Rough Food The Seasons Of Subsistence In Northern Newfoundland:

Rough Food John T. Omohundro, Memorial University of Newfoundland. Institute of Social and Economic Research, 1994 Rough food is your staples your Winter s diet The things you got in the Fall to see you through til Spring Rough Food details how and why northern Newfoundlanders have lived off the land as unyielding as it is for a significant proportion of their food shelter and fuel Omohundro documents the self sufficient dimension of rural life and examines recent changes looking towards future developments      Regulation and Compliance in the Atlantic Fisheries Stig S. Gezelius, 2012-12-06 This is a book about fishermen s reasons for obeying fisheries law The fish harvesting industry has become subject to state interference to an increasing extent over the past twenty years As natural resources become scarce and subsequent fisheries regulations abound the question of law abidingness is brought to the public agenda However there is still little empirical data as regards the dynamics of compliance in this field and this book aims to meet a demand for in depth knowledge The cases studied can be regarded as instances of economies dependent on the harvesting of natural resources for both household and the market and the study aims to contribute to the building of more adequate theory on the dynamics of compliance in such economies However focusing on a specific type of setting seldom constitutes a safe escape route for getting away from more pervasive sociological questions and it certainly does not in this case As any attempt to explain social phenomena this study is faced with the fundamental sociological question of how the acts of individuals can best be understood The question concerns the interface between the individual and the collectivity between collective morality and self interest It thus deals with classical sociological issues such as the nature and regulatory capacity of group norms and sanctions and the forms and roles of rationality and strategic action      World Small-scale Fisheries Ratana Chuenpagdee, 2011 The importance of fisheries is not lost in the global policy arena What is often overlooked in the general discourse however is the significant difference between small and large scale fisheries Major rethinking about all aspects of small scale fisheries is required including their contribution to catches employment livelihood food security and conservation This book is a collection of essays about the diverse complex and dynamic contexts that characterize small scale fisheries around the world The essays highlight the strengths capacity motivation and contributions associated with this fishing sector They remind us that solutions and opportunities for the viability and sustainability of small scale fisheries can be found once the issues are understood from a holistic perspective and possible options including inventive governance arrangements are fully explored The authors are scientists and practitioners who work in small scale fisheries in various parts of the world many of whom participated at the first World Small Scale Fisheries Congress WSFC held in Bangkok in October 2010 and are members of the global research network for the future of small scale fisheries Too Big To Ignore The editor Ratana Chuenpagdee the initiator of the WSFC is Canada Research Chair in Natural Resource Sustainability and Community Development at Memorial University of Newfoundland Canada Book jacket      North American Monsters David J. Puglia, 2022-03-15 Mining a mountain of folklore publications North American Monsters unearths decades of notable monster research Nineteen folkloristic case studies from the last half century examine legendary monsters in their native habitats focusing on ostensibly living creatures bound to specific geographic locales A diverse cast of scholars contemplate these alluring creatures feared and beloved by the communities that host them the Jersey Devil gliding over the Pine Barrens Lieby wriggling through Lake Lieberman Char Man stalking the Ojai Valley and many many more Embracing local stories beliefs and traditions while neither promoting nor debunking North American Monsters aspires to revive scholarly interest in local legendary monsters and creatures and to encourage folkloristic monster legend sleuthing      Comfort Food Michael Owen Jones, Lucy M. Long, 2017-04-14 With contributions by Barbara Banks Sheila Bock Susan Eleuterio Jillian Gould Phillis Humphries Michael Owen Jones Alicia Kristen William G Lockwood Yvonne R Lockwood Lucy M Long LuAnne Roth Rachelle H Saltzman Charlene Smith Annie Tucker and Diane Tye Comfort Food explores this concept with examples taken from Atlantic Canadians Indonesians the English in Britain and various ethnic regional and religious populations as well as rural and urban residents in the United States This volume includes studies of particular edibles and the ways in which they comfort or in some instances cause discomfort The contributors focus on items ranging from bologna to chocolate including sweet and savory puddings fried bread with an egg in the center dairy products fried rice cafeteria fare sugary fried dough soul food and others Several essays consider comfort food in the context of cookbooks films blogs literature marketing and tourism Of course what heartens one person might put off another so the collection also includes takes on victuals that prove problematic All this fare is then related to identity family community nationality ethnicity class sense of place tradition stress health discomfort guilt betrayal and loss contributing to and deepening our understanding of comfort food This book offers a foundation for further appreciation of comfort food As a subject of study the comfort food is relevant to a number of disciplines most obviously food studies folkloristics and anthropology but also American studies cultural studies global and international studies tourism marketing and public health      Retrenchment and Regeneration in Rural Newfoundland Reginald Byron, 2003-01-01 Set against the background of momentous economic changes over the last decade Retrenchment and Regeneration in Rural Newfoundland examines the economic political and social circumstances that have led to the current crisis in rural Newfoundland In this timely collection ten social scientists explore how outporters are coping with uncertainty the choices that they are now confronting and the consequences of these choices in terms of their capacity to sustain livelihoods into the next generation and beyond Offering both general overviews and specific case studies drawn from recent research Retrenchment and Regeneration in Rural Newfoundland provides insight into the moral and political economy of Newfoundland the background to the collapse of the fish stocks and the effects of the crisis on outporter s occupational choices and migration decisions Rich in detail and thought provoking ideas this collection is the first to examine the interconnected problems and opportunities in rural Newfoundland in light of global economic and social changes

Lives and Landscapes Elmer Harp Jr, 2003-05-09 Interested in studying early human activity in the area he came to be equally fascinated with life in outport communities During the summers of 1949 50 and 1961 63 he explored the coast travelling from one isolated outport village to the next initially by open boat and later on rudimentary roads vividly capturing everyday life in his journals and through his extensive Kodachrome slides In her introduction Priscilla Renouf places Harp's story of rural northern Newfoundland in historical and anthropological context She notes that there are economic and cultural continuities from prehistoric times to the present and shows that the fundamental structure of outport life based on fishing and hunting remains today Community Forestry in Canada Sara Teitelbaum, 2016-07-28 In recent decades community forestry has taken root across Canada Locally run initiatives are lauded as welcome alternatives to large corporate and industrial logging practices yet little research has been done to document their tangible outcomes or draw connections between their ideals of local control community benefit ecological stewardship and economic diversification and the realities of community forestry practice This book brings together the work of over twenty five researchers to provide the first comparative and empirically rich portrait of community forestry policy and practice in Canada Tackling all of the forestry regions from Newfoundland to British Columbia it unearths the history of community forestry revealing surprising regional differences linked to patterns of policy making and cultural traditions Case studies celebrate innovative practices in governance and ecological management while uncovering challenges related to government support and market access The future of the sector is also considered including the role of institutional reform multiscale networks and adaptive management strategies Obesity in Canada Jenny Ellison, Deborah McPhail, Wendy Mitchinson, 2016-05-12 Medical professionals social policy makers and the media have all declared that Canada is in the grip of an obesity epidemic Conceptualizing obesity as a biological condition these experts insist that it needs to be prevented and managed Obesity in Canada takes a broader critical perspective of our supposed epidemic Examining obesity in its cultural and historical context the book's contributors ask how we measure health and wellness where our attitudes to obesity develop from and what the consequences are of naming and targeting as obese those whose body weights do not match our expectations A broad survey of the issues surrounding the obesity panic in Canada it is the first collection of fat studies and critical obesity studies from a distinctly Canadian perspective Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index, 1975 Coasts Under Stress Rosemary E. Ommer, 2007-08-08 Rosemary Ommer and her project team combine formal scientific natural and social and humanist analysis with an examination of the lived experience of coastal people They analyze community erosion created by economic decline and the ecosystem damage caused by unrelenting industrial pressure on natural resources and look at the history of coastal communities their resource bases their economies and the way the lives of people are embedded in their environments Galicia & Terranova & Labrador Xaquín Rodríguez Campos, José Manuel Santos Solla, 2006 Making and Moving Knowledge John Sutton Lutz, Barbara Neis, 2008 It has long been acknowledged that research does not directly translate into knowledge nor does knowledge necessarily or even often translate into wisdom Whether the immediate challenge is global warming epidemic disease poverty environmental degradation or social fragmentation our research efforts are all wasted if we cannot devise processes to create and transfer knowledge to policy makers interested groups and ordinary people in a manner that is efficient and understandable How we maximize the impact of the research that scholars do and how to combine that with knowledge already extant in lay or local communities are key issues in a world with scarce research resources and numerous social and scientific conflicts Making and Moving Knowledge focuses directly on how knowledge is created transferred and used and perhaps most important how it is blocked and atrophies It treats knowledge generated by universities and governments alongside traditional and practical knowledge generated in coastal aboriginal and non aboriginal communities and looks at how the different kinds flow in different directions The chapters are theoretical methodological and applied as the authors model their commitment to knowledge transfer in their work with community academics and policy makers
