Rehabilitación neuro-oclusal (RNO) Pedro Planas, Planas i Casanovas Planas, 2008 The Bioarchaeology of Artificial Cranial Modifications Vera Tiesler, 2013-10-16 The artificial shaping of the skull vault of infants expresses fundamental aspects of crafted beauty of identity status and gender in a way no other body practice does Combining different sources of information this volume contributes new interpretations on Mesoamerican head shaping traditions Here the head with its outer insignia was commonly used as a metaphor for designating the self and personhood and as part of the body served as a model for the indigenous universe Analogously the outer looks of the head and its anatomical constituents epitomized deeply embedded worldviews and longstanding traditions It is in this sense that this book explores both the quotidian roles and long standing ideological connotations of cultural head modifications in Mesoamerica and beyond setting new standards in the discussion of the scope caveats and future directions involved in this study The systematic examination of Mesoamerican skeletal series fosters an explained review of indigenous cultural history through the lens of emblematic head models with their nuanced undercurrents of religious identity and ethnicity social organization and dynamic cultural shift The embodied expressions of change are explored in different geocultural settings and epochs being most visible in the centuries surrounding the Maya collapse and following the cultural clash implied by the European conquest These glimpses on the Mesoamerican past through head practices are novel as is the general treatment of methodology and theoretical frames Although it is anchored in physical anthropology and archaeology specifically bioarchaeology this volume also integrates knowledge derived from anatomy and human physiology historical and iconographic sources linguistics polisemia and ethnography The scope of this work is rounded up by the transcription and interpretation of the many colonial eye witness accounts on indigenous head treatments in Mesoamerica and beyond Restauraciones adhesivas no metalicas Didier Dietschi, Roberto Spreafico, 1998 Global Cleft Care in Low-Resource Settings Jordan W. Swanson, 2021-04-05 Cleft lip and palate represents the most common congenital facial anomaly Congenital anomalies are one of the top 10 causes of disability and suffering in many low and middle income countries LMICs Further an estimated 30% of the global burden of disease is treated primarily through surgery and among surgical conditions treating clefts conveys disproportionately large benefit relative to cost because suffering can be halted at a young age and deliver a lifetime of health Over the last 50 years cleft care has advanced in low resource settings through international surgical missions and the efforts of sparse local providers While exciting anecdotes of impact abound from these efforts recent studies have identified a complication rate that often exceeds 50% and there is concern about the sustainability of foreign volunteer missions This book serves as a thorough resource for providing medical and surgical care of cleft lip and palate deformities in low resource settings geared to the context of those settings The content is consensus based and evidence based with emphasis on treatment that is appropriate to a low resource context and how this differs from that in higher resource environments It is authored by recognized cleft

experts in close partnership with providers who practice in low resource settings It is heavily pictorially based through illustrative figures photos and diagrams to be facile for those who speak English as a second language Following the introduction Complete Cleft Care in Low Resource Settings has six main sections patient workup surgical treatment comprehensive care educational innovation care delivery models and finally a series of illustrative case studies Uniquely the book s breadth encompasses cleft care comprehensively but does so through a practical how to format with many from the field examples of what has worked Rehabilitación neuro-oclusal (RNO) Jesús María Martínez Gil,2018
