Constitutions, Religion and Politics in Asia Dian A. H. Shah, 2017-10-26 As religious polarisation in society deepens political actors and policy makers have begun to struggle with questions on the role of the dominant religion and how religion influences constitutional commitments and development By focusing on Indonesia Malaysia and Sri Lanka Constitutions Religion and Politics in Asia demonstrates how constitution making and the operation of constitutional arrangements involving religion cannot be separated from the broader political dynamics of society Although constitutions establish legal and political structures of government institutions and provide tools for rights protection they do not operate in a vacuum divorced from the games of power and the political realities surrounding them Here Shah sets out how constitutions operate and evolve and demonstrates how constitutional provisions can produce unintended consequences over time A vital new source of scholarship for students and scholars of law and religion and comparative constitutional law and those interested in issues of constitutionalism and legal and political history in Asia Religion, Citizenship and Democracy Alexander

Unser,2022-01-03 This innovative volume is focused on the impact of religion on the realization of democratic citizenship The researchers contributing provide empirical evidence on how religion influences attitudes towards citizenship and democracy in different countries The book also tackles the challenges and opportunities for citizenship education Experts contributing from sociology political science theology and educational science look at the impact of religious beliefs and practices on democratic attitudes and behavior Chapters also concern how religion influences the recognition of others as citizens The text appeals to graduates and researchers in these fields with a secondary market for the general interest reader

Religion, Violence and Political Mobilisation in South Asia Ravinder Kaur,2005-11-05 Papers presented at the Workshop on Religious Mobilisation and Organisation of Violence held at Roskilde during 3 4 April 2003 Varieties of Secularism in Asia Nils Ole Bubandt,Martijn Van Beek,2012-03-12 Varieties of Secularism is an ethnographically rich theoretically well informed and intellectually coherent volume which builds off the work of Talal Asad Charles Taylor and others who have engaged the issue of secularism s and in socio political life The volume seeks to examine theories of secularism secularity and examine concrete ethnographic cases in order to further the theoretical discussion Whereas Taylor s magisterial work draws up the conditions and problems of a belief in God in Western modernity it leaves unexplored the challenges posed by the spiritual in modernity outside of the North Atlantic rim This anthology seeks to begin that task It does so by suggesting that the kind of secularity described by Taylor is only one amongst others By attending to the shifting relationship between proper religion and bad faiths between politically valorised and embarrassing spiritual phenomena between the new visibilities and silences of magic ancestors and religion in democratic politics this book seeks to outline the particular formations of secularism that have become possible in Asia from China to Indonesia and from Bahrain to Timor Leste This book will appeal to students and scholars of Asian religion politics and anthropology Asia ,1929 Political Communication in Asia Lars Willnat,Annette Aw,2009-03-23 This edited volume provides a critical review of political communication research conducted in Asia over the past twenty years Each chapter focuses on studies published in a specific Asian country selected according to the level of contribution made to the field of political communication in Asia Covering China Hong Kong Taiwan South Korea Japan Singapore Malaysia Indonesia and India the book s primary objective is to review the unique theoretical accomplishments made by Asian communication scholars thus contributing to a better awareness and understanding of political communication research in Asia The contributors are well respected Asian media scholars writing on political communication in their countries of origin Each author reviews studies conducted and published in his/her native country and language. This book provides a first review of these studies, most of which have never been published in English and makes them available to international scholars. The contributors discuss each country's political background and address the findings and conclusions of the political communication studies conducted in their respective countries during the past two decades. The chapters focus on insights that have been made by adapting Western media theories to the unique social, cultural, or political contexts that exist in each country. The authors also point out possible gaps in the current research within their respective countries and to make recommendations for future studies.

Tolerance, Secularization and Democratic Politics in South Asia Humeira Iqtidar, Tanika Sarkar, 2018-07-19

What is the relationship between secularization and tolerance? Critically analyzing the empirical and theoretical foundations of a putatively linear relationship between the two, this volume argues for moving past both romanticised readings of pre-modern tolerance and the unthinking belief that secularization will inevitably lead to tolerance. The essays collected in this volume include contributions from across South Asia that suggest that democratic politics have added a layer of complexity to questions of peaceful co-existence. Modern transformations in religious thought and practice have had contradictory implications for tolerance, which offer rich insights into contemporary debates in the region. This multi-disciplinary volume, which spans history, sociology, anthropology, and political theory, questions the uncritical acceptance of tolerance as the best framework for engaging with difference and probes the complications created by and through democratic politics.
