national macro region It confirms by comparative historical analyses that the transformation was indeed unique This book will make a welcome addition to the literature for students and academics interested in the broader picture of Central and Eastern European politics future integration within the European Union and the history of regional development processes      Transregional Europe William Outhwaite,2020-04-13 Transregional Europe integrates work in human geography and planning with related scholarship in history and the other social sciences covering public perceptions of European macro regions and EU macro regional planning

The East European Economy in Context David Turnock,2003-09-02 Since 1989 the former communist countries of Eastern Europe have witnessed a profound and dramatic upheaval The economic coherence of this region formerly maintained through the adoption of the Soviet system of government has fractured In The East European Economy in Context Communism and Transition David Turnock examines the transition from communist to free market economies both within and between the states of Eastern Europe As well as containing an informative survey of the impact of communism The East European Economy in Context provides Political profiles of individual countries A clear study of the contrasts between northern and balkan groups Summaries of regional variations in the transition process An exploration of the new state structures and resources Discussion of political stability inter ethnic tensions and progress in economic change
