acquired resistance to an infectious agent produced by the introduction of an antigen There are a variety of T cell types with different functions They are called T cells because they are derived from the thymus gland This volume discusses how T cells are regulated through the operation of signaling mechanisms Topics covered include positive and negative selection early events in T cell receptor engagement and various T cell subsets Regulation and Functional Significance of T-Cell Subsets, 1992 T Cell Subsets in Infectious and Autoimmune Diseases Derek J. cells are a specialized population of immune cells that aid the immune system in combating various types of invading pathogens This book presents up to the minute data on the role of T cells in autoimmune diseases T Cell Subsets

, 2004-06-26 This first thematic issue of the Advances in Immunology series highlights the remarkable new insights into the mechanisms that govern development and function of T cell lineages Recent developments in the understanding of the genetic and epigenetic mechanisms that regulate development of the two major T cell lineages will have a fundamental impact on a number of research fields immunology cell biology hematology and stem cell research All of these groups have a vested interest in comprehending issues such as stem cell self renewal progenitor plasticity lineage commitment and cellular identity Immunologists have a special interest in the mechanisms that allow selection of a T cell repertoire whose members integrate genetic information for T cell receptor co receptor and specialized immunologic function since this process lies at the core of adaptive immunity T Cell Subsets is a timely and invaluable review for immunologists cell biologists hematologists and stem cell researchers T Cell Regulation by the Environment Anne L. Astier, David A. Hafler, 2015 Na ve T cells get activated upon encounter with their cognate antigen and differentiate into a specific subset of effector cells These T cells are themselves plastic and are able to re differentiate into another subset changing both phenotype and function Differentiation into a specific subset depends on the nature of the antigen and of the environmental milieu Notably certain nutrients such as vitamins A and D sodium chloride have been shown to modulate T cell responses and influence T cell differentiation Parasite infection can also skew Th differentiation Similarly the gut microbiota regulates the development of immune responses Lastly the key role of metabolism on T cells has also been demonstrated This series of articles highlights some of the multiple links existing between environmental factors and T cell responses

Generation and Effector Functions of Regulatory Lymphocytes Gregory R. Bock, Jamie A. Goode, 2004-01-19 Over the last several years immunologists have re discovered the importance of regulatory lymphocytes formerly termed suppressor cells Many recent reports have documented their existence effector functions and potential therapeutic benefits in autoimmunity and transplantation However even though modern techniques have allowed us to get a much more detailed picture of these cells they are still highly controversial Several unresolved issues responsible for this dilemma are discussed in this book it is difficult to grow and clone such cells their phenotypes and effector functions are diverse and can sometimes easily be lost and it is not well understood how they interact with antigen presenting cells This book contains contributions from leading investigators from around the world including lively discussion of the current state of the art in studies of regulatory lymphocytes Topics featured are the physiological control of autoimmunity the role of antigen specific cells in various diseases and disease models and effector mechanisms Therapeutic applications are considered particularly for type 1 diabetes tissue transplantation and the control of viral infection This important and groundbreaking book should be of interest to all immunologists Related Novartis Foundation symposia 254 Immunoinformatics bioinformatic strategies for better understanding of immune function Chair Hans Georg Rammensee 256 Cancer and inflammation Chair Siemon Gordon
