hypothesizes that US regional parkways of the 1920s and 1930s emerged out of two conflicting visions of regional planning and examines how the conflict impacted the development of Skyline Drive in Virginia and the proposed Green Mountain Parkway in Vermont The regional view he says coalesced around the work of Benton MacKaye Lewis Mumford and the Regional Planning Association of America and the metropolitan view grew out of market oriented economic boosterism efforts and was supported by Thomas Adams and the Regional Plan of New York and its Environs He also shows how the tussle between vision and reality social reform or economic optimization continues to inform planning Annotation this book explains the recurrence of regional planning and of initiatives in regional governance in a wide range of advanced industrial countries Providing an analysis of the nature of regional planning and governance the book traces the development of regional planning and the institutions associated with it It also looks at the way that regions have been changing their form under pressure from economic and political developments and examines how regional planning and governance has responded comparing experience in the UK the rest of Europe and the US In concluding that regionalism is an imperative feature of politics in most countries associated with almost any of the variety of forms of governance the author offers a
