Regional and Petroleum Geology of the Black Sea and Surrounding Region Andrew G. Robinson, 1997 Petroleum Geology of the Black Sea M.D. Simmons, G.C. Tari, A.I. Okay, 2018-08-14 The Black Sea remains one of the largest underexplored rift basins in the world Future success is dependent on a better understanding of a number of geological uncertainties These include reservoir and source rock presence and quality and the timing of migration of hydrocarbons relative to trap formation An appreciation of the geological history of the Black Sea basins and the surrounding orogens is therefore key The timing of basin formation uplift of the margins and of facies distribution remain issues for robust debate This Special Publication presents the results of 15 studies that relate to the tectono stratigraphy and petroleum geology of the Black Sea The methodologies of these studies encompass crustal structure geodynamic evolution stratigraphy and its regional correlation petroleum systems source to sink hydrocarbon habitat and play concepts and reviews of past exploration They provide insight into the many ongoing controversies concerning Black Sea regional geology and provide a better understanding of the geological risks that must be considered for future hydrocarbon exploration Tectonic Development of the Eastern Mediterranean Region A. H. F. Robertson, Demosthenis Mountrakis, 2006 The Eastern Mediterranean region is a classic area for the study of tectonic processes and settings related to the development of the Tethyan orogenic belt The present set of research and synthesis papers by earth scientists from countries in this region and others provides an up to date interdisciplinary overview of the tectonic development of the Eastern Mediterranean region from Precambrian to Recent Key topics include continental rifting ophiolite genesis and emplacement continental collision extensional tectonics crustal exhumation and intra plate deformation e g active faulting Alternative tectonic reconstructions of the Tethyan orogen are presented and discussed with important implications for other regions of the world The book will be an essential source of information and interpretation for academic researchers geologists and geophysicists advanced undergraduates and also for industry professionals including those concerned with hydrocarbons minerals and geological hazards e g earthquakes Tectonics and Magmatism in Turkey and the Surrounding Area Erdin Bozkurt, J. D. A. Piper, J. A. Winchester, 2000 Containing 23 papers from a range of international contributors this volume describes recent research into the tectonics and magmatism of Turkey and its surroundings This region is sited at the collision zone between Eurasia and Afro Arabia and as such provides an extraordinarily complete and well exposed record of the staged tectonic evolution of this sector of the Alpine Himalayan orogen The TRANSMED Atlas. The Mediterranean Region from Crust to Mantle William Cavazza, Francois M. Roure, Wim Spakman, Gerard M. Stampfli, Peter A. Ziegler, 2012-12-06 A publication of the Mediterranean Consortium for the 32nd International Geological Congress Geological Development of Anatolia and the Easternmost Mediterranean Region A. H. F. Robertson, Osman Parlak, Ulvi Can Ünlügenç, 2013 Anatolia and the easternmost Mediterranean region especially Turkey Cyprus and northern Syria represent an excellent natural laboratory

for the study of fundamental geological processes e.g. rifting, seafloor spreading, ophiolite genesis and emplacement, subduction, exhumation and collision. Their interaction has created an intriguing array of deep sea basins, microcontinents and suture zones. The volume's 22 papers include a large amount of new field-based information, much of it multidisciplinary and the product of teamwork. After an overview, the volume is divided into four sections: Late Palaeozoic–Early Cenozoic of the Pontides, northern Turkey; Late Palaeozoic–Early Cenozoic of the Taurides, Anatolides, central and southern Turkey; Late Cretaceous–Pliocene sedimentary basins and structural development, central Anatolia to the Mediterranean; Late Miocene–Recent Neotectonics, southern Turkey, Cyprus and northern Syria. The volume will interest numerous academic researchers, those concerned with resources e.g. hydrocarbons, mineral deposits and also hazards e.g. earthquakes, as well as advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students. The Mediterranean Basins Bernard Durand, 1999. The coexistence in space and time of growing mountain belts and actively extending basins poses a number of yet unsolved questions in terms of mechanics. This problem is particularly crucial in the Mediterranean regions where all Cenozoic basins opened in the internal zones of mountain belts. This volume brings together contributions from geologists and geophysicists in the quest to solve the complex dynamic problem posed by the Mediterranean region. It presents a wealth of new data on various topics centred on the Mediterranean region, from the deep mantle structure to the detailed geometry of sedimentary basins.

Thick-Skin-Dominated Orogens M. Nemčok, A. Mora, J.W. Cosgrove, 2013-10-24. This volume studies the driving dynamic for thick skin tectonics. It evaluates the role of various factors that control the development of thick skin architecture. The studied driving dynamics include individual plate movement rates, overall convergence rates, orogen movement sense with respect to mantle flow and pro wedge versus retro wedge location. Numerous internal factors that influence the architecture of thick-skinned dominated orogens have been considered. These include the role of the rheology of the deforming layers, the presence or absence of potential detachment horizons, basement buttresses, crustal thickness variations, inherited strength contrasts and the impact of pre-existing anisotropy in thick skin orogenic deformation. External factors discussed include the role of both syn-tectonic erosion and deposition in deformation. The study areas begin with worldwide examples and close with a detailed coverage of the Northern Andes natural laboratory, which is characterized by particularly robust data coverage.

Paleozoic and Mesozoic tectonic evolution of central and eastern Asia Gregory Arlen Davis, Marc S., 2001. Hendrix geology U of Montana and Davis earth sciences U of Southern California present 19 articles detailing ground-based work on the history of assembly and intracontinental deformation of central and eastern Asia. Chapters look at the structural, thermochronologic and sedimentary records of the history of Paleozoic assembly in Mongolia and central and western China. Further information is presented on Mesozoic deformation in orogenic belts of central and eastern Asia.

sedimentary basins are examined and the intracontinental deformation they record is documented Many of these contributions particularly the papers examining Mongolian geology are the first ground based articles written in English
