The Secret Life of the Georgian Garden Kate Felus, 2016-12-09 Georgian landscape gardens are among the most visited and enjoyed of the UK's historical treasures The Georgian garden has also been hailed as the greatest British contribution to European Art seen as a beautiful composition created from grass trees and water a landscape for contemplation But scratch below the surface and history reveals these gardens were a lot less serene and in places a great deal more scandalous Beautifully illustrated in colour and black white this book is about the daily life of the Georgian garden It reveals its previously untold secrets from early morning rides through to evening amorous liaisons It explains how by the eighteenth century there was a desire to escape the busy country house where privacy was at a premium and how these gardens evolved aesthetically with modestly sized far flung temples and other eye catchers to cater for escape and solitude as well as food drink music and fireworks Its publication coincides with the 2016 tercentenary of the birth of Lancelot Capability Brown arguably Britain's greatest ever landscape gardener and the book is uniquely positioned to put Brown's work into its social context

Hanover and England Marcus Köhler, Joachim Wolschke-Bulmahn, 2018-07-31 When George I Elector of Hanover was crowned King of England in 1714 he established a dynastic union between the two countries that endured until 1837 leaving many cultural and political accomplishments to posterity The 300th anniversary of this union led the Institute of Landscape Architecture Technische Universität Dresden and the Centre of Garden and Landscape Architecture CGL Leibniz Universität Hannover to take a critical look at the gardens that resulted The symposium Hanover and England a union of state and garden German and British garden culture between 1714 and today was sponsored by the Lower Saxonian Ministry of Science and Culture The resulting papers dealt with far more than garden history addressing as well the background and channels by which ideas on art agriculture commerce technology literature and politics were exchanged Given the encyclopedic interests of late 18th century thinkers it was necessary to invite several academic disciplines to participate in order to describe and discuss the cultural transfer between Great Britain and Hanover The transfer of horticultural and artistic ideas very often flourished in the 19th century at different places For this reason the conference focused on two key aspects the Hanoverian British exchange between 1714 and 1837 the period of the actual royal union and the Anglo German relations that endure to the present day Als Georg I Kurfürst von Hannover 1714 zum König von England gekrönt wurde begründete dies eine Personalunion zwischen den beiden Ländern die bis 1837 bestand und der Nachwelt eine Vielzahl kultureller und politischer Errungenschaften hinterließ Das 300 jährige Jubiläum dieses Zusammenschlusses nahmen das Institut für Landschaftsarchitektur der Technischen Universität Dresden und das Zentrum für Gartenkunst und Landschaftsarchitektur CGL der Leibniz Universität Hannover zum Anlass sich kritisch mit den in dieser Zeit entstandenen Gärten auseinanderzusetzen Das Symposium Hanover and England a union of state and garden German and British garden culture between 1714 and today wurde vom Niedersächsischen Ministerium für Wissenschaft und Kultur gefördert Die Beiträge beschäftigten sich nicht nur mit Gartengeschichte sondern widmeten sich auch dem Austausch von Ideen zu Kunst Landwirtschaft

Lancelot Brown and the Capability Men David Brown, Tom Williamson, 2016-08-15 Lancelot Capability Brown is often thought of as the innovative genius who single handedly pioneered a new naturalistic style of landscape design but he was in fact only one of many landscape designers in Georgian England Published to commemorate the three hundredth anniversary of Brown's birth this book casts important new light on his world renowned work his eventful life and the wider and robust world of landscape design in Georgian England David Brown and Tom Williamson argue that Brown was one of the most successful designers of his time working in a style that was otherwise widespread and that it was his skill with this style and not his having invented it that linked his name to it The authors look closely at Brown's design business and the products he offered clients showing that his design packages helped define the era's aesthetic They compare Brown's business to those of similar designers such as the Adam brothers Thomas Chippendale and Josiah Wedgwood and they contextualize Brown's work within the wider contexts of domestic planning and the rise of neoclassicism Beautifully illustrated throughout this book celebrates the work of a master designer who was both a product and harbinger of the modern world

Envisioning Landscapes, Making Worlds Stephen Daniels, Dydia DeLyser, J. Nicholas Entrikin, Doug Richardson, 2012-03-15 There has been a remarkable resurgence in the past decade of intellectual interplay between geography and the humanities in both academic and public circles Terminology and concepts such as space place landscape mapping and geography are becoming pervasive as conceptual frameworks and core metaphors in recent publications by humanities scholars and well known writers Envisioning Landscapes Making Worlds examines the depth and complexity of human meaning invested in maps attached to landscapes and embedded in the spaces and places of modern life The clashing and blending of cultures caused by globalization and the new technologies that profoundly alter human environmental experience suggest new geographical narratives and representations that are explored here by a multidisciplinary group of authors With contributions from leading scholars this text is essential reading for scholars and students seeking to understand the new synergies and interconnectedness of geography and the humanities

However by exploring his team of associates and his role as Royal Gardener new light can be thrown on the man his landscapes and his landscape legacy Bringing together a number of perspectives from across Northern Europe Capability Brown Royal Gardener explores the lasting international impact of Brown With Brown s position as Royal Gardener at its heart this book explores for the first time his business methods working methods and European influence It assesses how crucially Brown s work practices placed him within the world of nurserymen and landscape designers and how his business practices and long term relationships with draughtsmen and designers allowed him to manage a huge number of projects and a substantial financial turnover This in turn allowed him to work in a way that promoted and advanced his style of landscape Edited by Professor Jonathan Finch University of York and Dr Jan Woudstra University of Sheffield and with a varied range of engaging contributors drawn internationally from archaeology art history history and landscape architecture Capability Brown Royal Gardener weaves together strands from across a broad range of disciplinary interests It makes an important contribution to the scholarly discussion of Brown s work the work of his collaborators and legacy in the UK and across Northern Europe Relevant to students and academics at all levels this volume throws new light on Capability Brown and his impact on the business of place making in Northern Europe
