current research on best ways to handle international management issues     Managing the Global Economy Jonathan Michie, John Grieve Smith, 1995 This book examines current issues in the world economic order and asks what new initiatives are necessary to ensure stability growth and high levels of employment In so doing the authors pose the question whether the institutions and frameworks of Bretton Woods The IMF The World Bank managed exchange rates etc are appropriate to meet the new challenges Managing the Global Economy will be essential reading for students analysts and policy makers wanting to get to grips with current developments in the international economy     Europe and the Management of Globalization Wade Jacoby, Sophie Meunier, 2013-09-13 European politicians often speak of their efforts to manage globalization At one level this is merely a rhetorical device to make globalization more palatable to citizens and prove that policy makers are still firmly in control of their country's fate This volume argues that the advocacy of managed globalization goes beyond rhetoric and actually has been a primary driver of major European Union EU policies in the past twenty years The EU has indeed tried to manage globalization through the use of five major mechanisms 1 expanding policy scope 2 exercising regulatory influence 3 empowering international institutions 4 enlarging the territorial sphere of EU influence and 5 redistributing the costs of globalization These mechanisms are neither entirely novel nor are they always effective but they provide the contours of an approach to globalization that is neither ad hoc deregulation nor old style economic protectionism The recent financial crisis may have seemed initially to vindicate the European efforts to manage globalization but it also represented the limits of such efforts without the full participation of the US and China The EU cannot rig the game of globalization but it can try to provide predictability oversight and regularity with rules that accommodate European interests This book was based on a special issue of Journal of European Public Policy     Public Financial Management in the European Union Marta Postula, 2022-04-19 This book reveals how to create efficient institutions and coordinate policy on a transnational scale to ensure that European Union integration can best meet social needs It offers a combined technocratic and humanist perspective on the discussion of public financial management The state as part of its public policy should seek to preserve our social and environmental values yet there are mounting imbalances in society which point to the growing role of the state in minimising them Under such circumstances it is worth reflecting on how new challenges could require updated more complex formulas to deal with crises in current times and for social and economic policy making by states and the European Union generally which would ensure their compatibility with the world financial markets The work offers an in depth and unique performance analysis of European Union institutions compared to the national entities of EU Member States It contributes to the ongoing debate on global public goods and the processes involved in managing their provision Further it discusses public finance management instruments indicating their historical evolution in practice and their effectiveness measured with the Human Development Index The author presents a proposal of how to manage global European and national public goods across three areas environmental protection transnational infrastructure projects and social policy The book analyses public financial management instruments used during the recent pandemic making a distinction between regular and emergency instruments and assessing their effectiveness in specific economic situations This will be of interest to researchers and students of economics and finance as well as decision makers and practitioners from governments international organisations and specific non governmental organisations concerned with issues of public finance management
